

Orlando, J. P.

Special Office

Lt. J. P. Orlando is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Beni Orlando of 813 East Fourth Street, Bethlehem. He left the U. S. Treasury where he was employed as a Commercial Specialist and was commissioned in the U. S. Navy in September of 1942. After completion of Naval training and indoctrination he was assigned as Commanding Officer of an Armed Guard Unit while on sea duty. Later he was transferred to the Italian Division of Special Services Office where he served as Executive Officer.

Lt. Orlando several months ago returned from overseas where for the Special Services he went to Southern France, Sardinia, Sicily and continental Italy liberated at that time. His duties necessitated that he also spend some time in North Africa.

At present he has been appointed Special Assistant to the Chief of the Italian Division and is on duty in Washington, D. C.

On May 1, 1945, he received the promotion to the grade of full lieutenant in the United States Naval Reserve.

May 10, 1945