

Grosset, John P.

STUDIES AEROLOGY

Deep in the technicalities of Aerology, Ensign John P. Grosset, son of Emil and the late Catherine (Brauchle) Grosset, 58 West Garrison Street, is taking specialized training at the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla.

He is a graduate of Bethlehem High School, Class of '38, and of Moravian College in 1942. At the latter school he was one of the three students selected by the United States Government to study meteorology and upon completion of this course he did graduate work in the same subject at New York University until his commission, received in February, was approved.
