

Kilpatrick, Joseph J.

NAVY MAN ON VISIT HOME

Joseph J. Kilpatrick, Jr., who re-enlisted in the U. S. Navy Aug. 20, and who has been advanced to Petty Officer first class, is home from Sampson, N. Y., on a five-day furlough before being assigned to sea duty. Mr. Kilpatrick is staying with his wife and her sister, with whom Mrs. Kilpatrick resides, at 51 West Ettwein Street. He is the son of J. J. Kilpatrick, 337 South New Street.

The sea-going Bethlehemite speaks highly of the kind treatment he has received in his travels by rail about the U. S. He says that at nearly every station the townspeople were on hand to give out candy, cookies, sandwiches, coffee, etc. He is also grateful to the Bethlehem Tobacco Club for the fine kit which he received.

Two brothers of Joseph are also in the service, one in the infantry and one in the air force of the Army.
