

Loux, Theodore E,

Promoted

Theodore E. Loux, son of Mrs. Mary A. Loux, 639 Broadway, has been promoted to the grade of sergeant. He entered the Army on April 22, 1942, and was stationed temporarily at Fort Meade, Md. After classification he was transferred to Sea Girt, N. J., the basic training camp for the Signal Corps. After his basic training he was transferred to Fort Monmouth, N. J., and entered the Signal Corps school as a radio technician. On October, 1942, he was promoted to the grade of technician, fifth grade. He completed his course January with high honors, and was assigned to the school as an instructor. One month after his assignment he was promoted to the grade of corporal and has recently been promoted to the grade of sergeant. He also has been authorized to wear a ribbon for meritorious service.

August 7, 1943