

Richards, Donald C.

Easton Physician Now Commander In Naval Reserve

Dr. Donald C. Richards, of Easton, has been promoted to the rank of commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve and is now senior medical officer in full charge of the medical department of Office of Naval Officers Procurement, at Philadelphia. He was called into active service a year ago with the rank of lieutenant commander.

Commander Richards, who had been a leader in the medical profession in Easton, had been enrolled in the Naval Reserve since 1940. He was chief of the department of obstetrics at Easton Hospital before entering the service, and was also president of the staff of Easton Hospital. His family resides at 223 East Lafayette Street, Easton.

June 22, 1943