

Connors, James J.
Francis

James J. Connors, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Connors Sr., 455 South New Street, has been promoted to Staff Sergeant. He is fighting with General MacArthur's forces in the Philippines.

S-Sgt. Connors enlisted in 1941 and took his training with the United States Engineers before transferring to the Marine Corps. From there he went to Camp Jackson, N. C., and on to San Francisco.

Connors has taken part in many South Pacific major engagements. His brother, Francis Connors, was reported missing in action yesterday.

November 10, 1944