

Albanese, Ernest

RETURNS TO FORT SILL

Pvt. Ernest Albanese, Field Artillery, has returned to his post of duty at Fort Sill, Okla., after visiting his family in Wind Gap. Pvt. Albanese was granted an emergency furlough to visit his grandfather, Nicholas Compitello, when the latter suffered a stroke and was severely burned when he accidentally knocked over a kerosene heater, igniting his bed clothes.

A young Globe-Times carrier boy proved to be the hero of the occasion. Nick Albanese, grandson of Mr. Compitello, dashed to his grandfather's room when the accident occurred and prevented a probable fatality and serious ~~injury~~ MAR 16 1943

Mar 16, 1943