Three Servicemen Meet In Africa

Three Bethlehem members of the armed forces, friends fo long standing, had a special reunion in North Africa, according to a recent letter received by Mrs. James Siegfried, 263 West Greenwich Street. Two of the boys are sons of Mrs. Siegfried.

Corporal Roy Siegfried left Bethlehem with Battery C, 213th Coast Artillery three years ago and has been in Africa for some time.

Another son, Jack, is a seaman first class in the Navy on duty in the Mediterranean area. The third Bethlehemite is "Lefty" Krier, long a friend of the Siegfried boys.

According to the letter, the boys had a splendid time recalling old times. Jack Siegfried sent many French, English and Italian coins home to swell an already large collection of coins.
