

Mingler, George T.

Local Soldier Confined With War Wounds

JAN 13 1944

Corporal George T. Mingler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vorosmasti of 265 West Fairview Street, is in a U. S. Army Hospital, "Somewhere in Africa", recovering from wounds received during one of the Italian engagements.

This information was embodied in a letter recently received by his parents. The letter was dated January 1.

According to the 22-year-old infantryman, he was struck by shrapnel from an exploding bomb while he crouched in a fox hole.

He was inducted into the armed forces April 17 of last year, and on September 1 was sent into the African theatre, being assigned to the Fifth Army. He received his basic training at Camp Joseph Robinson, Arkansas.

Before his induction he was employed at the Pettinos graphite mill.
