

CRESSMAN, HERMAN

Local G-I Visits
Historical Sites
On Italian Front

14 1945

Pvt. Herman J. Cressman, son of Edwin W. Cressman, 1303 Wahneta Avenue, is stationed at a U. S. AAF Air Transport Command base in Italy and is now a member of ATC's European Division which recently took control of all Italian airfields operated by the North African Division of ATC.

Cressman has visited many of the nearby points of interest during his off duty hours such as the historical battlefield at Cassino, the ruins of ancient Pompeii, the Vatican at Rome, Naples and Mt. Vesuvius. Before donning OD's Cressman was employed as a foreman at the Bethlehem Steel Company.

May 14, 1945