

Rarin' to go!

The Bethlehem Gadfly Local Color June 8, 2020

 The Gadfly invites “local color” photos of this sort

A day ago all this pot revealed was a trio of bright yellow residents. What a difference a day makes. Look closely and you can see the Cardinal Climber is several inches up the stake. A good day's work. At this rate the 8 ft journey to the lattice roof where it spreads out to provide some shade will take no time at all. Speedy devil!

The Gadfly