

Jacobs, Frank Jr.

"LEND A HAND, BOYS,"

SOLDIER WRITES PALS

"We all hope the boys back home will give us a big hand with those shells and other war material that will help win the war. We're all set to slap those Japs," writes Pvt. Frank Jacobs, Jr., 134 Washington Avenue, this city, now in the U. S. Air Corps at Augusta, Ga., in a letter to the Globe-Times. Besides well wishes for the approaching holidays he asks that the boys with the colors be remembered with letters as they are all anxious to know what is going on back home. Pvt. Jacobs is with the Fourth Provisional Squadron, Daniel Field, Augusta, Ga.

NOV 10 1942

Nov 10 1942