

Garret, Albert P.

PASSES "TOUGH" TEST

GOWEN FIELD, Ida., (AP).—The order was to simulate flying under "hazardous and unusual conditions."

Conditions got almost too unusual for Lt. Albert P. Garret, of Fresno, Calif., when the vertical stabilizer and left rudder of the B-24 dropped into space. But Lt. Garret passed his test, bringing the ship in for a perfect landing.

May 23, 1945