The Bethlehem Gadfly coronavirus March 17, 2020

 Latest in a series of posts on the coronavirus

Gadfly,

Continuing to work doing real estate shoots; performing duties as secretary-treasurer for local non-profit — all electronically; taking rare assignments for Bethlehem Press (will pop in on City council meeting tonight for that and visit Main Street for possible photo ops); hiking and biking on D&L Trail and at various parks (my gym is closed); washing hands regularly; carrying hand sanitizer with me; cancelling lunch engagements; spending time on social media to stay in touch; doing photography on my biking/hiking jaunts to post on social media and promote good feelings; and staying in touch with people who are very dear to me. I'm staying away from crowds, reading a little bit more, and enjoying my Gracie cat's company a lot.
