

Bold, John

Army and Navy Get Men From Draft Board 1

MAR 23 1944

A large contingent of selectees, sent to the Allentown Induction Center on Monday, were accepted for service in the armed forces, according to information received today at headquarters of Draft Board No. 1 in the South Side Municipal building.

Three of those accepted elected to leave at once for designated points instead of awaiting a call. Those who started on the first lap of their military training were Matthias John Bold, army aviation cadet; Joseph Stephen Drusbo, navy; Harry Joseph Meyers, Marine Corps.

Others accepted for service follow:

ARMY

John Andrew Timko, Ernest Kuhar, Charles William Finady, Benjamin Gershenow, Frank Andrew Sobyak, Frank Csaszar, Daniel Louis Silvester, Albert Joseph Kerts-mar, Thomas James Everett, Frank George Poniktera, John Joseph Votral, Elia Joseph Zarudny, Solomon Posner, Joseph Peter Oravec, Frank Steve Gaspar, Jr., Francis Peter Boquel, Anthony Palik, Stephen Kello, Reuben Henry Hartzell, George J. Ortwein, Francis John Kozo, Abe Blinderman, Michael de-Lazzario, Dominic Arlington Cicale, Joseph Stephen Plgar, Nicholas Alexander Tunner, Joseph James Zaun, Joseph Michael Spesak, Melville Vincent Biggs, William Harry Janney, Roy Dickison Hagen, Edward Gralka, Leroy Marzonello, Joseph Paul Kitzhoffer, Alfred James Smith, John Joseph Cunningham, John George R. Coffman, George Edward Brown, Anthony James Oravec, Joseph Andrew Davco, Robert Charles Lux, Isadore Benjamin Israelite, Joseph Franklin Schoenberger, Robert Lawrence Kohl, Jr., John Straj, Vitus William Maloriello, Frank Muhr, Hugh Joseph Reilly, Jack Wiener, Frank Stephen Donche, Joseph Kucsak, Thomas Andrew Zondlo, Michael Tisclo, Ladimar Obal, Joseph Edw. Guffrovitch, Richard Warren Bradshaw, Leonard Alston.

NAVY

Carl Siftar, Joseph Patrick Bellew, Frank John Saemmer, Harry Andrew Bolesky, Frank Stephen Donchez, Edward Bernard Wargo, Alex Nemeth Jr., Stephen William Zakovic, Dominic Anthony Cassamassa, Frank Andrew Sobyak, John Borlodan, Geza Joseph Kalman, Otto Joseph Bodner, Stephen John Remo, Joseph Anthony Ammend Jr., George Steward Gillespie, Nathaniel Glazier, Robert Charles McLaughlin, Arpad Stephen Kery, John Daniel Saufina, Alfonso Anthony Nitoski, John Roy Shupp, John Anthony De Francisco, Frank Kuronya, Maurice Nayrides, Stephen Thomas Smith, Frederick Wandl Kluge, William Robert Illes, Thomas Leonard Rosati, Melvin Paul Moorehouse, Leonard Alston.

Included in the above lists are the names of Nathaniel Glazier, East Third Street business man and vice president of the South Side Business Association; Frank A. Sobyak, member of the city's paid fire department; Joseph James Zaun, dealer in the South Side market; Abe Blinderman proprietor of an East Fourth Street drug store. Other prominent South Side residents accepted for service had been previously mentioned.

One of those accepted for service in the U. S. Army is Hugh Joseph Reilly, former constable of the Second Ward. Turned down on previous occasions because he carried too much weight, it became known today that he took off many pounds in order to make the grade.

Mar. 23, 1944