CLARIFIES ENLISTMENTS.

In an effort to clear up the matter of enlistments about which many calls have been received, L. R. Drown, chief clerk of Bethlehem Selective Service Board No. 3, today explained that men between 18 and 38 years may still volunteer for duty and elect their branch of service, but the volunteering must be done through the office of their local selective service board.

Men under 18 and over 38 years may also volunteer for the U. S. Navy at recruiting stations, without going to their selective service board, but just now the Navy is discouraging enlistment as it has a long waiting list.
