Theater Grottesco in PIE
February 5, 8p  online event

Theater Grottesco (Santa Fe, NM) shares a webcast of their acclaimed production PIE - a comedic, magical exploration of what happens when you don't know what to do next, featuring a panel of clowns and an accidental reset of the universe. Immediately following the performance, there will be a livestreamed talkback session where Grottesco artists respond to audience questions.

LETTERS FROM FAR

February 15 - March 8 ■ mail-based event

In February of 2032, the Rosensweig Expedition departs through a rift; their party is populated with scientists, journalists, and artists, tasked with cataloging and reporting what they find on the other side. They never return. All that remains of them are the letters and artifacts they sent home. Experience a new sci-fi storytelling performance that comes to you through the mail, and piece together the story of their journey.
