

Farrell, William J.

Sgt. William Farrell
Early Iwo Arrival

Sergeant William L. Farrell was one of the first Marines to land on bloody Iwo Jima, according to information received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Farrell, 912 High Street.

Sgt. Farrell, veteran of the Marshall Islands and Saipan invasions, was wounded nine days after landing on the Japanese-held island, his parents were informed. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in September, 1942. MAR 15 1945
