

Fritz, William R.

Seaman Advanced

William Raymond Fritz, son of Elizabeth and the late Mark Fritz, 930 Delaware ave., Fountain Hill, who was inducted into the U. S. Navy last December 31 as an apprentice seaman, recently was promoted to seaman second class, according to information received by his mother.

He received his basic training at Bainbridge, Md., where he spent eight weeks. He was transferred to Jacksonville, Fla., where he recently completed his course for the rating of seaman, second class.

Seaman Fritz, who will be 20 on April 29, attended the Fountain Hill schools. He was confirmed a member of St. Peter's Lutheran Church and attended the Sunday School and Luther League. Prior to his induction into the armed forces, he was employed by the Bethlehem Steel Company.

April 8, 1943