

Creitz, George A.

Navy Chaplain

Clad for the first time in the uniform of a full lieutenant in the chaplains' corps of the U. S. Navy, the Rev. George A. Creitz, (above), returned last night to Easton from Philadelphia where he had been sworn in earlier in the day. Tomorrow, he will make his last appearance in Easton's First Reformed Church, where for 12 years he has been pastor, before taking leave of absence to serve in the Navy. He will train at the Navy chaplain's School at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.
