

Groman, Mary Canam

Bethlehem Girl Enters Training With WAVES

Miss Mary Canam Groman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Groman, 217 East Church Street, this city, seaman, second class in the WAVES, has reported to the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N. J., Navy's famous lighter-than-air base, for training in the Parachute Materiel Service School.

After 16 weeks of successful training, successful students receive the rating of parachute rigger, third class, and are transferred to active duty in the aviation branch of naval service.

A clerk and cashier during the last 10 years, Miss Groman enlisted in the naval service on November 6, 1942. A brother, Lt. Henry N. Groman, is in service in the U. S. Naval Reserve.
