D.E.C.A.: Successful Year

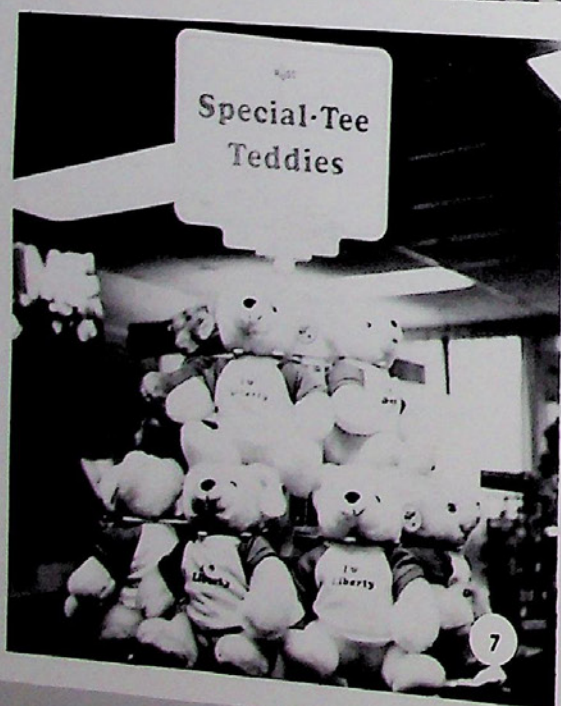

The Liberty High School chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) developed future leaders for marketing and distribution through Marketing and Distributive Education courses, school, and community service.

In January, DECA attended the 1987 District VI career development conference at the George Washington Motor Lodge, Lehigh Valley. The fourteen victorious members continued their quest for supremacy at the state championships at Host Farms, Lancaster. Emerging victorious from this competition, Liberty sent representatives to the National DECA Conference in New Orleans, LA.

DECA operated and managed Liberty's School Store. They sponsored and funded the monthly perfect attendance award program. They conducted fund raisers each year and donated the proceeds to charity. All these beneficial activities kept this very school-oriented activity extremely busy.

DECA was under the student leadership of President, Renee Gonzalez; Vice President, Wendy Houchins; Secretary, Amy Grubbs; Treasurer, Steph Fehr; and representatives Charlene Watkins and Brian Fegley. Their advisor was Mr. Meier.

1) Mr. Meier is the leader of the pack. 2) DECA "enjoys" the lecture Mr. Meier is giving. 3) DECA members find new and inventive ways to display items. 4) Bobby Jo Bond and Sharon Megan are future money makers. 5) DECA member restocks the shelves before opening. 6) Kathy Mudri writes out a receipt. 7) One of the newer items this year was "Special-Tee Teddies" 8) Mr. Fair supports the school store. 9) Kathy Mudri laughs at all the money she's making. 10) Jeff Meyena hands out change to student customers.

Student Government: Responds To Needs

The Student Government members had the responsibility of representing the student body at Liberty High School and in the community. They provided services to improve the school and were available to help with students' social and educational needs. In addition to its traditional work in the school, this year the Student Government established a Drug Awareness Program, began a monthly newsletter, and increased the student involvement in administrative affairs.

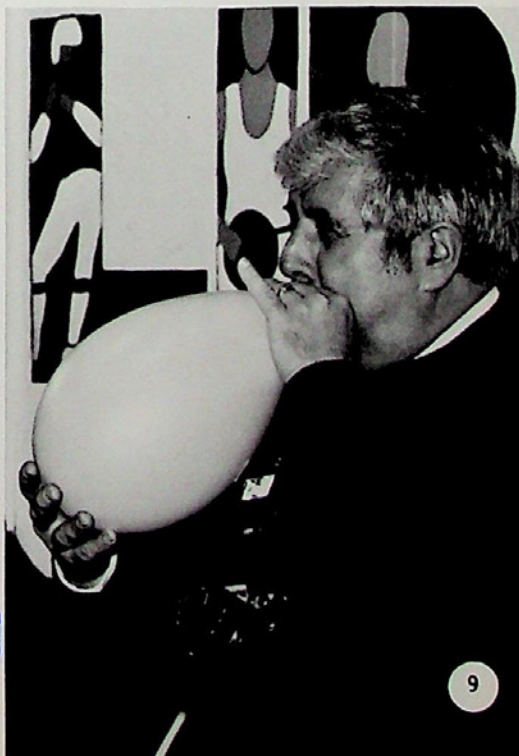

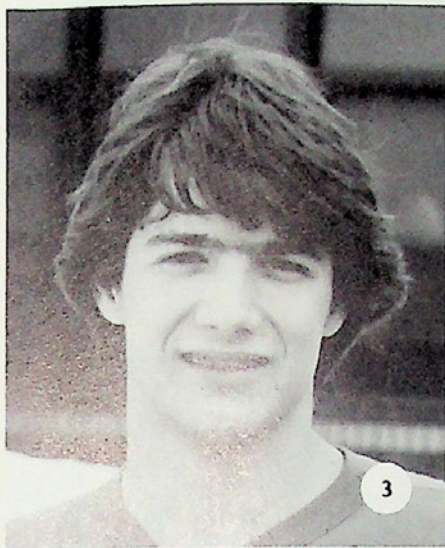

After endless hours of preparation, John Callahan, President and other Student Government members brought the true meaning of school spirit to the 1986 Homecoming. They provided a full week of festivities including various theme dress-up days, a Homecoming dance, pep rally, and the ever famous Battle of the Classes.

Two improvements the Student Government provided for the student body and faculty this year were: The Drug Awareness Program and the monthly newsletter. The Drug Awareness Program helped to spread the knowledge of the abuse and harmfulness of drugs used by students.

The Student Government also sponsored various dances throughout the year and Flower Day in the spring. They were guided by faculty advisor Mr. Constatine "Gus" Loupos. Other student officers of this important organization are: Dave Danner, Vice President; Joanna Villani, Treasurer; Alissa Witiak, Secretary; and Marci Simons, Social Activities Secretary.

1. Mr. Gus Loupos awaits announcement of Battle of the Classes victor. 2. Dave Danner, Vice President, serves as referee for the Battle of the Classes. 3. Jason Reed frequently announced the daily bulletin. 4. Student Government and friends prepare the field for the Homecoming Game. 5. Marci Simons 'Caught' pulling John Callahan's leg. 6. Student Government members become involved in flower day discussion. 7. Officers create a contemporary totem pole. 8. President John Callahan congratulates Joanna Villani, Treasurer on her Homecoming coronation. 9. Mr. Gus Loupos lends his lungs to Homecoming decorations.

P.A.C.: Students Exploring Politics.

This year marked the arrival of a new unofficial organization at Liberty High School. The Political Affairs Committee (PAC) was formed out of the now defunct Young Democrats and Republicans Clubs.

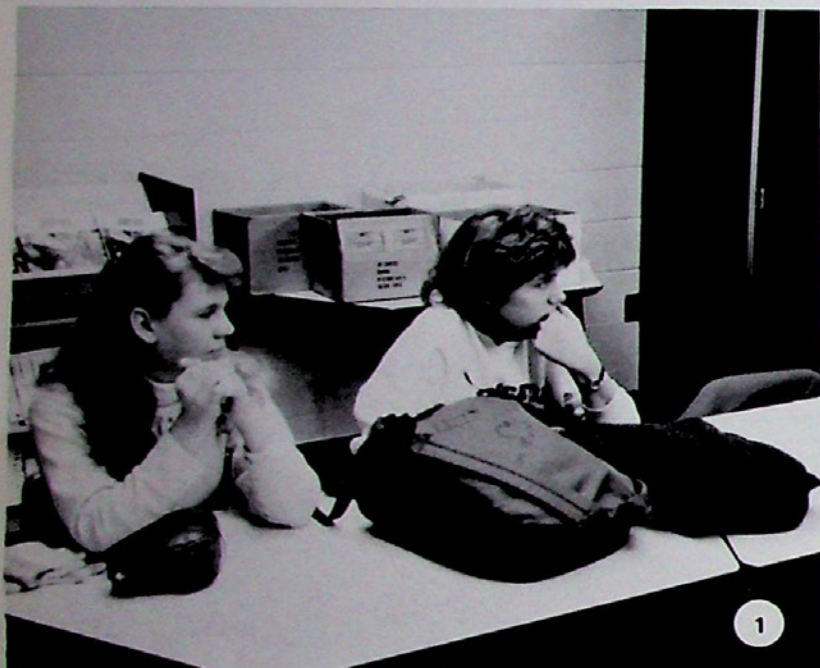

The group was made up of students interested in Politics and as such participated in the political campaigns of Jim Oakes for State Legislature and Joseph Simonetta for U.S. Congress. The Democratic end of this group also ventured into the campaign of our new Governor, Robert P. Casey.

PAC bought in speakers during the course of the year to discuss the local political scene. These guests included Michael Solomon, Campaign Manager, Simonetta for Congress along with the candidate himself and a representative of the Don Ritter office.

PAC provided its members with an outlet to express their political beliefs and learn the views of others.

The 1986-87 PAC was led by volunteer advisors, Mr. Chris Dunton and Mr. Chris Miller. They were under the student leadership of President Keith Facchiano, Vice President Jennifer Lowman, and Secretary Beverly Smith.

1. Jenny Stinson and Jennifer Lowman listen to Mr. Miller attentively. 2. PAC members discuss an upcoming elections with a representative of the Don Ritter Campaign. 3. Joseph Simonetta, the candidate who came closer to beating Don Ritter than any other person. 4. Congressman Don Ritter speaking in the Liberty High School Auditorium.

Model U.N.: Students Impose Sanctions

Whether or not economic sanctions should be placed on the country of South Africa was one of the many heated debates at the Model United Nations Conference held at Moravian College. The activity has been a success since it started ten years ago, and this year proved to be no exception.

Several high school "honors" students from around the Lehigh Valley area and even Western New Jersey, congregated to discuss world issues in a two day session. Students represented different countries and expressed that countries views on world problems. They also made attempts to resolve them, as is attempted in the official United Nations. Along with economic sanctions, other issues discussed were on Terrorism, Star Wars, Third world land reforms, chemical warfare, drug trafficking and others.

Liberty High School represented the nations of Afghanistan, Algeria, Chad, India, Kuwait, and Tunisia. The students who participated in the conference were under the direction of Mr. Phillip Fair, who is Head of the Social Studies Department.

The activity achieved its purpose of enlightening and educating students on world problems and gave them the chance to act like foreign diplomats.

N.H.S.: Academic Excellence

The National Honor Society is a service organization which is composed of the top fifteen percent of the junior and senior classes of Liberty High School academically. The members are selected for their academic excellence and must maintain, at least, a 3.5 or above grade point average in order to remain a part of this society.

This diverse group of individuals are very active in extra-curricular activities ranging from athletics to church choirs and dramatics.

This year, as in the past, the society offered a tutoring program in Room 018 and 019 for those students who felt they needed an additional boost to achieve their academic best. Also, the Honor Society offered a scholarship to benefit a deserving student. A new addition this year was an award granted to the homeroom with the highest grade point average.

The society was structured to get as many members active as possible. They formed committees on dances, fund raising, projects, and trips.

Each member of this society was acknowledged for their outstanding academic achievements during an introduction ceremony in which each member takes an oath to the society. Proud parents and friends attend and join in this jubilant celebration to recognize each students accomplishments.

This year a new dynamic advisor was found to lead this group of students, who achieved academic excellence, to a new high, Mr. Christopher Dunton, who contrastly teaches Alternative Education during school hours.

The student leaders of the National Honor Society for the 1986-87 school year were: James Cho, President; Alissa Witiak, Vice President; Irene Kim, Treasurer; and Gwen Kay, Secretary.

Homecoming '86: Seniors Excel

Success best described the 1986 Liberty homecoming. The Grenadier Band, majorettes, cheerleaders, administration, and the student body uplifted the football team's spirit which later led them to a victorious win.

Each year Liberty's cheerleaders and majorettes take on Freedom's cheerleaders and majorettes in a powder puff football game. Liberty's team realized they not only had talent for twirling and cheerleading when they won the game.

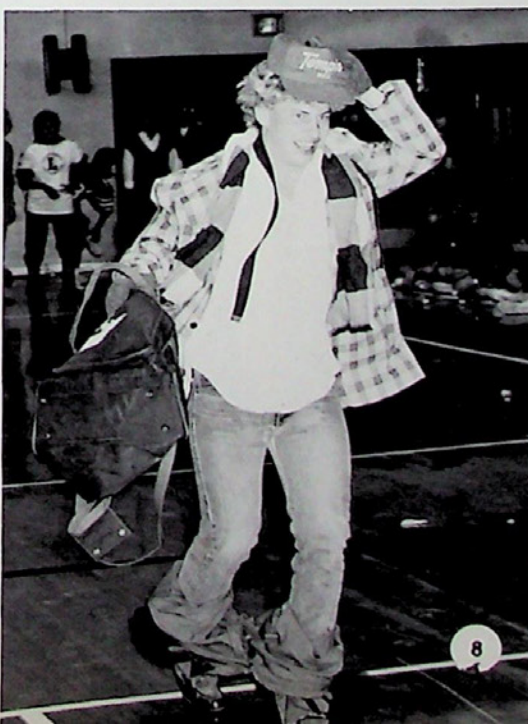

The homecoming dance took place in the old gym Thursday night. Students crowded in the old gym to put all their energy and spirit into rhythmic movements.

The big day came and everyone was ready. It all started out with the judging of the hall decorating contest. Later that afternoon, senior band members marched through the cafeteria arousing the student body and faculty. The band turned the cafeteria into a high spirited frenzy.

We were then entertained by the "Battle of the Classes." Naturally, the senior class emerged victoriously in both the hall decorating contest and the battle. This year marked the class of 1987's fourth consecutive hall decorating championship. The Seniors were more than willing to accept the trophies. Later that evening at a bone-chilling game, Joanna Villani with escort Michael Delgrosso was crowned Homecoming Queen. The football game turned out to be the most exciting game of the season. Winning the game put a perfect ending to a most eventful week of homecoming activities.

1. Ron Sherry closes the 'Battle of the Classes' with a festive rendition of the Alma Mater. 2. The victorious Senior Class decorating committee poses outside of LHS. 3. Scholastic Scrimmage: Testing Of The Minds

Scholastic Scrimmage Team members participate in a varsity activity that exercises the mind instead of the muscles. Instead of athletic fields, these scrimmages are held at WLVT-TV Channel 39 studios. This year's team defeated Allen in the first round, Muhlenberg in the second round, and Boyertown in the quarterfinals to enter the semifinals against a tough team from Southern Lehigh. The matches against both Muhlenberg and Boyertown were two of the closest wins in the history of the Scrimmage team and were won in the last few minutes of each match. Team members and alternates were chosen in the late fall and practices were held throughout the winter to develop speed and accuracy. Quick recall and a knowledge of a variety of subjects, such as literature, science, mathematics, current events, history, foreign language, music, and art are essential for a student to succeed in becoming a team member or alternate. Team members who flexed their mental muscles in this unique varsity activity were: Captain Laura Schattschneider, Jessica Weiss, juniors; Brian Sharer and Bruce Moyer, seniors. The alternates were: Taige Blake, Gwen Kay, Renee King and Neil Szanyi, seniors; Adam Shelly, a junior; and Jeniffer Stinson, a sophomore.

Math Team: Numerically Sound

For the past ten years, the Mathematics Team of Liberty High School was renowned for their outstanding ability of problem solving. The 1986-87 school year proved no different. The four member Math Team successfully completed its eleventh year of competition and proudly represented Liberty to enhance the school's image of educating students to high academic standards.

Members of the team are chosen through skill testing tryouts that are open to the student body. Speed, accuracy, versatility, and ability to reason mathematic problems are key factors necessary for a placement on the team. This year's team consisted of four seniors: Yuzhang Duan, David Bader, David Rader, and Neil Szanyi. This was the second year Bader and Szanyi have participated on the team. Mrs. Ruth Kapo was the faculty advisor.

The Mathematics Team competed in numerous competitions throughout the school year. The contests, both oral and written, are sponsored by various area and regional colleges, namely: East Stroudsburg University, Lehigh University, and Muhlenburg College. Since the LHS Mathematics Team was organized, it has won far more of these competitions held by colleges than all other local area high schools combined. The team should be commended for a job well done in this varsity academic activity.

German Club: A Germanic Touch

The German Club is one of three foreign language clubs that have traditionally enriched the cultural awareness of the student body at Liberty.

Membership is open to anyone who had a special interest in the German language and culture. As a result, their fund raisers were a sign of their commitment to the language. They sold Germanic Advent calenders and the German export which took America by storm — Gummi Bears.

The club met every other week to discuss and plan a wide variety of activities. They went on a hayride, had a Halloween party and sang some Christmas Carols for the residents of Cedarbrook Fountain Hill Annex. They also participated in a multi-High School German night at which they performed a skit entirely in German.

The club ended their action packed year with a trip which even further explored their Germanic interests.

The German Club was under the student leadership of Mary Kovalchick, President; Laurabeth Shearer, Vice President; Erin Neff, Secretary; and Lauren Streubert, Treasurer. The advisor was Mr. Jerry Damandl.

French Club: Parlez Vous Francais?

The Liberty High School French Club, under the tutelage and guidance of Miss Kathleen Rich, promoted the French Culture throughout the student body. The marketing of many fund raising products did much to make the student body aware of our local Francophiles. With the selling of these products members were able to defray a major portion of the expenses for their excursion to Quebec, Canada in 1987.

The French Club offered an open membership to anyone interested in learning more about France and the French Culture. Knowledge of the French Language was not a prerequisite for joining the club.

The officers of the club were Christine Bonney, James Cho, Barb Yoacum, and Kim Enstrom.

In addition to the major spring trip, many activities, both in and out of schools, were scheduled to satisfy the interests of this rather diverse organization. Although small in membership, the unit has done much to meet the specialized needs of a group of Liberty students.

Spanish Club: Hablan Uds. Espanol?

The 1986-87 Liberty High School Spanish Club, under the direction of the knowledgeable Mr. John Pinto, united the Spanish speaking community of Liberty High School with those students learning the language for the credit and encouraged them to increase their knowledge and skills of the language and culture of the motherland, Spain. This club obtained a wide view of the Spanish lifestyle through an indepth study of the Spanish culture and specialties. Mr. Pinto, as always, accurately depicted the life of a Spaniard to the eager Spanish Club members. Each week the club met and made decisions on their challenging and new endeavors. The Spanish Club proudly sponsored annual candy sales in hope of treating themselves to a long-awaited cultural excursion at the end of the year to an area of the United States rich in Spanish culture. While there they participated in the music, dance, food, and rapid communication of this diverse nationality. In addition to selling candy, the Spanish club also sold tacos. They sponsored a party for all the children in Liberty's child care center. Also, they congregated with the Spanish Club of Liberty's rival, Freedom, in order to expound their knowledge of Spanish culture and customs. The club is planning a trip to New York City to see a play. In addition the club has a fun filled evening at Chi-Chi's restaurant where they experimented with Spanish food.

Exchange Students: International Flair

This year Liberty High School hosted several exchange groups from Canada, Germany and Great Britain, but the most notable exchange programs were the ones which brought Ida DeJonge from Holland and May Irene Flotre from Norway to the United States for the entire 1986-87 school year.

Ida DeJonge came from Holland, a country of 14.2 million people on the European continent. The climate in Holland ranges from cold winters to cool summers with a lot of rain. Ida was surprised by all the talk about the drinking age because in Holland there is none.

May Irene Flotre (pronounced "My") came from Norway. While in the United States she visited not only America's Christmas City but also Walt Disney World in the Great Sunshine State of Florida. May was active in the Grenadier Band and was acknowledged at its Spring Concerts. Mr. and Mrs. Flotre visited their daughter in March, just in time for the Band Concerts.

Liberty High School was proud to open its doors to the world and give these exchange students the chance to enrich our lives.

Library Club: Maintaining The Library

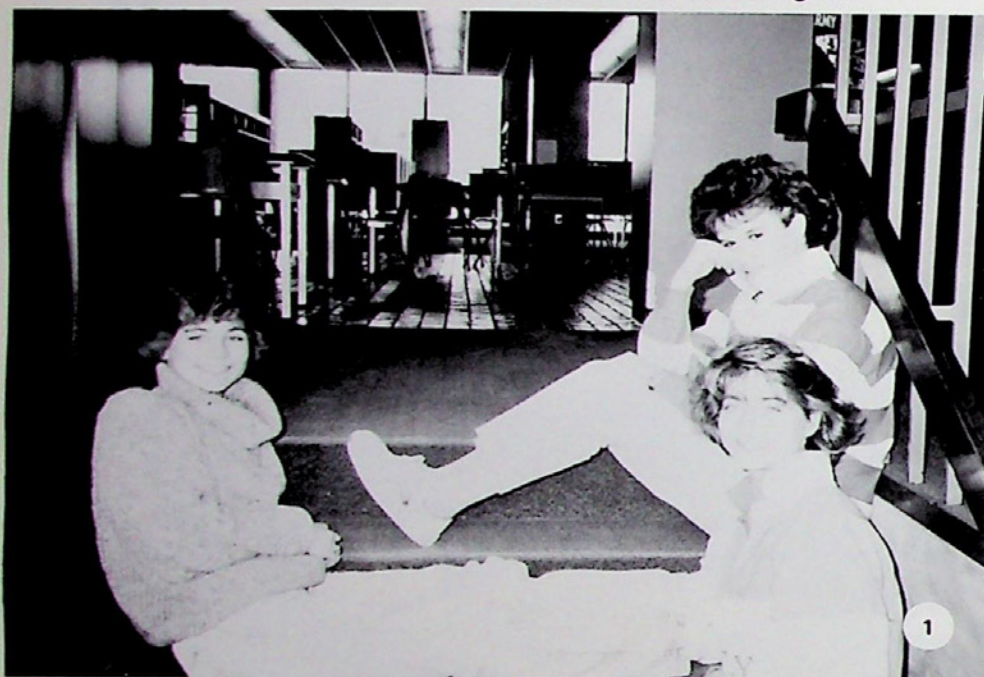

The 1986-87 Library Club did an excellent job this year in helping the students and faculty of Liberty High School, and most of all, Mr. Jay Schuler. This club is a unique service organization which consists of a limited membership of hardworking students. The members gain several practical experiences in the many facets of the library field and all of the related services by working during study hall periods.

This service organization helps Mr. Schuler keep the Library running smoothly as well as assisting their fellow students and district personnel in locating the necessary resources within the Liberty Library. They also order material from other libraries within the school district if it cannot be found within our library.

Over the years, the club has managed to purchase new equipment for use in the library such as the copying machine and the computer console. They also planned for a fun field trip to Dorney Park and an enjoyable night out at the Candlelight Inn.

This year, four hard-working students were library aids to Mr. Schuler. They were Robin Schoemaker, Chris Jackson, Beverly Smith, and Dawn Palhofski.

Computer Club: Grappling With Megabites

The Liberty High School Computer Club was an active organization which met every Thursday after school. The club worked together to learn more about computers and computer programming. They exchanged new programs and ideas with each other. Mr. Smits was the faculty advisor. Student officers were: Christopher Contakes-President, Fredrich Jamann-Vice President, Robert Gueirre-Treasurer, and Brian Fegley-Secretary.

In order for one to be a member of the Computer Club, he or she must have had some background in computers. The group was not formed for the sole purpose of computer game playing — they learned better techniques and improvements in computer programming.

The Liberty Computer Club has participated in the American Computer League National Competition and in other local programming competitions. The Computer Club helped with open house and parents' night and represented Liberty in a National Computer Competition.

Interact Club: Lends A Helping Hand

The Interact Club provides a most important role at Liberty High School. Under the guidance of Mrs. Laurel Trimble, this small but very determined and altruistic group of young people once again met the needs of school and community. They served as hosts for the parent-teacher conferences in November and March as well as aiding at the Special Olympics field day program in May.

The Special Olympics found club members serving in many roles such as: huggers, a group of individuals who give moral support to contestants and helping to keep the day's activities on schedule; blowing up balloons; distributing lunches; and timing various races.

As the group grows in numbers, so should their ability to provide a more effective role at Liberty. Students who are willing to give of their time to support other students and in building stronger school-community ties are very necessary to our school. There are not enough compliments to be extended to an organization so eager to fill this gap. We look forward to Mrs. Trimble and her enthusiastic Club continuing their essential role next year.

S.A.D.D.: Response To A Need

The Liberty High School Chapter of Students Against Drunk Driving came into existence this past school year. SADD was a wing of the Driver Education Department. They increased the awareness of the student body on the epidemic problem of drinking and driving.

During the Christmas Season, SADD mailed a "Contract for Life" to every junior and senior Liberty High School student. This contract was meant to form a bond between parent and student by which neither will drive drunk or be a passenger of a drunk driver.

SADD does not condone the use of alcohol by underage drinkers but only recognizes that there is a problem and tries to combat the drunk driving end of it.

This group of concerned people were out to help save a life and inform the public of one of the leading causes of death among teenagers today — Drunk Driving.

The LHS Chapter of SADD was under the control of Mr. Harold Dudeck and Mr. James Delgrosso. The officers for this year were: Michelle Germuga (president), Marie Lewars (vice-president), Stacey Cooper (secretary), and Sue Little (treasurer).

Brotherhood Club: Bridging Cultures

The Brotherhood Club was made up of students representing many different races, colors, and creeds. Their goal was an admirable one, to look past the lines today's society has drawn and see and respect the similarities and differences of this world's many races.

February marked National Black History Month. With this celebration in mind, the Brotherhood Club explored the uniqueness of the rich American culture. Another occasion to celebrate all the cultures of the world was International Day, and they rose to the occasion.

There really were no requirements to become a member of this club other than, you must have the willingness to listen to people of different cultures in order to understand the culture and grow in respect of it.

The club enriched its members with the knowledge of the world we live in. They hoped to promote a good understanding of the world today, leading to a better tomorrow.

The 1986-87 Brotherhood Club was under the student leadership of Maria Cruz and the Faculty Advisorship of Ms. Anita Amigo.

Outing Club: The Outdoor Experience

The Liberty High School Outing Club offered the student body the chance to explore the outdoors as it was meant to be, clean and fresh. This was a group of students who loved many aspects of the natural life. Some of the many activities offered to them this year were: hiking, canoeing, horseback riding, skiing, and bicycling. The club hit the slopes at the Shawnee Pocono Resort.

The outings the club took allowed the members to do three essential things: (1) enjoy the outdoors,

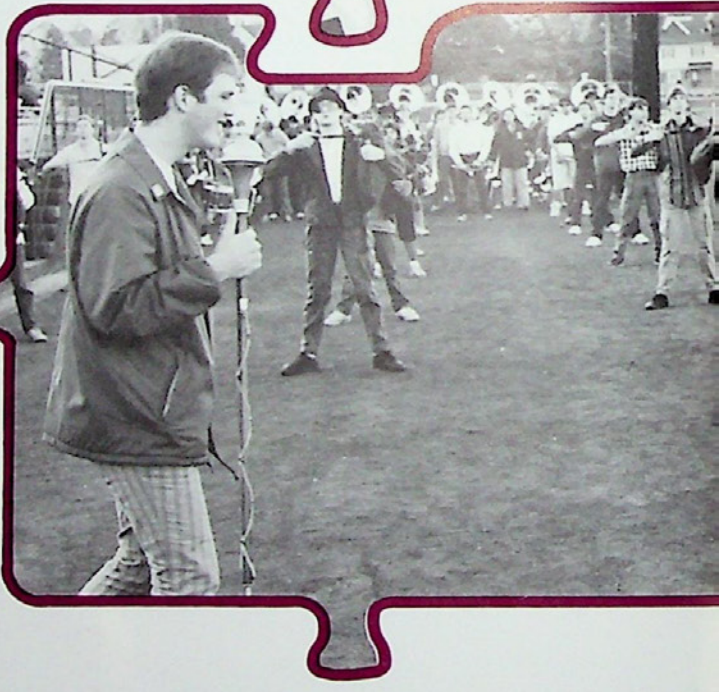

(2) stay in shape physically, or get in shape, and (3) to socially interact with other Liberty High School Students.

This year the club experienced a change in command as Mr. Ronald Sherry left the role as advisor and was replaced by Mr. John Forry and Mr. Christopher Dunton. Under their dual leadership, the club ventured forward into a wider variety of outdoor activities.

Girls' Ensemble: A Unique Bend

The Girls' Ensemble consisted of ninth and tenth grade female students under the direction of Mr. Donald Snider. Membership in this organization serves as an intermediate step in preparing underclassmen voices for membership in the Choraliers. Students receive class credits since practices are held during the school day.

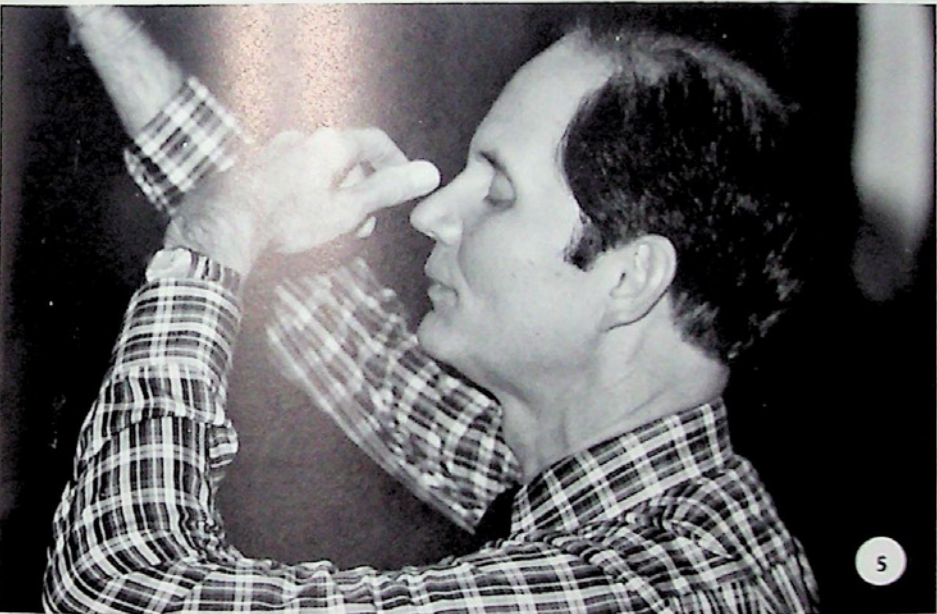

The ensemble performed alone and in concerts with the Choraliers. Their participation included Vespers and their annual Spring Concert. They were given a feature position in all of their performances often performing in conjunction with the Choraliers on selected numbers in order to add to the blend and impact of this larger group, especially when performing with the LHS Orchestra.

Much of the time was spent rehearsing vocal selections as well as polishing accompanists and solists. Their hard work and dedication was rewarded by the enthusiastic response they received when performing in the two major vocal presentations of the year.

The soloists for the 1986 Vespers concert were: Tina Schatz, Mandy Fontecchia, Mickey Maderas, Heather Smith, Maribel Disosa, Kim Lobach, Diana Lee and Beth Ritter. Some of the choral selections and dance routines for the Spring Concert were from the Broadway Musical, "The King and I."

Choraliers: Voices Of The Seasons

This year the Choraliers, under the direction of Mr. Donald Snider, performed the spiritive singing talents throughout the community. This young, talented group gets the chance to sing a wide variety of choral music and then given the opportunity to perform it.

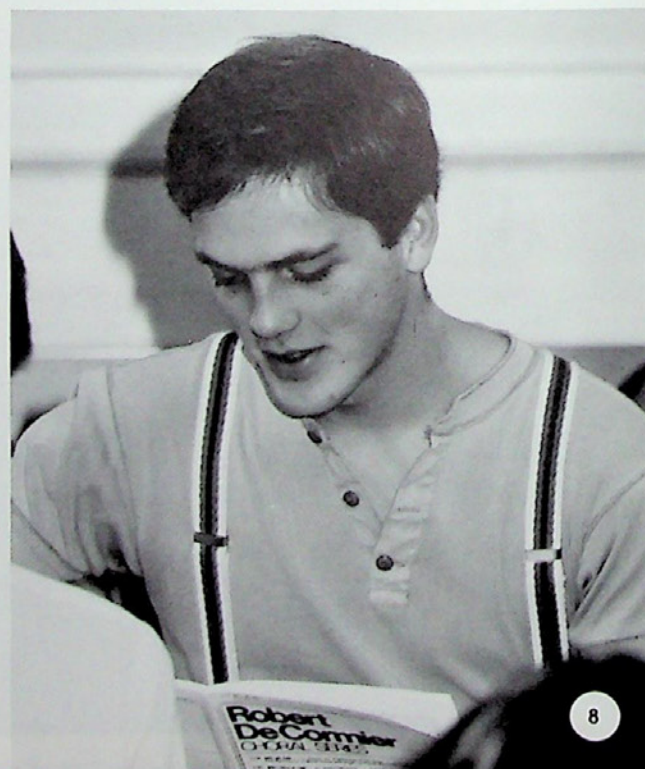

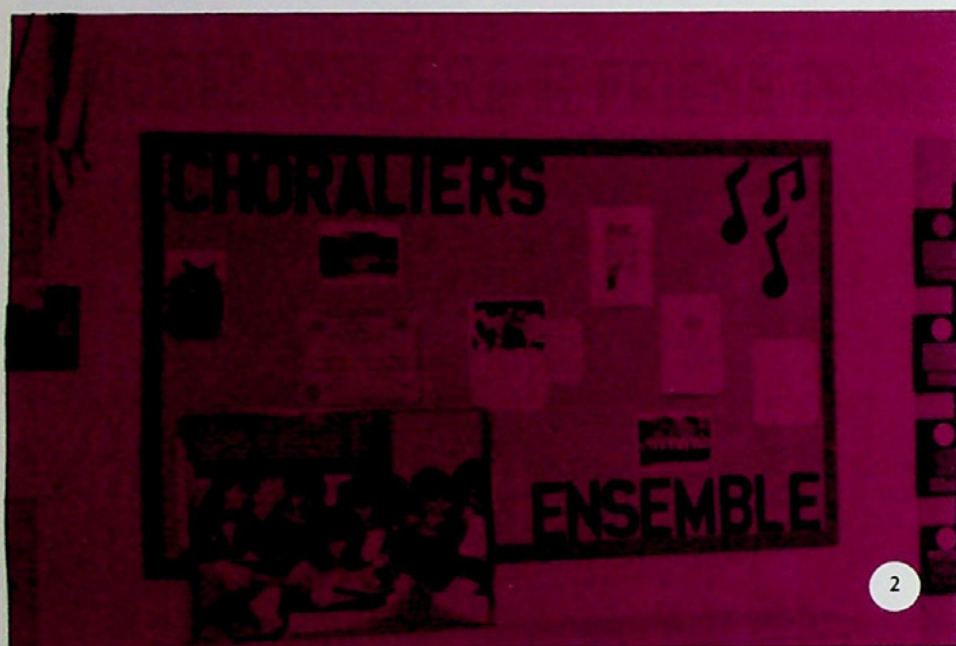

This balanced group of more than one hundred members was kept very busy with long, hard practices, Christmas and spring concerts, and entertaining the community with performances. In February, the Choraliers attended the Annual Choral Adjudication. They traveled to Easton Area High School to be rated by the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association. As usual, their rating was excellent.

A smaller featured ensemble, entitled the Liberty

Singers, represent the Choraliers and perform at events that are too small, or can not accomodate the Choraliers. This prestigious group must go through tryouts to represent the Choraliers.

The Choraliers gave their all to make every performance the best that it could be. Obviously, their hard work paid off.

This dedication is a reflection on Mr. Donald Snider, who has led this group since 1961. This school year marks the end of an era as Mr. Snider has completed his tenure at Liberty. Best wishes are extended to a dedicated educator who has given so much to make Liberty a better place to learn and perform.

Vespers: Heralding The Season

The 1986 annual Vespers, under the direction of Mr. Donald Snider, Choraliers and Mr. Ronald Sherry, Orchestra, set the mood for the Holiday Season. The Vespers continued the secular portion which was introduced last year. This included the traditional story of 'Twas the Night Before Christmas. Even Santa Claus made a grand appearance which marked the high point of the evening.

Before the start of the program, Connie Buss, a senior who did a violin rendition of Handel's Sonata in F Major, was accompanied by pianist Jennifer Piechel, also a senior.

The Liberty Orchestra, along with accompanying the choral groups played along in Hallelujah Chorus and Joy to the World. The Orchestra also played many Christmas favorites.

The Choraliers presented the traditional nativity scene with the beauty of the tableaux under the direction of Mr. Dale Kehler and Mr. Carl Langkamer. The scenes ranged from the Nativity to a family coming home for the Christmas Holiday.

This year's Vespers had a very special meaning to two key people. Mr. Donald Snider and Mr. Glenn Koplin who participated for their last time at Liberty.

Mr. Donald Snider started the Vespers years ago and directed them ever since. Mr. Glen Koplin, in his final year of teaching, amused the audience with his seasonal antics as Santa Claus.

Orchestra: Renewing International Relationships

The 1986-87 Liberty High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Ronald Sherry, is a talented group of approximately 80 members. They performed this year with the Choraliers in the Vespers and the Spring Concert. In addition, they performed for the June graduation ceremonies.

In step with the times, the officers hosted a Christmas dance in opposition to its traditional party. This year the dance featured so many goodies lined end to end that even the strongest stomach gave out. But the highlight of the dance was the giving of the gifts.

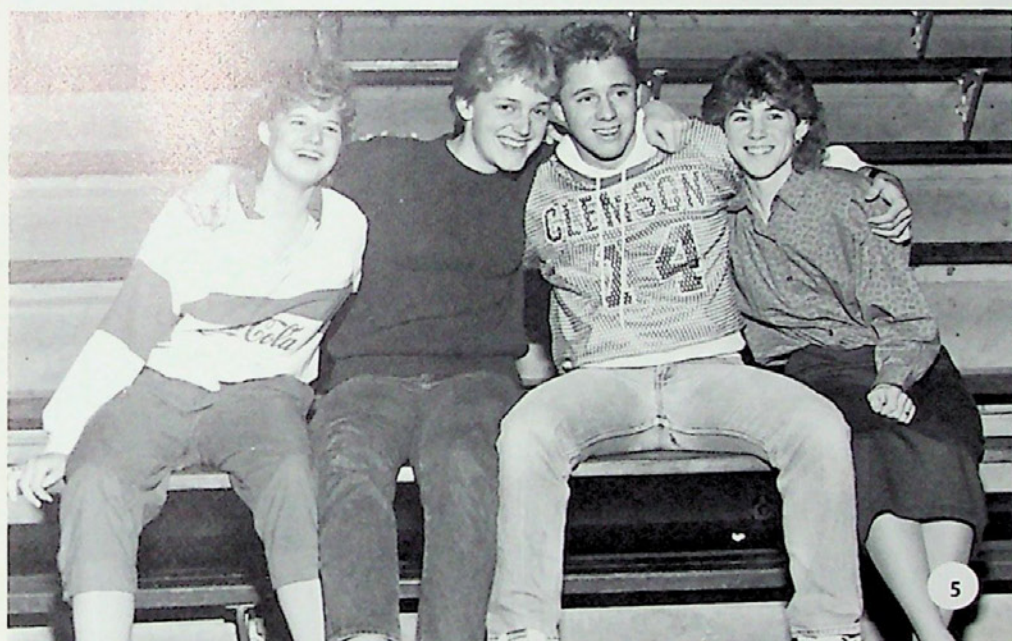

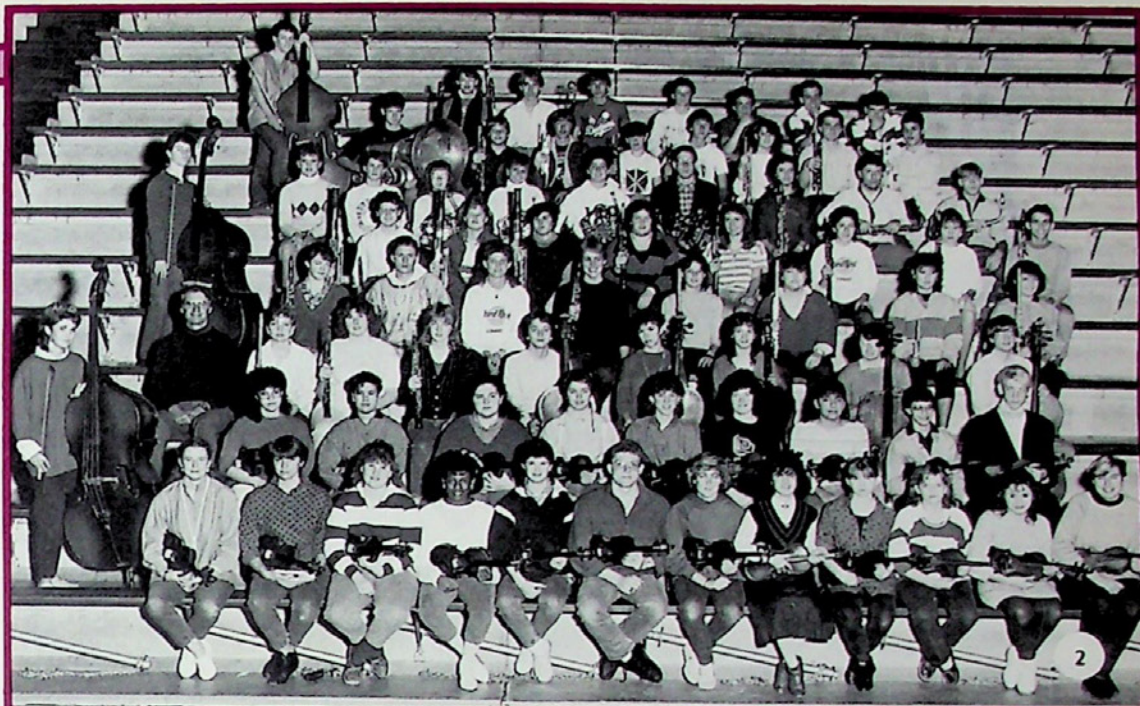

This year, the orchestra had the very special experience of an international exchange with the Eastwood Secondary School of Barrie, Ontario, Canada. In April, the orchestra from Eastview came to Bethlehem and stayed with the members of our orchestra in their homes. The two orchestras performed in a joint concert in our Memorial Gymnasium. In May, our orchestra members took a ten hour bus ride to Barrie, Ontario and stayed for four days. While there, they stayed at the homes of the members of the orchestra and performed in a joint concert with them.

Once again, there was a joint concert with the orchestra and vocal groups of Freedom and Liberty. This concert was held on February 12, 1987 in Freedom's Auditorium.

The officers for the 1986-87 orchestra were: Tracey Kalman, President; David Brown, Vice-President; Beverly Smith, Secretary; and Lori Schofer, Treasurer. The guidance of these individuals led the orchestra to another successful season.

Royal Stewart Jazz: Performing Excellence

This year's Royal Stewart Jazz Band continued the record of excellence within Liberty's musical endeavors. The approximately thirty-member band consisting primarily of Grenadier Band members, and under the direction of Mr. Gregory MacGill, once again had an excellent showing in both competition and talent.

Lead by stand out soloists Jennifer Fischel, Vocalist, and Daniel Jani, alto saxaphonist, the Stage Band received an excellent rating in competition at the William Allen High School performance. In fact, the outstanding talent of Jennifer Fischel won her a scholarship to the Berkeley School of Music, Boston, Massachusetts.

Another Stage Band endeavor was the hosting of the third annual Royal Stewart Jazz Festival held on April 3 in the Liberty High School auditorium. In attendance were various school district bands including the exceptional Freedom and William Allen High School Bands, and also a guest appearance by the Rob Stoneback Big Band.

This year's award winning selections included such contemporary Jazz pieces as Handle with Care, Nobody's Perfect, and Jeffrey Osbourne's On the Wings of Love. As a result of such an outstanding selection of music and talent, the Stage Band once again proved a success in the area of musical performance.

Grenadiers: Nulli Secundus

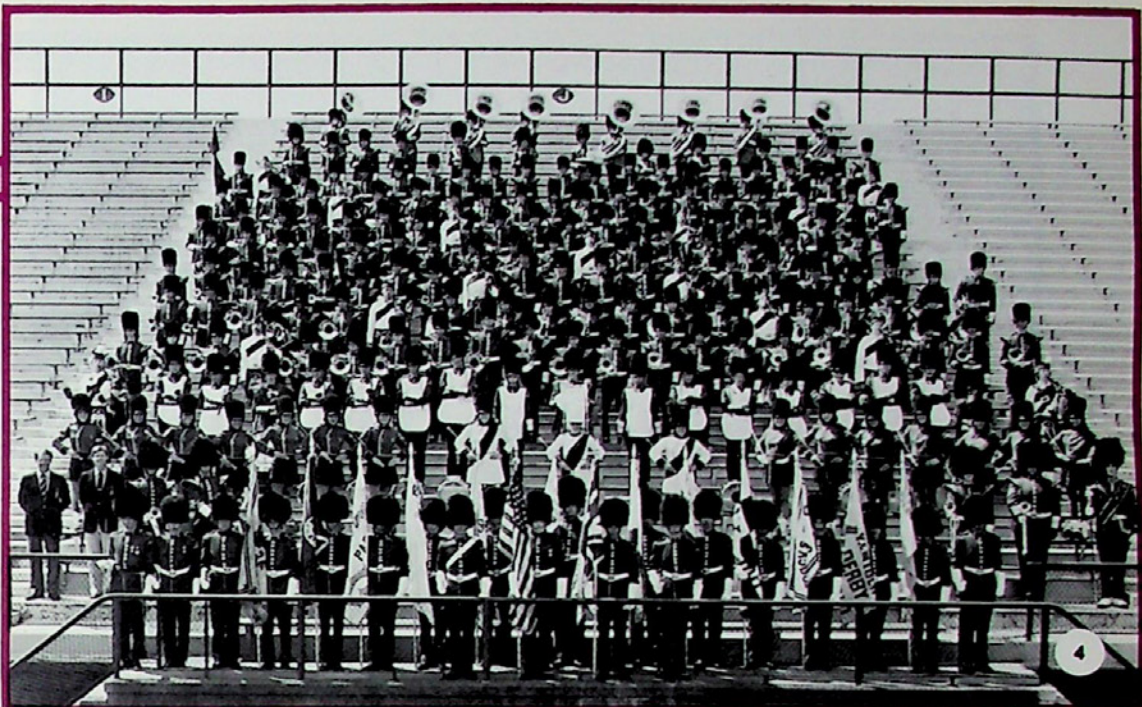

The Liberty High School Grenadiers Band once again has demonstrated its marching and musical abilities for many appreciative audiences throughout the eastern seaboard. The highlights of the year for the 245 members included the annual Bethlehem Musicfest and Halloween Parades, Baltimore Columbus Day Parade, Lebanon Holiday Parade, and of course performances during football pre-game and halftime shows.

Featured in this year's repertoire were The Coldstream March, Waltzing Matilda, The Standard of St. George, Men of Harlech, Entry to the Colosseum, Beatles Medley, Land of Hope and Glory, and the Grenadier's Theme Rule Britannia.

The confrontation between the arch rivals, Liberty and Freedom, was again sparked when the Patriots decided to perform a uniform change only to be undone by the uplifting of Pipe Major Mark Phillips during Amazing Grace. Although this rivalry exists, Bethlehem produces bands of unusual caliber. At this year's Homecoming Game the Alma Maters and the National Anthem were a combined effort of both Liberty and Freedom's bands.

The Grenadiers are under the direction of Mr. Ronald Sherry, assistant directors Mr. Greg MacGill and Mr. William Rapp, 2nd under the student leadership of Matthew Renninger, Joshua Bees, Beverly Smith, and Todd Tereska.

Colour Guard: Uniting Two Nations

Unique best describes the Liberty High School Colour Guard this year. The Colour Guard, under the direction of Mr. William Rapp, as in the past four years, has represented Liberty not only leading the Grenadier Band to award winning success but also competing on their own in Indoor Guard Competitions during the winter months. The Guard took a new direction this year by changing their name to the Great Britons. Competitions through the Mid-Atlantic Region are featured from March to May, with a weekend in Wildwood, New Jersey for Finals.

This year the Colour Guard members were hosts to the Blue Eagles Colour Guard from Basildon, England. The group provided the guests with housing, a social with the Salisbury Guard, and a tour of Historic Bethlehem. The music the Colour Guard used for the indoor was a mixture between British and American with repertoire Marching with Westminster Chimes, British Grenadiers, Land of Hope and Glory, Rule Britannia, Give Me Your Tired and Poor, America, America the Beautiful, United We Stand, Divided We Fall, with the voices of Sir Winston Churchill, Abraham Lincoln, and John F. Kennedy which allowed the unit to continue to capitalize on their unique blend of traditional and contemporary programming. The guard was captained by Curt Hutchinson with Lieutenants John Hayes and Tom Ladue.

Twirlers: Precision With Style

The twirlers are an essential unit which provide an added attraction to the Liberty High School Grenadier Band. They are one of three groups who have led the band through the eastern seaboard with their smiling faces and precision in award winning parades.

The group began practicing their routines early after school ends and continues throughout the summer, so they were polished for the forthcoming football season. This vigorous schedule extends into the late fall and winter as the twirlers prepare themselves for their basketball half-time performances. The twirlers were led by Head Majorette, Karen Becker, who spent a lot of time and effort making the majorettes look their best. Karen, along with the two co-heads Lori Copenhaver and Bonnie Kuritz, prepared and taught the varied routines incorporated into this year's programs. In the absence of Karen, Lori and Bonnie were responsible for running practices.

This polished group of young leaders were very unique. Their precise movements are a trademark of which the Grenadiers have been extremely proud of.

The twirlers added an interesting dimension to the band concert through their marching and twirling interpretations of a march, "Free Lance" by John Philip Sousa. In addition, these young ladies helped to provide a friendly atmosphere as they greeted the evening's spectators at the door.

Indoor Band: Cheering On Champions

Activity for the Grenadiers did not come to a halt with the last play of the Liberty-Freedom game. Instead the membership became busier than ever. Highland dancers began a regular schedule of practices preparing for their many appearances throughout the community. Bagpipers became involved with three projects: training new members, working with the dancers, and preparing for the band concert. The twirlers focused their attention on basketball half-time entertainment and band concert preparations while eight members were involved as dancers. The colour guard had two areas of activity: indoor competition season and preparation for the band concert. The instrumental portion of the Grenadiers could be found playing at all home basketball games, rehearsing for the band concert, or playing with the Royal Stewart Jazz.

All this activity reveals how intense the program becomes when rehearsals move indoors. Some instrumentalists pick up a different instrument. The approach to the musical presentation is different when indoors. The scale of music and demand placed upon conductors and players increases as the unit takes on a sit-down, non-movement posture. And finally the effort of preparing and performing a lengthy band concert as compared to a football half-time is capable of putting a strain on everyone.

Bagpipes: Scottish Tradition

Twenty years have passed since the first sound of bagpipes entered the halls of Liberty High School. The Grenadier Band Pipe Corps not only adds a Scottish touch to Liberty, but also a symbolic one as well. They perform during field shows, band concerts and represent the Grenadiers on special occasions. On one occasion the Pipe Corps performed with the Highland Dancers at Lehigh University greeting a British professor.

This year's Pipe Corps was led under the new leadership of Pipe Major, Mark Phillips and Pipe Sergeant Peter Spillman. The bagpipers' hard and dedicated work is known to all who follow the Grenadiers. Liberty High School is the only school in Pennsylvania with a bagpipe unit, which adds a unique flavor to the British-accented band.

The fifteen member corp, along with a Drum Major and five Pipe Drummers, held long and hard practices in a rather strict and military fashion. They are a very tight knit group who enjoys the camaraderie often produced in smaller units of a large organization.

Highland Dancers: Skilled Perfection

The Highland Dancers add a Scottish flavor to The Grenadier Band. They performed to various forms of Scottish Folk Dances played by Pipe Major Mark Phillips and Pipe Sergeant Peter Spillman. The Highland Dancers had three types of dances. The reels were done to the tunes of Piper of Drummond and Louden's Bonny Woods and Braes. The second dance, the fling, was done to The Devil in the Kitchen and The Balmoral Castle. The sword dance was performed to Ghille Calum. Many hours go into perfecting this art as every step is important as each gesture has a meaning. The Highland Dancers have entertained many people throughout the year with performances at Lehigh University and the annual Band Concert as well as various community activities which have allowed them to become goodwill ambassadors of Liberty High School.

The 1986-87 Dancers consisted of eight highly skilled dancers selected from the majorette squad. Lori Copenhaver performed the position of Principal Dancer with the responsibility of running all practices. She was assisted by Karen Becker. The other Highland Dancers were: Tara Abruzzesse, Tracey Kalman, Corinne Kozma, Bonnie Kuritz, Steph Polumbo and Denise Young.

Royal Blue Band: Grenadiers In Training

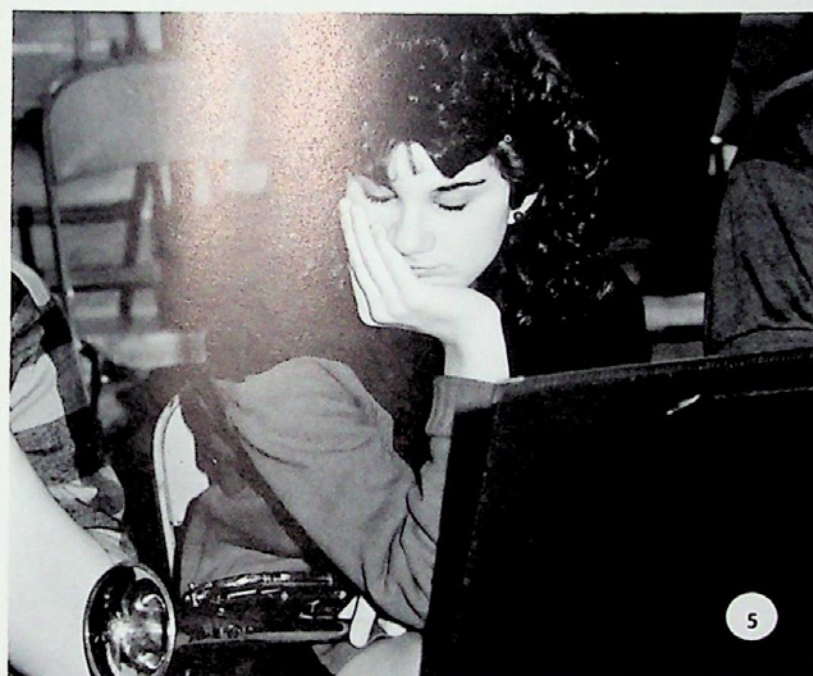

The Royal Blue Band is an extension of the Grenadier Band, directed by Mr. Ronald Sherry and assisted by Mr. Gregory MacGill. They practice three times a week, during the last period of the school day. The Blue Band gives a chance for less experienced musicians to develop and enhance musical and performing skills prior to gaining membership into the Grenadier Band.

Members of the Grenadier Band also participate in the rehearsals and performances of the Royal Blue Band. This gives band members time to gain extra musical practice on their major instrument, as well as provide additional performing experience on another instrument. Members of the Royal Blue Band performed with the Grenadier Band several times throughout the 1986-87 school year. They participated in promoting spirit at several football games, the Bethlehem Halloween Parade, and the annual L.H.S.G.B. Spring Concert on March 27-28. Royal Blue Band members were distinguished by wearing blue berets and a plain belt with the letter 'B' on them.

The musicians of this group, whether hobby or career oriented, put a great deal of their time and effort into making this organization first-class.

Liberty Theatre: Drama At Its Best

Under the direction of Mr. Leonard Perrett and Mrs. Judith Smullen, Liberty Theatre, a group of highly talented individuals, has grown to gain the respect of the Liberty High School student body and the entire Lehigh Valley.

Liberty Theatre, this year, dared to attempt the production of the highly controversial play, Jesus Christ Superstar. This musical, written by Webber and Rice, presented a giant challenge to the members of Liberty Theatre. Because of the amount of time, energy, and dedication required to perform it with proper excellence. This play also created a challenge to the advisors because of the characteristics of the roles. Several male and female voices were needed, as this play was performed as an opera.

Liberty Theater has always attracted dedicated students as well as competent faculty advisors. The theatre is a place, not only for those with good acting abilities, but also for those who have technical skills or just the desire and willingness to dedicate themselves to other aspects of the theatre. All cast and crew members, no matter what skills they began with, became virtual professionals during the months of preparation that preceeded the performances, because this is an educational, as well as recreative occupation. Because of the amount of work involved in this type of production, it was obvious that the cast is a very tight knit unit.

Stage Crew: Behind The Scenes

The Liberty High School Stage Crew, under the direction of Mr. Leonard Perrett, undertakes many tasks. Any event requiring the use of Liberty High School Auditorium presents an opportunity for the stage crew members to put their skills to use. These events consist of Liberty Theatre productions, Choraliers Concerts at Christmas and in spring, and any occasion for which the auditorium is rented out.

This year, the efforts have been focused towards the construction and lighting of the sets for Jesus Christ Superstar, performed by Liberty Theatre.

This production was one of the most dramatic shows ever put on by the Liberty Theatre, and therefore, under the guidance of Mr. Perrett and Mrs. Judith Smullen, the stage crew had to construct one of the most spectacular sets in the history of Liberty Theatre. This set brought out their creativity and ingenuity to the highest degree.

The members, under student direction of stage manager, David Kolman, have grown to work together in order to achieve the perfection that is expected of the stage crew. The members are: Matt Boyer, Adam Miller, Ron Woodley, Mike Judge, Jeff Demerjian, Phil Marshall, Doug Caldwell, Jason Reed, Neil Szanyi, David Scholl, Jamie Oberman, Marty Zug, and Mike Shea.

Jesus Christ Superstar: Disputed Success

Once again the members of the Liberty Theatre, under the dual direction of Mr. Leonard Perrett and Mrs. Judith Smullen, provided a near professional spectacular that may very well be the best musical ever performed on the Liberty High School Stage. The highly controversial Jesus Christ Superstar was performed on March 11 thru 14 to appreciative audiences each night. Jason Reed gave an energetic and charismatic performance in the lead role of Judas Iscariot, while Jessica Thompson, the show's leading lady, poignantly played the role of Mary Magdalene. Thomas Braun, a newcomer to the Theatre, performed one of the toughest roles ever as Jesus Christ.

Other principle characters were seniors Neil Szanyi, as Pontius Pilate; Christopher Shade, as King Herod; and David Kolman, as the High Priest Caiaphas. The 150 member cast and crew were rounded out by 11 apostles, 6 apostle women, 7 tormentors, 10 lepers and a children's chorus of elementary school kids as well as 6 voices from Liberty. A 30 piece Orchestra was formed to accompany the singers and was most capably directed by Mary Yankovich.

The play Jesus Christ Superstar chronicles the last 7 days of the life of Jesus Christ up to and including His Crucifixion told from the vantage point of Judas Iscariot.

1) Liberty Theatre Presents Jesus Christ, Superstar. 2) The cast of Jesus Christ, Superstar receive their last minute instructions. 3) King Herod (Chris Shade) struts his stuff and taunts Jesus about his situation. 4) Mary Magdalene (Jessica Thompson) puts Jesus (Thomas Braun) to sleep before she sings "I Don't Know How to Love Him." 5) Mary Yankovich — The student director of the Orchestra. 6) Tormentors Jackie Podhany and Julie Meckley prepare for their performance. 7) Pilate (Neil Szanyi) ponders on the fate of Jesus Christ. 8) Caiphas (David Kolman), Annas (Jerry Kelchner), and the Priest (Ethan Funk) observe Christ's triumphant entrance into Jerusalem. 9) As the tormentors taunt him, Judas (Jason Reed) questions Christ's purpose. 10) The Apostles and their women have "Heaven on Their Minds."

Young Writer: Creativity's Best

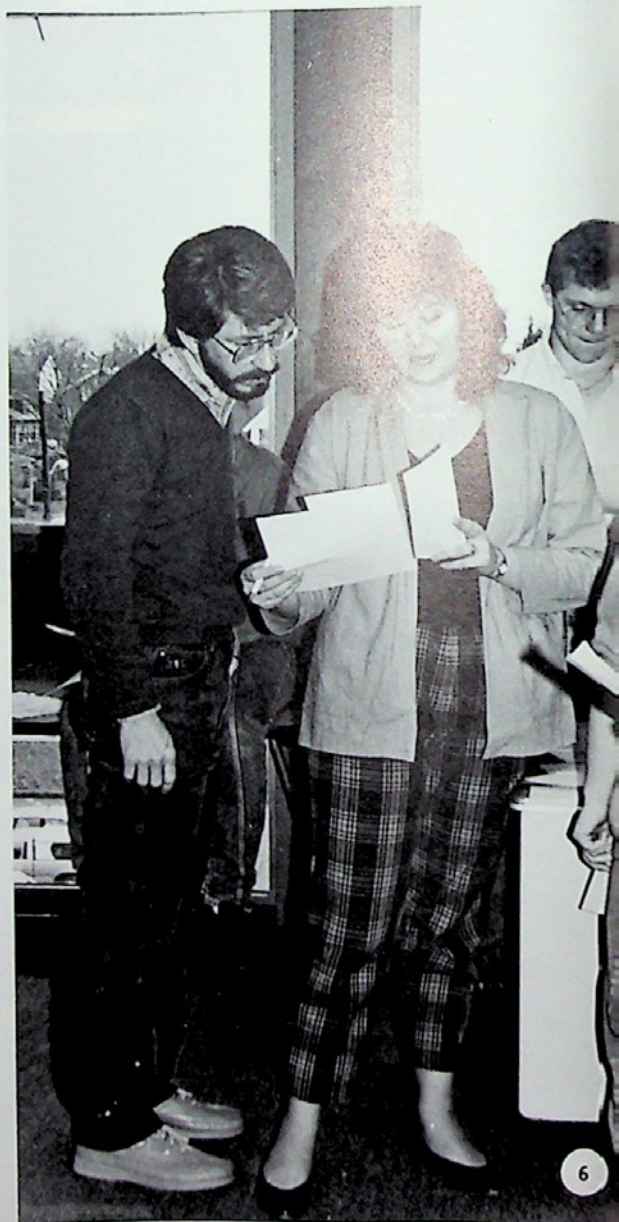

Young Writer is the literary arts magazine of Liberty High School. Each spring, the organization publishes a magazine which includes artwork, photographs, poems, and short stories written by students. The staff is under the supervision of Mr. Samuel Creyer and Mrs. Joyce Berkenstock. The two teachers are new in their advisory positions and are very appropriate. Mrs. Berkenstock is an English teacher and Mr. Creyer is an art and photography teacher. This added a stronger audio visual approach to the magazine.

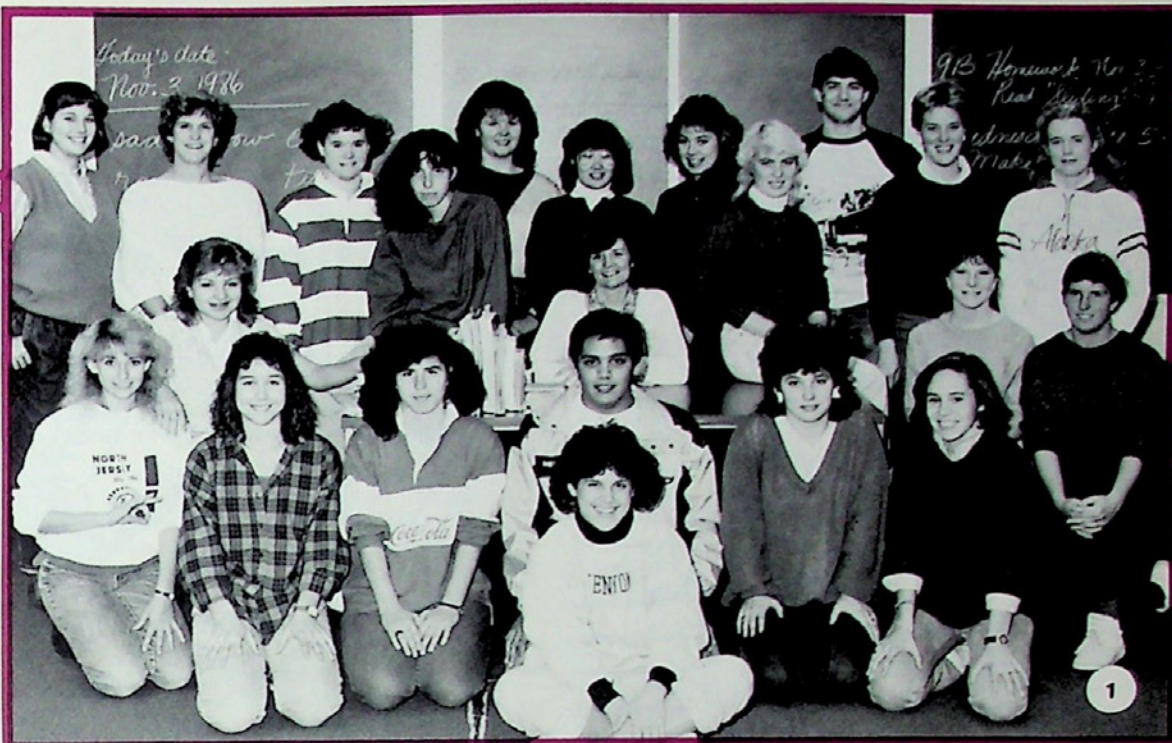

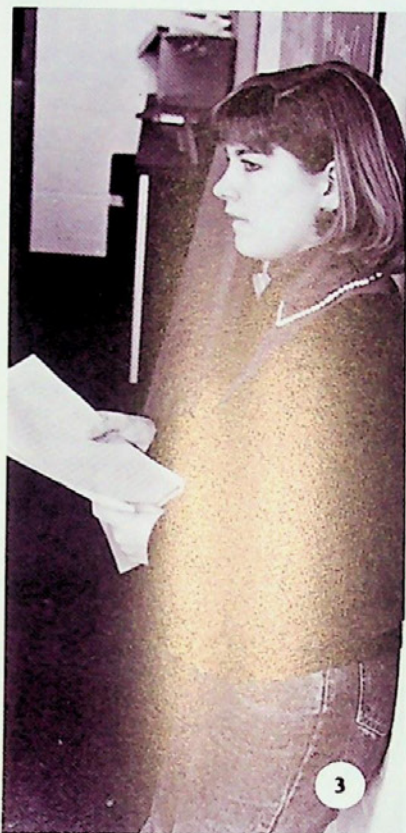

The staff sponsors a contest every year open to the entire student body. Students submit their works, which are then evaluated by the staff members. Cash prizes are given to the winners. They also receive feature positions in the magazine. The staff members sold fudge, calendars, and sponsored many bake sales.

Not only does the Young Writer provide a service to the entire Liberty community, but also to those whose work is showcased in a published format. This product of student creativity evaluated by and presented by students has been very successful in establishing the Young Writer as a land mark or guide for this type of student publication. As a result the Young Writer has achieved regional notoriety on more than one occasion which has brought distinction to the staff and Liberty as well.

The staff was headed by Irene Kim; Art Editor, Carla Forschner; Co-Art Editor, Chris Portner; Literary Editor, Rebecca Little; and Business Manager, Mary Harvey.

My eyes
Glass windows
Through which I see
Polished so clean
Yet clouded over pain
I see only what I want
Yet like windows
I reflect only what I see,
not what I feel.
A stranger,
Trapped within myself
hiding behind glass windows.

Dreams

Looking out my window
I watch the rain fall.
I dream my dreams of make-believe
My dreams of times gone by.
Suddenly, the rain stops,
And a rainbow appears.
For one fleeting moment my dreams,
Become a reality.
But the rainbow dissipates as night rolls in.
My dreams set with the sun
To be thought of another day.

LHS—Steeped in Tradition

It is being debated whether the Class of 1987 will break one of the most hallowed traditions at Liberty High School. This year's senior class may hold commencement ceremonies at Stabler Arena instead of on Liberty High School grounds, where every class has held graduation since Liberty was built in 1922.

The proposal was brought before the student government, which was unable to come to a decision as to the place for graduation. Leonard Jago, senior class advisor, sent letters to the students' homes, addressed to the students' parents. Many students would never have thought to read the letters. The first time the students were informed directly was in a student government newsletter passed out in homeroom last week. Many would prefer Stabler because it has some advantages: ample parking lots, air conditioning, and plenty of seating. However, many less convenience-minded seniors put the privilege of graduating in a place where so many classes have gone before and where they have spent the last, and most important, four school years of their lives, ahead of creature comforts. Graduation in the stadium, or, if necessary, the gym, would be an honor for the Class of '87.

The cost of renting Stabler (about $1500) will be paid by the school district. The parents of LHS students, as taxpayers, would be picking up the tab for a privilege that no one is sure if the students even want. Jago has decided not to have a vote. The only way to be sure that the students get what they want would be to have a vote. The class should have been consulted on this matter in the form of a ballot at an assembly or homeroom. Liberty High School is steeped in tradition, and one of its most honored traditions may be forsaken in favor of ample parking.

Since Jago has ruled a vote out of the question, Liberty Life is conducting an informal poll to find out how the senior class feels. Please fill out the ballot on the front page and return it to room 853 by Tuesday.

What An Act!

Since Dr. Robert LaFrankie left the Bethlehem Area School District late last year, Liberty has been caught in a large bureaucratic muddle. As many upper-classmen may recall, Edwin E. Abel arrived at Liberty late last year to assume the position of acting assistant principal in charge of student services. He was not actually assistant principal; he just acted like it. He filled a vacancy left when John Saunders, the real assistant principal in charge of student services, became acting principal. He wasn't really principal; he just acted like it. Of course, Saunders filled the void left when the fabled Thomas J. Doluisio stepped up to become acting superintendent of schools. The acts must have really pleased both Abel and Doluisio, as they have both taken their pseudo-positions in the BASD hierarchy as permanent jobs. Saunders decided that he had had enough principalship, so he retired, again leaving an acting vacancy at the main office. Anthony Ruggiero, who was next in line for the "throne," was promoted to acting principal. The position of acting principal in charge of instruction, the space left when Ruggiero began acting like principal, was filled by Roberta J. Whitcomb, former head of the Business Department. It was expected that when the school board chose a new superintendent, Doluisio would return and this semi-chaotic, pseudo-administration would come to an end.

When Doluisio chose to solidify his job as superintendent, it became apparent that the end is not near. As it stands, Liberty has not had a real principal since January, 1986. The haphazard manner with which the principal and assistant principal were chosen for temporary positions could once have been overlooked because the administration was expected to return to "normal" very shortly. Evidently, it has not turned out that way. The "temporary" position of acting principal has lasted ten months and has been held by two administrators who just happened to be available. The school board seems so wrapped up in its game of musical administrators that it has forgotten that LHS is caught in the middle.

An acting principal, no matter how competent he may be, does not have the same authority to make plans and bring about change that a permanent officeholder has. A temporary principal is a figurehead who, because he stands to lose the position, cannot take control and use his judgement the way a principal should. When asked if he would pursue the principalship, Ruggiero declined comment. Although the school district has gained a new superintendent, Liberty has lost a real authority figure. The mess continues...

School Spirit?

Liberty Life: Liberty's Award Winning Paper

Liberty Life, under the superb leadership of Mr. Roger Hudak, once again won a first place overall award in the annual Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association competition. Individual awards were given to juniors Mike Dimler, Kristen Hudak, Kathy Mudri and Patty Trala. Also receiving awards were seniors Claudine Celebuski, Rob Galle, Tom Husser and Patrick Wells.

Liberty Life is published October through May by very talented and hard-working students. The 1986-87 student leadership was headed by editor-in-chief Claudine Celebuski. Along with Claudine were Tom Husser, Managing Editor; Stacey Wescoe, News Editor; Kristen Hudak, Feature Editor; Rob

Liberty Life contains a wide variety of articles ranging from sports to concert listings and reviews.

Liberty Life is sometimes criticized for the excessive advertising found in the paper. Such advertising is necessary to sustain a school newspaper. This associates the students on the staff with the true expenses in a newspaper. Therefore this not only makes a student's texture on Liberty Life an interesting avocation, but an informative experience as well.

Cauldron: Putting The Pieces Together

The 1986-87 Cauldron Staff began their journey on the road to completion of the yearbook just before the school year got off to a flying start. A great deal of brainstorming was done to come up with a theme, and finally the idea of a puzzle, and its individual pieces symbolizing the students of Liberty joining together to form a school with tremendous spirit was selected. Headed by Mr. William Rapp and determined editors, the staff was able to maintain a standard of quality that would result in the best yearbook ever. Work sessions ran late into the evening and the staff existed on junk food, Domino's Pizzas and J's subs for dinners. Even though at times tempers were hot and times were rough, the staff fit together as the puzzle and worked as a team, thus being able to achieve a year-long dream.

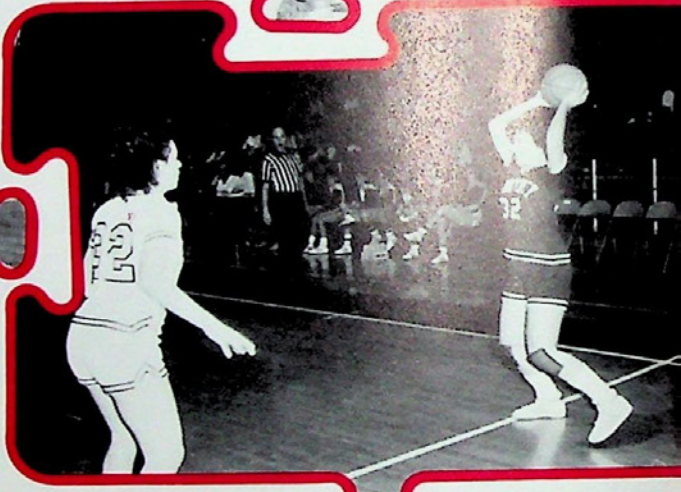

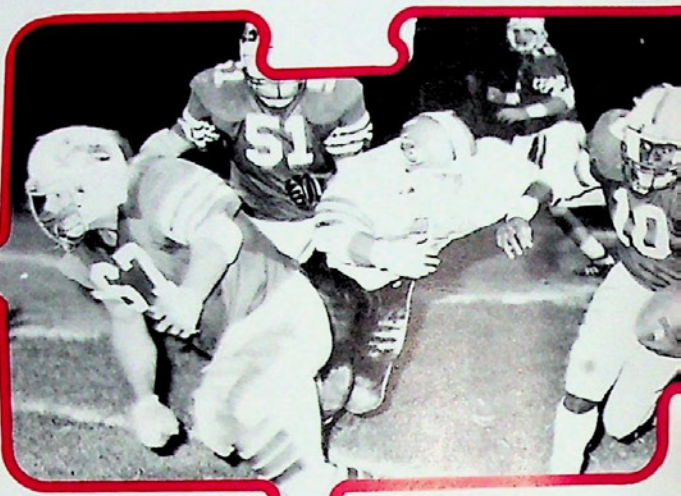

Technology was a major asset for the yearbook this year with a new computer system that was funded by the selling of T-Shirts for Homecoming and other projects. The Cauldron Staff also purchased a new camera which will give a better outlook in the future years of Liberty. This new equipment has been quite helpful in enabling the Cauldron staff to keep up with the modernization that the publishing company has to offer.

Golf: Following Thru With A Great Year!

The 1986 Hurricane Golf season could be said to have been a memorable one at that. Under the careful direction of coach Mr. Charles Peters and the leadership of Senior Co-Captains Mike Weiner and Mark Cziraky. The team completed the season at 7-2 and in the upper third of the East Penn league. Four year veterans, Mike Weiner and Mark Cziraky, along with fellow Seniors, Greg Albus, Pete Seaman and Dave Brown, provided the leadership throughout the entire schedule of matches. When it came down to the wire, coach Peters was always able to count on these five young men to come through with clutch performances.

The underclassmen, too, provided stability at times during the season.

Although Coach Peters lost his two team captains and three other senior team members to Graduation in June, he will return a thriving nucleus of six underclassmen next fall. Of those six returnees, two of them are Juniors who will be counted on for much of the same as this years Seniors were.

Football: Enthusiastic And Determined

The 1986-87 football season ended with a big victory over crosstown rival Freedom, spoiling Freedom's chance to tie a school record for the most wins in a season.

The season began in August with two-a-day workouts and high hopes and expectations for an East Penn Conference Championship and a return trip to the District XI Championship game. Then, unfortunately, disaster struck! Injury after injury sidelined many good players that were needed for the team to fulfill the pre-season expectations. Although not all was lost. Many underclassmen were able to fill some big voids and show that they have the potential to play at the varsity level in the ever-tough East Penn League. The team's overall condition was excellent and their enthusiasm and excitement was never a problem. Each and every player had the killer instinct it takes to be a winner.

Throughout the season strong leadership qualities were expressed by this year's tri-captains: Todd Burkhardt, Eric Gore, and David Seier, who were all seniors. These three young men kept the team mentally prepared every time they stepped onto the gridiron. Whether it was practice or game time, the team was prepared to encounter all adversities.

J.V. Football: Road To Excellence

The Hurricane Junior Varsity football team turned in an impressive 6-2 record while shutting out three teams enroute to their six victories. A mixture of juniors and sophomores for the most part made up the entire squad. The team did an admirable job for being the first time they all played together. The team practiced with the varsity each day after school to prepare them and themselves for the upcoming encounter the following Friday evening.

The team had many talented athletes who were recognized for their accomplishments which allowed them to dress for the Varsity contest. For all of the JV players this year was another year of learning techniques and skills.

These skills and techniques will be a valuable asset for next fall's season.

The natural talent expressed by these young men, along with the great desire they have will ensure an exciting and memorable but work-filled season for these gentlemen next fall.

Frosh. Football Stepping Stone To Success

The 1986 Freshman Football Team turned in a very impressive 9-1 win-loss record. This year was very important for the players and coaches. The year was a learning experience for both. The coaches taught the athletes new techniques and polished off some old ones, while the players themselves taught each other about themselves. The coaches learned of the players' potential, which is very great, and of their positive winning attitude. The type of atmosphere established this past fall will be a stepping stone for all when the first day of practice rolls around late next summer.

For this fall being the first time these young men have played together on a team, it was very impressive. They started off with a shutout victory over the Golden Hawks from BECAHI. From that game they rolled to six more victories prior to the only loss of the season. The team bounced back the following week to shut out Allen 18-0 and finished off a fine season with Cross-town rival Freedom.

Soccer: Always A Contender

This year's Varsity soccer team finished the year with a very successful season, compiling a thirteen win, four loss and one tie record. Coach Sarkozy and his Hurricane squad started off their season on the right foot by defeating defending District XI champion Freedom 6-3. This victory was the first win over the Patriots in six seasons. It was a great way for the seniors to start off their final season in a Hurricane uniform.

Although the team was riddled with injuries to key players that sidelined them for games at a time, they were able to earn a spot in the District playoffs at the end of the season. Their tough play and never ending desire pushed their opponent, Emmaus, into double overtime before they lost a heartbreaker in the District semi-final round.

This year's team proved that even though they were faced with adversity (injuries) they were able to come through at the time it was needed. This squad had great experience and team co-captains Greg Grunkle and Brian Krcelich proved it. With the addition of high scoring Dan Barry (19 points) the Hurricanes had much depth.

J.V. Soccer: Kicking Towards The Future

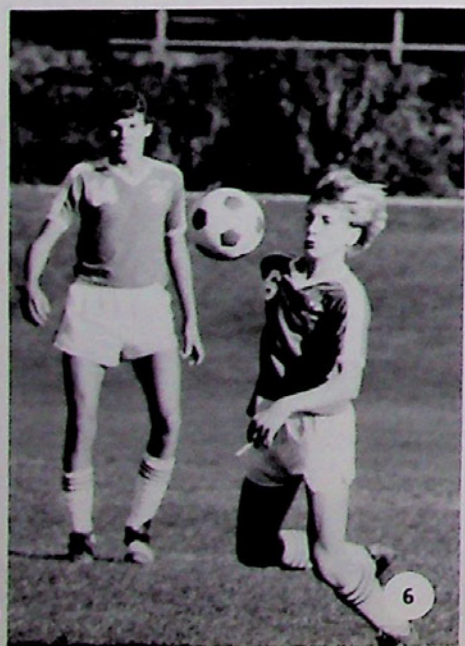

The Junior Varsity Soccer Team, under the coaching of Mr. Leo Schnalzer, compiled a (7-8-1) record. The team consisted of a mixture of both younger players which added experience and leadership as well as skill. The players also learned and prepared for future games as Varsity players.

Although the team lost a tough 1-0 overtime game against cross-town rival, Freedom to start the season, the team regrouped and had numerous close games. Most of the losses were decided by only one or two goals. These close games marked the competitiveness of the team.

Some of the players showed excellent skill and talent which allowed them to see some Varsity playing time. The older and more experienced players provided much of the team leadership. The outlook for next year's team is promising as there were a lot of competent freshman who will return again to compete in the East Penn Conference, hopefully on the Varsity Level.

Girls' Volleyball: District Champs

This fall's girl's volleyball season was a memorable year for the Hurricane. They captured the first ever District Title in Liberty history for a girl's team. Volleyball Coach Larry Deutsch and his Hurricane were basically "unbeatable"! The 'Canes finished the season with a trip to the Indiana University of Pennsylvania to participate in the State Volleyball Tournament. They finished in the top twelve in the tournament. Finishing the season with an overall record of seventeen wins and only nine losses (12-6 in EPC action) the team was able to post the second best overall record in girl's volleyball history at LHS.

They opened the season with an impressive and strong showing by placing third in Vblast '86. The tourney included the likes of defending state champ Cambria Heights. Coach Deutsch and his team won the first six meets they played enabling them to get off to a great start and a third place finish in the East Penn Conference.

The team's excitement came from a different player each night. Leading the team were seniors Nancy Romig and Kelly Bartholomew. Both had the distinction to be named to the All-East Penn Conference team.

Tina Russ, also a senior, was named along with Nancy and Kelly to play in the Big East Girl's Volleyball Tournament. They represented the East Penn Conference and LHS in a tourney that included the five best all-star teams in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Hoop Girls: Showing School Spirit

Promoting school spirit is hard to do by one individual but more than one individual did. This year's Hoop Girls did just that. Not only did they promote school spirit, but they exemplified what Liberty High School is all about. Whether it was a warm Friday evening during football season or a cold one, the Hoop Girls were there assisting the Cheerleaders and cheering the Hurricanes on to victory.

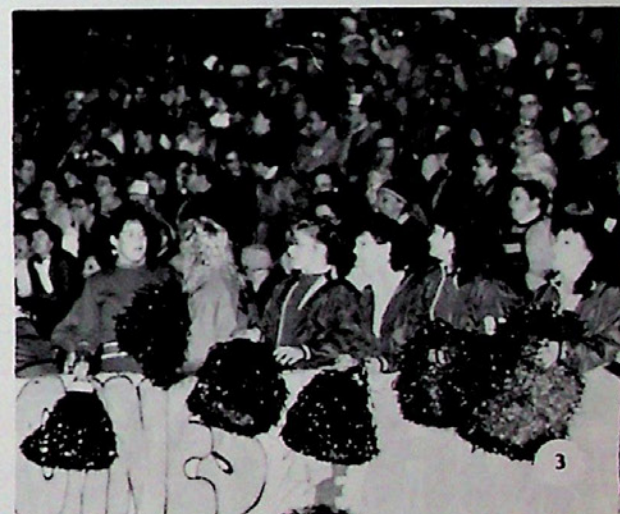

They not only were there to cheer at the games but they also participated energetically in preparing signs that were hung in the stands each game to boost the spirit of the fans. These young ladies gave of their time and talent, just as everyone else does, to promote the good things done here at Liberty High School and they are an attribute to our fine school.

This year's Homecoming week, the Hoop Girls did an exceptional job in raising school spirit for the cross town rivalry on the football field the Friday night of that week. The spirit they brought out shows that when things are not going the way they are predicted, the school can still muster up spirit to aid fellow classmates in a battle against an opponent.

Girls' Tennis: Ace Of A Season

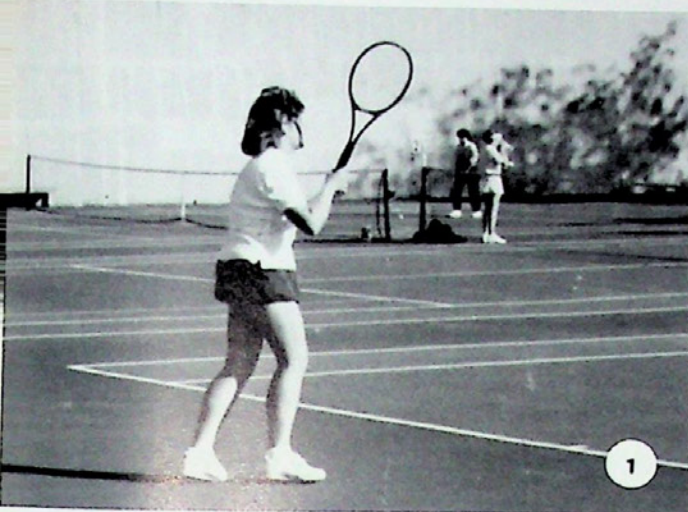

The 1986 Girl's tennis team, led by number one seed Kori Rig's nine and two regular season record and top double's team of Beth Schultz and Bryn Sayenger, finished second in a tough East Penn Conference with a nine and two win-loss record. Doubles partners Beth Schultz and Bryn Sayenger ran up a thirteen and one record. The Hurricane finished as city champions by defeating BECAHL and Freedom with identical team scores of 5-2. An opening season loss to Allen spurred the 'Canes on to eight wins in the last nine team matches.

Leadership was shown by all players but especially by the seniors. The dedication of all the seniors was appreciated by all the underclassmen who learned alot from the 'elder-statesmen'. The team was led by senior standouts Kim Huber and Jonle Sedar. Kim; for not having played a game of tennis prior to going out for the team four years ago, did a great job when it came to crunch time. She was able to move herself right up the line to be the fourth seed on the team. Jonle was a notch above at number three. Although they had a disapointing 4-7 record they came out match after match with the same intensity that carried over to all their teammates. Fellow senior Alissa Witiak was number 2 on the team and finished with a 9-2 win loss column.

Varsity Hockey: A Competitive Season

The Liberty High School's Girls' Varsity Field Hockey Team should be commended for a well-played season. Although the 1986 record, 1-16-2, was not statistically inspiring, the team's effort and "move ahead" attitude upheld the girls to be proud of their accomplishments. Under the supervision of first year head coach, Miss JoAnne Geiger, the "danger zone" team combined skill, aggression, and team spirit to make the season fun and memorable.

The 1986 East Penn Conference field hockey season began with an exciting game against Freedom. The game, the first for the girls' hockey team to be played in the Bethlehem Area School District Stadium displayed some of the team's comeback power. With Freedom leading 2-0 at the end of the second quarter, Liberty drove ahead to end the game in a 2-2 tie.

Senior co-captains of the team were Nicole Camarota and Amy Hagemann. Their dedication to field hockey and the team kept the girls confident and willing to play well under all circumstances. Four year starter senior, Tracey Petros was the top scorer sticking 11 of the team's 16 goals of the season. In the team's win over Whitehall, Petros scored the winning goal with 30 seconds left to play in the game.

JV Hockey: Setting New Goals

The Junior Varsity Field Hockey Team showed great improvement as the games progressed throughout the Fall sports season. Coach of the JV team, Mr. Marty Romeril projected great encouragement for the girls and had the team playing strongly for every minute of their winless season. The girls always displayed unity and spirit as they motivated the varsity field hockey team with their cheers and support from the bench at each game. The two goals made in the 1986 season were shot by Freshmen Lisa Mancke and Ellyn Siftar.

Throughout the 1986 season the junior varsity team gave thier competition a workout. They continued the tradition of showing the other East Penn Conference teams that the Liberty High School Hurricane Field Hockey team is out to play a competative and aggressive game.

Cross Country: Runnin' Harriers

The 1986 edition of the Liberty High School Cross Country team was a well balanced group of strong hearted individuals. They began to train, under the watchful eye of coach Michael Bounassi and Assistant William Ruth, at the beginning of August. Long, hard, sweat filled runs were not abnormal in the practice schedule. The practice time was used very productively. The team's hard work paid off as the season rolled around. The two teams were competitive in all of the meets that they ran in.

Seniors Gwen Kay, John Meunch, Claudine Celebuski and Pete Chaikowski provided much of the leadership for this young and promising group of runners. Miss Gwen Kay was fortunate enough to compete in the state meet, after leading the girls team and breezing through the league meet and District Eleven meet. She was accompanied to the state meet by Coach Bounassi who had given her great encouragement through-out her career at Liberty High School. Her accomplishment is one that can be looked upon with great admiration. She was the essence of the team and showed what sport is all about.

Varsity Cheerleaders: Promotes School Spirit

The 1986-87 Varsity Cheerleading Squad was an instrumental part in promoting school spirit. They not only participated at sporting events, but they cheered at pep rallies and decorated athletes' homes.

The Cheerleaders began their practices in the summer, attending camp at the University of Delaware. They were well prepared to cheer the football team on to many victories. They showed energetic spirit by psyching up the spectators at games. Not only did the squad cheer in all types of weather and at as many as four games per week during the winter season, but they were also responsible for teaming up with the Hoop Girls to decorate players' homes for the Liberty vs. Freedom games. The cheerleaders should be commended for this:

Throughout the school year, the cheerleaders hung spirit-ed signs around the hallways to promote school awareness of athletic games.

Fadia Youwakim and Beth Horninger did an excellent job in heading this group of 16 young ladies. The rest of the Cheerleading Squad should be commended for spreading their spirit around the school and the community.

J.V.'s: Work Our Way To The Top

The Junior Varsity teams at Liberty High School are well supported by the fans, but are more supported by this year's cheerleaders. This year's Junior Varsity cheerleading squad began practice this summer putting many hours of hard work in to prepare to cheer our teams to victory. The girls do a great job of supporting the team and getting the crowd into the flow of the game by performing many spirit provoking cheers. The girls entertain the fans at the half and during time-outs at Boy's JV basketball games and some Girl's Varsity Games.

The girl's cheerleading coach, Michell Stein, feels that this year is a very important stepping stone to the Varsity Cheerleading squad next year. Their endless enthusiasm practice and determination will pay off in future years. The girl's support at times goes unnoticed, but the teams and fans appreciate the hard work and determination throughout the year. Co-Captains Michelle Fenstamaker and Debbie Harrington provided the leadership for the squad while each member of the group showed the same elevated level of school spirit at every athletic event. This talented group of young ladies will bring spirit to every event they cheer at in the years to come.

Freshmen Cheerleaders: Cheering Onto Victory

The 1986 Freshman Cheerleading Squad could be described as eager to learn and enthusiastic to perform. The girls showed that the spirit of Liberty High School is alive and well in the Class of '90. They not only supported the Freshmen teams, but also the Junior Varsity and Varsity teams during their encounters at Athletic field. The long, hard hours of practice the girls were willing to put in will be appreciated when they are placed on the Varsity Cheerleading Squad next year or the following year.

The squad's enthusiasm never dampened. If it were to rain, the girls would cheer even louder! The crowds never grew at the Freshmen games but the girls showed the spirit of the game to whomever came. Game after game the Hurricanes could count on the support from our Freshmen cheerleaders who appreciated the teams hard work and dedication. Likewise, the freshman sport's teams appreciated the support the cheerleaders showed for their accomplishments.

Varsity Wrestling: Maintaining Status

The 1987 Varsity Wrestling team had an outstanding season with a 13-4 record. This year's team was led by seniors Del Costan, Pete Chiakowsky, and John Callahan.

Outstanding performances were shown this year by 98 pounder, Pat Tocci and 167 pounder, Lance Morabito. Pat Tocci, a sophomore, placed first in District XI and was the N.E. Regional runner-up, losing a heartbreaking 5-4 over Brad Silimperi of Nazareth: the same wrestler who Tocci beat in district finals.

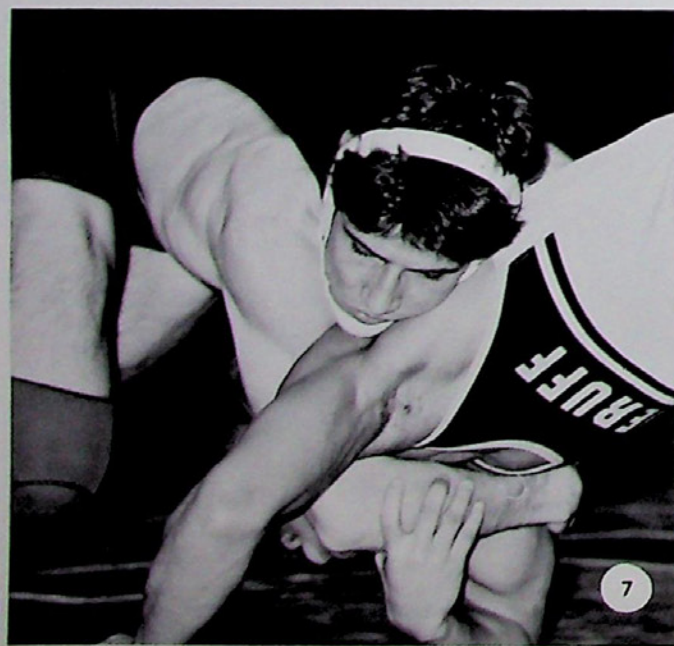

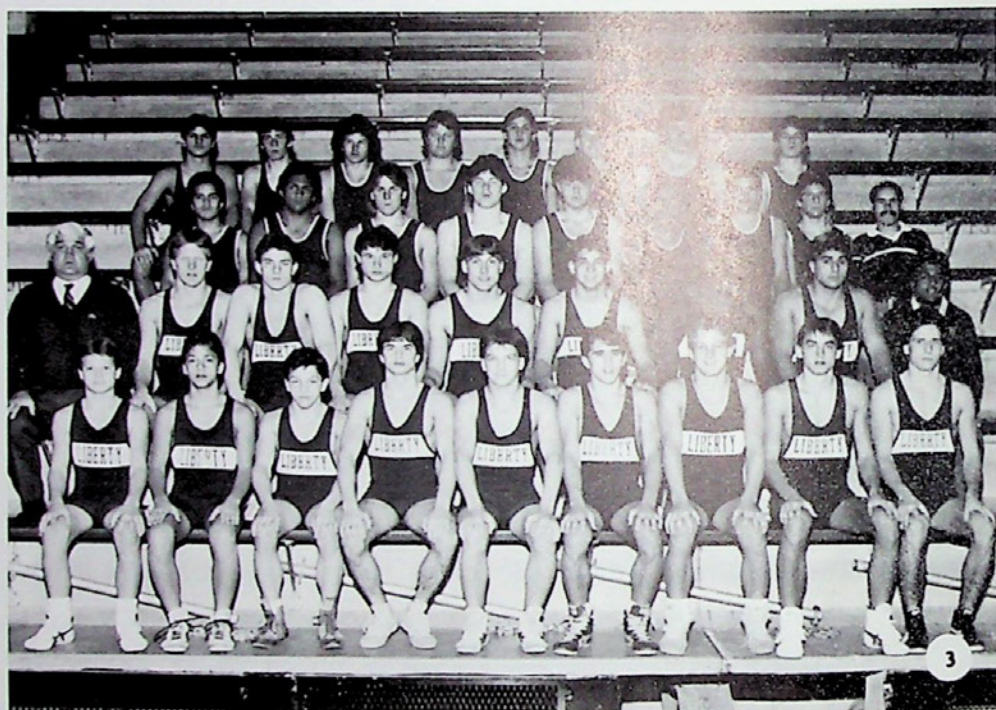

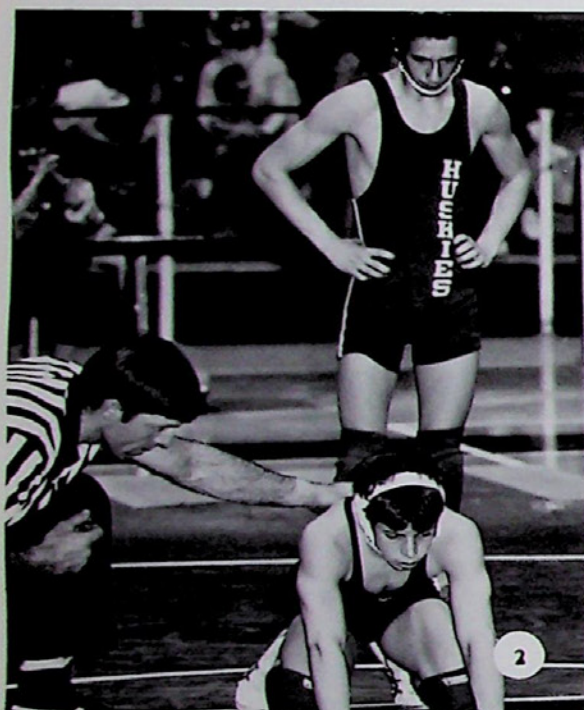

Lance Morabito, a junior, finished second in District XI and placed third in the N.E. Regional tournament.

These two grapplers then went on to state competition at Hershey, Pa. Here, Tocci placed a very respectable third place in his sophomore year.

However, the team did experience a frustrating loss involving Eric Evans who was injured and sidelined for half the season. This caused shifting within the line up which led to several loses by a very slim margin.

The Hurricane's were once again coached by Mr. Frank Gutierrez and assisted by John Maldona, Ernie Martinez, and Brian Callahan.

JV Wrestling: Building For The Future

The 1987 Hurricane Junior Varsity Wrestling Team had a fairly good year. Their record was not as good as last years, but they were still very competitive. These young men worked and trained very hard to achieve their individual goals. Many hours of practice after school and during school were necessary to achieve a successful record and to refine their individual basic qualities of wrestling. During the season the wrestlers had to maintain there weight so that they could wrestle. If the wrestlers did not maintain his weight he would have to lose the additional weight which means hours of exhaustive exercising in a effort to sweat the excess off.

There were several wrestlers who made a strong contribution to the team. With this skill coming at younger levels it should be rather comforting that fine years of competitive wrestling are ahead for the Liberty High School Grapplers and as enthusiastic fans as well.

As our seniors move one, we look forward to the potential the Junior Varsity Team offers as they accept the challenge to equal or better the record of this year's Varsity.

Frosh Wrestling: Working Toward Next Year

This years Liberty High School Freshman Wrestling Team worked quite different than in past years. They competed not really as a team but on a more individual basis. This was due to the lack of membership.

These young men gained experience at the Liberty High School Wrestling matches, representing their school well. The younger members of this Liberty organization learned the fundamentals of the sport of wrestling and good sportsmanship from the older, more experienced junior varsity and varsity wrestlers.

The Freshman wrestlers worked out and practiced with the junior varsity and the varsity teams. They provided support and team spirit at wrestling meets, especially at District XI Championships and Regionals, both held at the Liberty

High School Memorial Gymnasium.

Hurricane Wrestling head coach Mr. Francis Guterrez hopes to have an expanded number of wrestlers for next season. It is of extreme importance for the younger wrestlers to gain the experience they do in their early years at Liberty High School in order to maintain the high standard of wrestling Liberty High has seen in previous years. Coach Guterrez feels that with more athletes out for wrestling it will not only strengthen the team, but this program as well next year. Next year holds to be a promising season for these young men.

Varsity Boys Basketball: "The Dream Team"

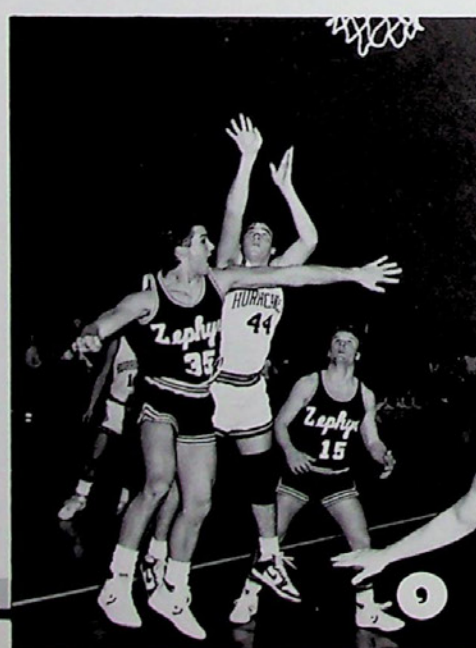

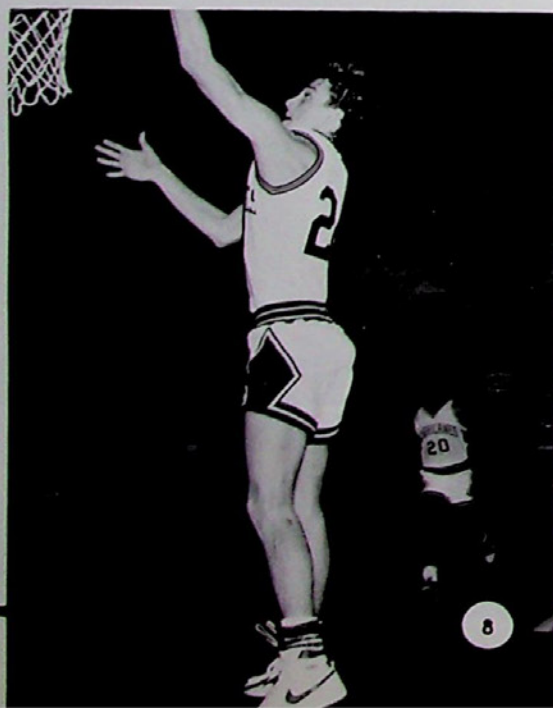

The 1986-87 Varsity Boys' Basketball team had a very exciting and successful season this year by capturing the District XI Championship. This was the first time Liberty received such an honor in 25 years. This year was also full of several highlights for the individual members, who received many recognitions. Warren West, Mike Pron, and Mike Delgrosso were LARC All-Stars. Warren West represented Liberty by being the EPL All-Star. He also ended the season on a high note by being the all time high scorer at Liberty, shooting over 1,000 points. Mike Delgrosso was the Bethlehem Globe Times Athlete of the Week. Liberty was fortunate enough to have three EPL MVP's, Mike Pron, Mike Delgrosso and Lock Jennings.

All of the team's success would not have been possible if it wasn't for the dedicated group of young men who were under the supervision of coach Richie Wescoe. With his help, these people brought the pride back to Liberty and exemplified to everyone, especially the young J.V. team that a little hard work and dedication goes a long way!

The team certainly achieved its goal this year. Overall, the team had 17 wins, 11 losses and finished fifth in the EPL. It was a very rewarding season.

Junior Varsity: Looking To The Future

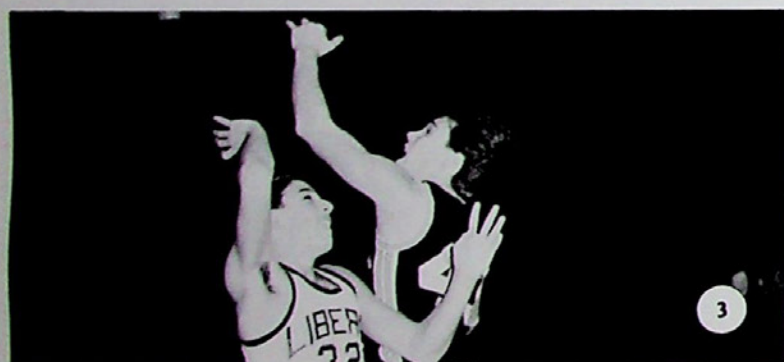

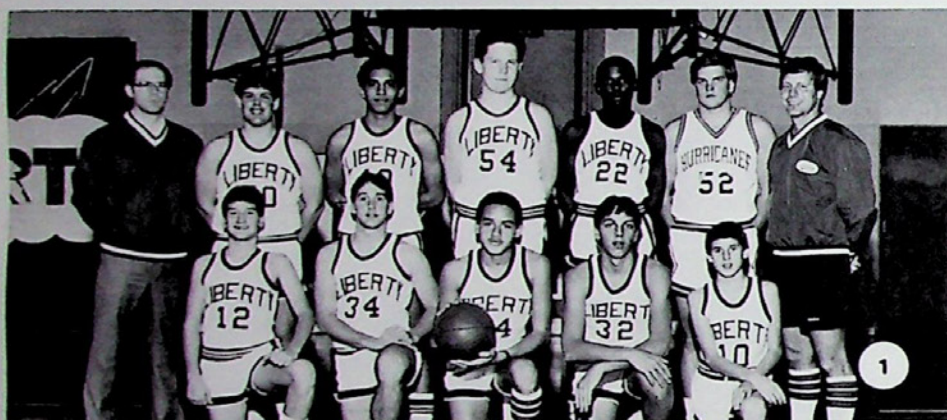

The Boys' Junior Varsity Basketball team had an exceptionally well-played season with several highlights and low points in the 1986-87 school year. Some of the team's accomplishments included victories over the two neighboring city rivals of Freedom High School and Bethlehem Catholic High School. In the second half of the winter sports season, the team recovered from their first half losses over top-rated Allentown, Central Catholic, and Easton to bring home three honorable victories.

The first half of the season was quite difficult for this young team because of the lack of experience and inconsistency among the team members. One disappointing loss was over Northampton; Liberty fell to a 40-42 loss even after overtime play. However, with the team maturing, putting more effort in practices, and gaining more experience with every game, the J.V.'s exertions resulted in noticeable success. By applying more energy and spirit to the second half of the season, the team ended its season on a high note by winning six of their last nine games. Liberty's 60-38 win over Freedom verifies the team's improvement.

This ten member team was under the supervision of head coach, Mr. Charles McGarvey, and his assistant coach, Mr. Bruce Sigmon. This year's team was ranked sixth in the East Penn League and finished the season with eleven victories and eleven defeats. With all the members returning next year, perhaps all of the skill and knowledge acquired this season will help make next year's Junior Varsity team and Varsity team even more successful.

Freshman Basketball: A Winning Style

The 1986-87 Liberty High School Freshman Boys' Basketball team completed another successful season. This was a very diversified squad with many skilled youths coming from a variety of backgrounds and performance levels. There were several key players making notable contributions to this year's endeavors, such as: Judd Frank and Doug Brock.

Success was not only measured by the team's score but also by individual growth, for it is in the Freshman year that a group of individuals who come from several different schools must first develop a mastery of basic skills and then unite as a team. This is no easy task because much of their previous experience has been gained in competition against each other.

Whether at home or away, the team enjoyed the challenge of the game and played with a lot of enthusiasm, however they received a minimum of school or community support, for most freshman games are played in the afternoon before the Junior Varsity and Varsity games, which means most Liberty fans wait until after dinner to come out and see the two older squads.

Hopefully, the Freshman will continue to mature into the game and be ready to move into openings as the current Junior Varsity moves on. Someday these young men will have a chance to create their own "Dream Team."

Girls' Varsity Basketball: Building Skills

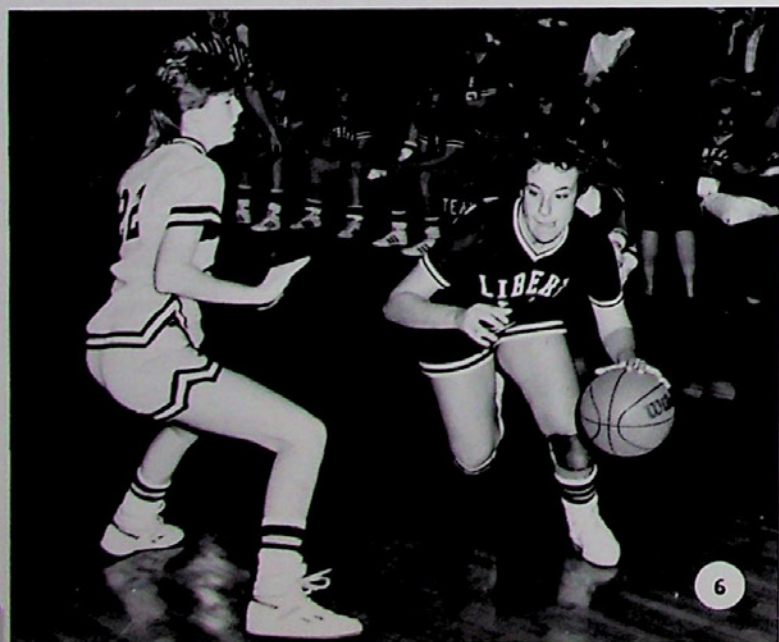

Although led by a new coach, Mr. John Tone, who greeted his team with plenty of enthusiasm, the fortunes of the game did not parallel the enthusiasm and aspirations of the girls' basketball team. While several individuals had good nights, the team was unfortunately unable to capitalize upon those moments and garner a victory.

As a result, the positives of this year's season can best be measured in the growth and performance of individuals. Several players achieved personal bests during the season. In so doing, they were able to gain some notoriety for themselves and a program that has not yet come into fruition.

We look forward to next year as the team and coaching staff merge into a more competitive force, one that will gain the respect of the East Penn League and reward all the time and effort that the players and coaches have put into it. Maybe then Girls' Basketball at Liberty will finally gain the support and approval of the student body. Surely the frustration of playing to nearly an empty Memorial Gym has taken its toll of the Lady 'Canes on more than one occasion. While we can do nothing to correct this past season, there is plenty each and every one of us can do for the next.

Junior Varsity Girls: Growing Together

The Hurricane Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball team had a tough time with the 1986-87 season. The girls worked very hard in spite of their 4-14 record. They showed superb skill on the court. Coach Patrice Goldon, was very pleased with the teams efforts and has great hope for the many returning freshman players.

Burnadette Whitehurst and Lisa Manckes techniques helped to boost the team's moral and performance. In spite of having few spectators they did a job well done. Next year the team and coaching staff hope to see many more fans come to see them play.

The Junior Varsity struggled against their opposition, coming out on the short end of the score in most contests. That the basically young squad was learning its collective lessons became obvious as the season progressed and the team began to cut down the opposition's margin of victory and their own rate of turnovers. Unfortunately, that improvement couldn't get Liberty many wins.

Though the Junior Varsity Girls Basketball Team had few wins, they should be commended for their spirit and enthusiasm on the court.

Boys' Swimming: Splashes To Winning Season

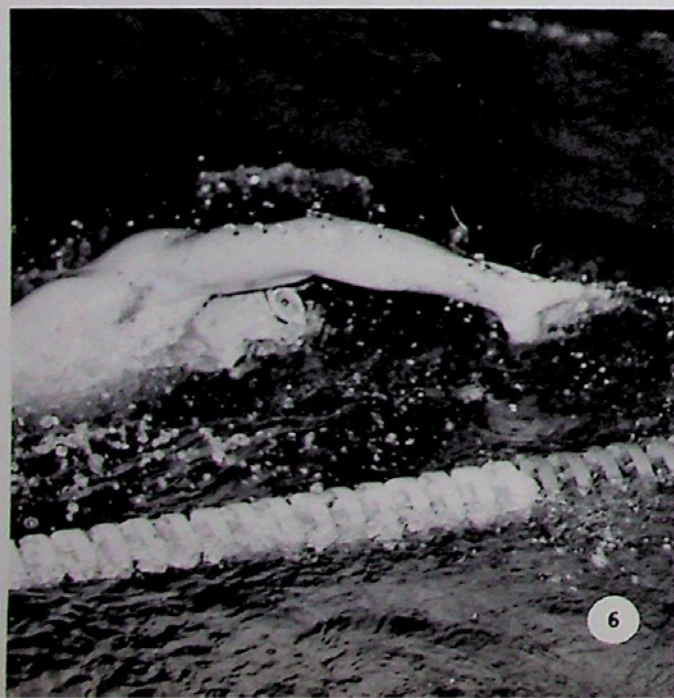

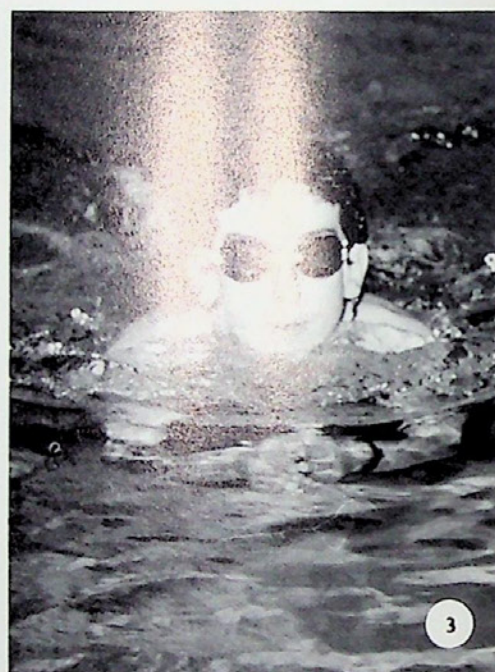

The 1986-87 Boys' Swimming Team ended this season with a 8-4-3 record. More impressive, however, was the surprising fourth place overall team finish at Districts, among the thirteen teams present. Strong individual performances were turned in by the all-star medley relay squad consisting of Dave Danner, Jamie Oberman, Neil Szanyi and Marty Zug which swam to a second place finish with a time of 1:44.22, just .4 seconds shy of the state qualifying time. Oberman also swam his best time of the year in the 100-yard backstroke, as did Marty Zug in the 100-yard breaststroke; Clarence Hirst and Brad Reinhold in the free relay and Scott Snyder in the 100-yard backstroke.

Most impressive were the performances of Danner and Szanyi, who, among them, acquired five medals. Danner swam his way to a third place finish in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:04.44, which broke the school record in this event. Szanyi won the 100-yard butterfly, which qualified him for States in March. He also acquired a third place medal for his performance in the 50-yard freestyle.

Diver Mike Wisser also had a very successful season. He achieved an all-star ranking, was third place at Districts, and finished seventeenth at States with a combined score of 157.55.

Girls' Swimming: A Rebuilding Year

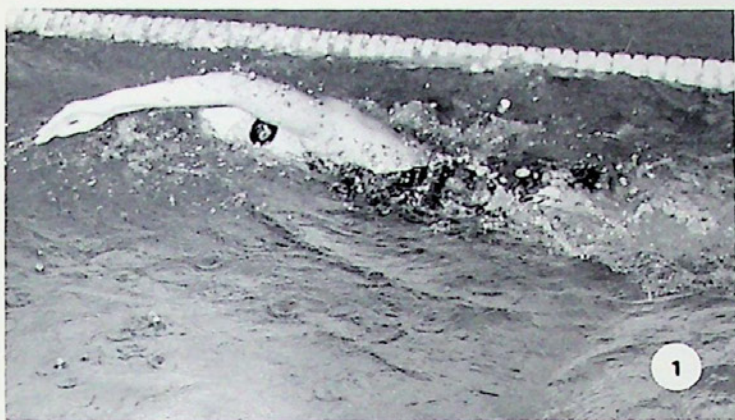

The 1986-87 Liberty High School Girls' Swim Team had a very commendable season, placing fifth out of 12 at the District XI Swimming Championships in February. The team record for the season was not as impressive, but many personal bests were reached.

Coaches Mark Ferguson and Dave Seeloff worked on strengthening the team effort this year. Many underclassmen showed extreme talent. Bryn Sayenga, a sophomore and first year Liberty High School swimmer, was a welcome addition to the team. She placed third in the 100-yard breaststroke, breaking her own personal record. Other impressive performances were put in by Jennifer Saraceno, Megan Phillips, Joan Kline, Lynn Kaufman and freshman Rebecca Bergman.

The only graduating member of the Girls' Swim Team was Rebecca Little. She has been a strong member of the team since her freshman year, attending the PIAA State Swimming Championships all four years. This past Championships, she swam her personal best in the 100-yard butterfly, a 59.04. Little was the 100-yard butterfly champion all four years at the District level.

Gymnastics: Vaulting To New High

The 1986-87 edition of the Girls' Gymnastics team produced their best season to date. Played in the Old Gym, gymnastic's competitions are performed in front of little or no audience which is somewhat frustrating as the members of the squad put in many hours preparing for this rather arduous sport. This is no fault of the team as they offered their competition many anxious moments, but rather the result of the limited physical plant that houses this squad.

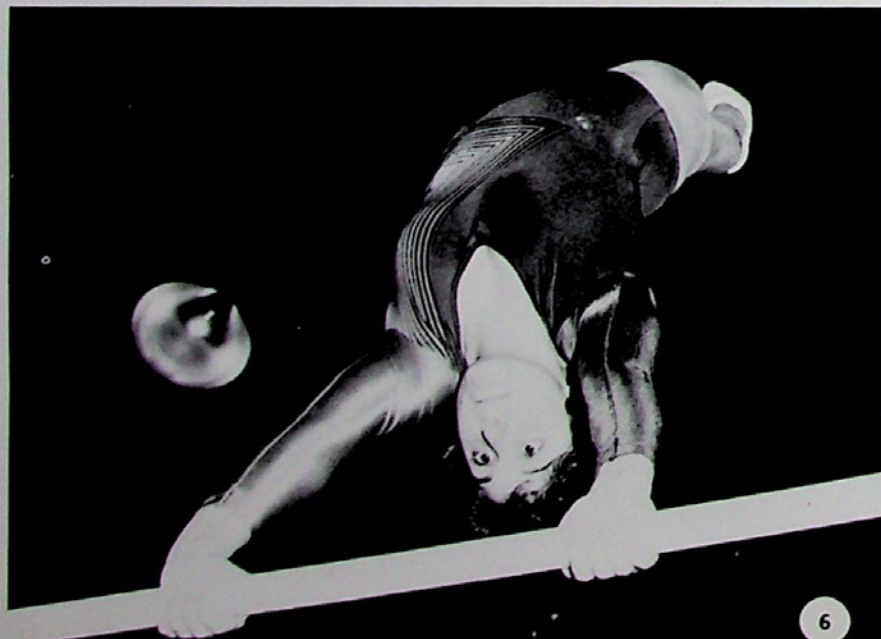

Conditioning is a primary characteristic of this sport. Without the proper conditioning and maintainance of muscle tone, serious injuries could set in which would not only affect individuals but the overall team as well.

The comraderie encouraged by Coach Janice McKellin has been most effective in strengthening the team. Frequently girls would spend time aiding and encouraging fellow squad members. This year's unit was very team conscious and usually placed the squad before themselves which is not always easy to do when competition is based on an individual performance.

Co-Captains Amy Grubbs and Abbey Jones were not only strong in the leadership department but effective in individual competition as well. While seniors are always missed, we look forward to new blood bringing in new depth.

Rifle Team: Undeclared Again

Once again, the Rifle team of Liberty High School has proven itself to be the best in the East Penn League by completing another undefeated season. Although the nature of the sport does not allow for or encourage an audience, their undefeated record for the last two years is certainly a feat all Liberty students can be proud of.

Considerable skill, both mental and physical, is important for success in this activity. Coordination as well as the ability to perform under pressure affect one's opportunity for success in the art of riflery.

While this is a sport that places great emphasis on the individual, it is obvious that without the depth a strong, competitive program, we would not have experienced the notable success that has become associated with marksmanship at Liberty.

Chess Team: Meeting Mental Demands

The game of chess may seem to be slow moving and lacking in action, but in a very special way, chess provides a challenge unique to all sports. It forces the players of the game to anticipate in advance, their moves as well as the moves of their opponents. Through anticipation is an integral part of any sport, it takes on a tremendous amount of significance in chess. Reliance on physical strength is obviously very secondary, but mental exertion is at its peak. In some contests, physical response to an opponent's moves can make up for a mental miscalculation. In chess, such a miscalculation cannot be compensated for.

The Chess team, under the direction of Mr. Richard Hafner, had an impressive school record of 7-3-1. Although they were the only team to beat the chess league champions, Southern Lehigh, they finished third in the East Penn Jersey Chess League. First place went to Allen, which was one point ahead of Liberty's team. Out of the 76 competing players, individual trophies were awarded to three Liberty players: Johnathan Flesher, 12th Place, Brian Ebert, 11th Place, and Peter Spillman, an outstanding 3rd Place. These accomplishments by the Liberty students encouraged many other students to learn to play the game of Chess.

Freshmen: Finding Their Way

This year, the Freshman Class learned the value and price of maturity. They were exposed to the senior class, which has been a building block for Liberty High; the junior class, which has had many responsibilities, such as the junior-senior prom; and the sophomore class, which has had the most recent experience as a freshman class. Although they did not elect officers until the end of the year, their advisors, Mrs. Carolyn Roman and Mrs. Joyce Berkenstock, worked hard toward future fund raising ideas. They look forward to the 1989 prom, their class gift, and graduation of 1990.

Also this year at the Liberty homecoming pep rally, the Class of 1990 showed incredible spirit as they came in a very close second to the senior class. They prepared long before the big day with their afterschool efforts being rewarded on the gymnasium floor that afternoon. The Freshman Homecoming Hall was also a great show of imagination and hard work on the part of the advisors and their volunteers. The hall also finished second to, again, the seniors.

The advisors and students will work hard in the future to make this class one of the best classes that Liberty High School has ever seen. Hopefully as these two groups grow together they will develop a bond to be proud of.

1. Welcome to our school! 2. The look says it all for Jay Hayes. 3. Charles Roe plays his heart out. 4. Mrs. Berkenstock gives homecoming balloons to her new class. 5. Brian Douglas participates in freshman football. 6. David Zettlemoyer plays harmony on his sousaphone. 7. The Freshmen struggle to even the tug-of-war. 8. Rich Cosner shows the early morning fatigue of Color Guard practice. 9. Jose Vasquez, Julio Lopez and Karen Giter celebrate a freshmen victory.

Sophomores: Enjoying Their Status

"Fun in the Sun" was a composite of this year's Sophomore Class theme. With the sale of beach towels they started on their way towards the 1988 prom and graduation. The very capable advisors, Mrs. Joan Brong and Mrs. Lois Pinto, were enthusiastic about the sale and were hoping that the class would be able to raise enough to meet their financial commitments.

The student leaders of the Class of 1989 look forward to all the trials and tribulations ahead of them, including the planning of the prom, the inventing of the class gift, and the eventful graduation. Their enthusiastic leaders were: Patrick Tocci, president; Gretchen Brown, vice-president; Michelle Neifert, secretary; and Scott Redding, treasurer. Being elected during their freshman year, they maintained office throughout their sophomore year.

By now, the sophomores have become an intrinsic unit of the student body. They participated in athletics as well as academic activities. Some were involved in band, some in baseball, and some in student government. As they are getting older they are becoming more deeply involved in offering a positive contribution to Liberty. As such, they no longer see themselves as members of the lowest class but as a group capable of assuming an influential role.

1. Andy Thear takes a nap before a football game. 2. Looks like Tammy Munn has the same idea. 3. The Sophomores "dance" their way on to another victory. 4. Celebrating is the Sophomore Class. 5. Vicki Timms, Heather Smith, and Lisa Wolf study in an unusual way for an up coming test. 6. Wendy Unger and Gina Rivera put a fresh coat of make-up on. 7. Mario Traca and Brett Yarsevich enjoy chemistry labs. 8. Rich Solado does some afterschool skateboarding. 9. Hope Zeiger and Rhonda Wolfe sing 'til the cows come home.

Juniors: Prom Preparations Innovated

The 1986-87 school year was a busy one for the Class of 1988. The juniors were headed by president William Alexander and vice-president Beth Ann Schultz. Margret Oberman acted as secretary and Marie Lewars was the treasurer. Their advisors were Mrs. Lillian Manfred and Miss Kathleen Rich.

The class started off the year with a spirit sale. Ball-point pens, towels, mugs, key chains, and seat cushions were sold before and after school. An even better market was found at football games.

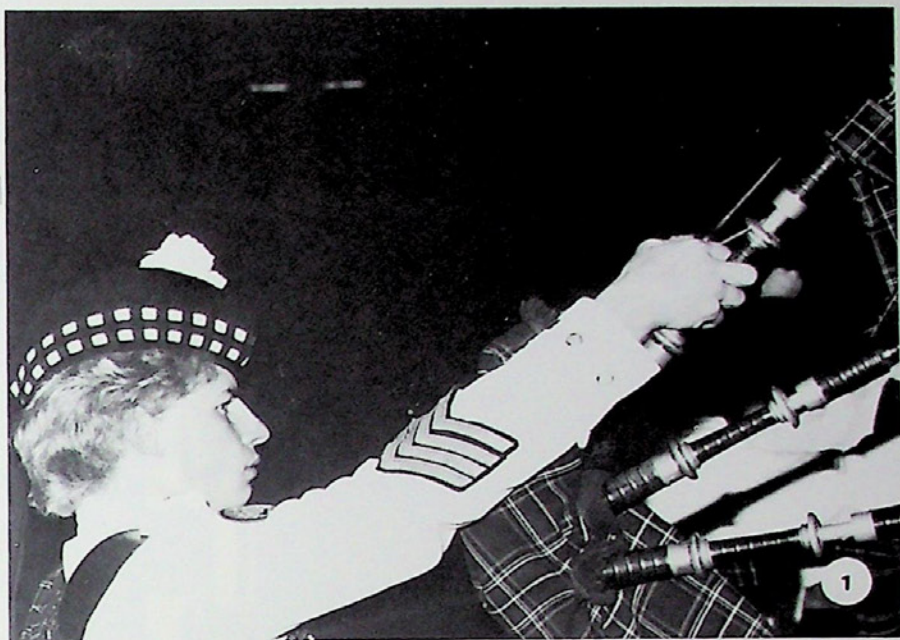

The juniors helped to raise spirit at homecoming with hall decorating. They brightened up the lobby area on the bottom floor of the Commons Building with the theme "Mickey Mouse Salutes Liberty". Many of the juniors put a lot of effort into the hall, and they also made a good showing in "Battle of the Classes."

Around Christmas time, the juniors sold wrapping paper and decorator bows. In the spring, they sold Easter candy. These sales were to help fund the annual Junior-Senior Prom, held at the Sheraton-Jetport rather than the Hotel Bethlehem.

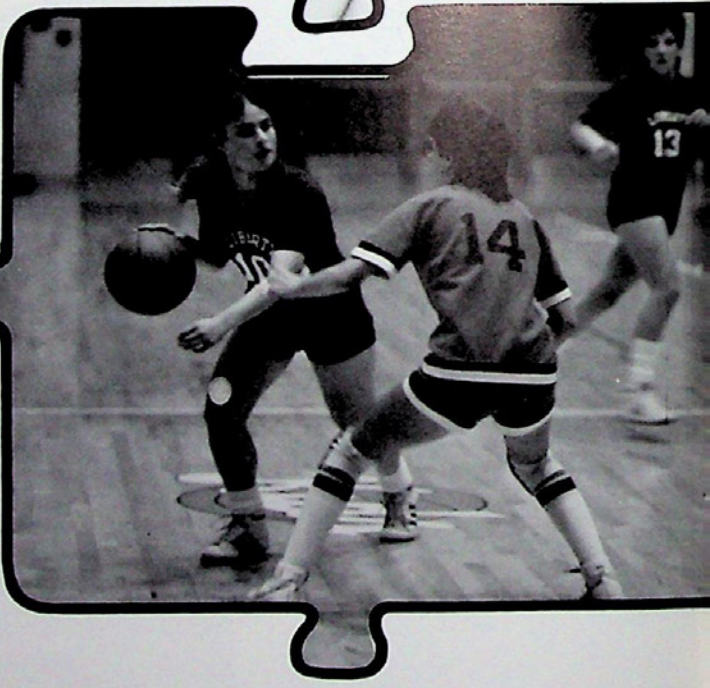

All these events made this year a memorable one for both the juniors and seniors.

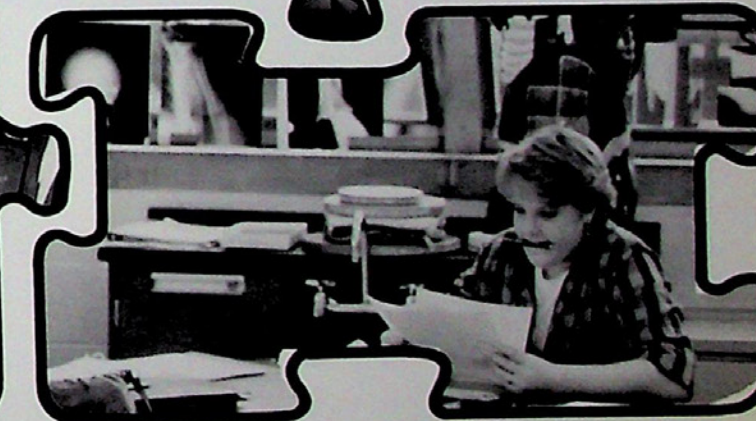

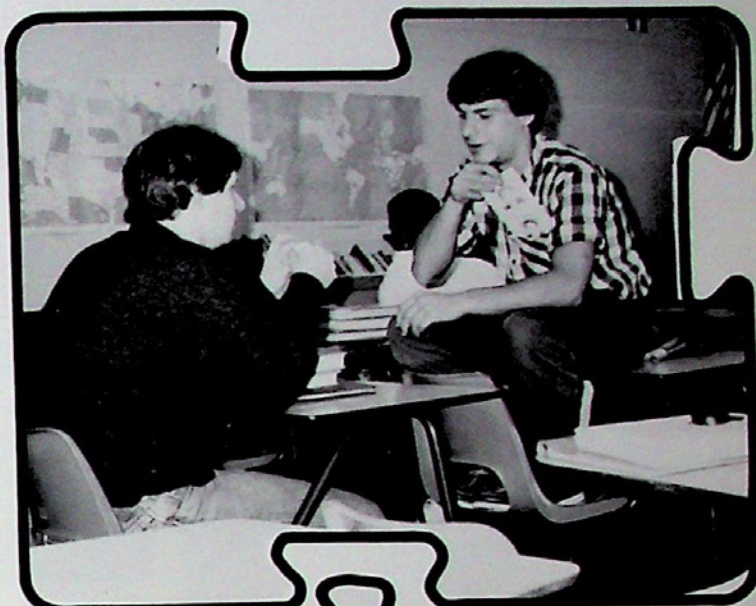

1. Mark Phillips salutes during the National Anthem. 2. Shawn Glancy says "Hi" to one and all. 3. The Junior Class does some celebrating of its own. 4. Dan Jani plays a familiar tune. 5. Tom Kipe makes plans for his class ring. 6. The unusual cheerleaders were Bill Alexander and Chris Contakes. 7. Jill Martin is helped by Becky Fair while Joann Villani looks on. 8. Kris Hudak, one of the local photographers, is caught by surprise. 9. Morning band is about all that Amy Rogers can take.

Four years ago the Class of 1987 entered Liberty as a group of scared, apprehensive individuals. Throughout these four years we have made friends to last a lifetime and learned to express ourselves through our activities. We have assembled the puzzle of the Class of '87 and come together as a whole, yet maintaining our own individuality.

Advice To Future Seniors

Never, ever go to Study Hall . . . Go to Student Privilege, Young Writer, Liberty Life, Cauldron, etc . . . anywhere but the Study Hall

Do minimum studying for exams-they're not worth the effort

Take all your swimings in 9th grade

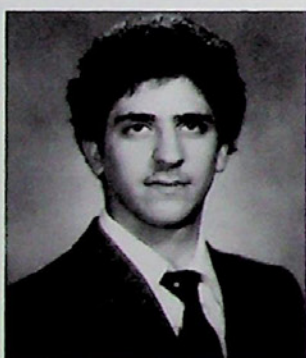

Avoid the Cafeteria at all costs

Always wear clean underwear in case you hurt yourself in gym class and have to go to the hospital

What Would You Change About L.H.S.?

Put doors on the bathrooms

Have soda machines in the Cafeteria

Make school start at noon

Replace exams with an all-school football game

Pick your own teachers

Have Honors Government taught by a different guest star each week

Open the patio

After Graduation I Would Like To ...

Go into fashion merchandising
Continue my education
Bike across the U.S.
Fly to Nepal and live in a Buddhist Monastery, leading to a campaign for the U.S. Senate
Make lots of money and drive a Saab
Be a Computer Engineer
Compete for and win the title of Mr. Olympia
1990
Become Chief Justice of the Supreme Court
Go into the Service
Be a sheepherder
Go to Business School
Be a Doctor

When trying to decide the legacy of the class of 1987, many things come to mind. There were many successes for the class, including the 1986 Junior-Senior Prom, possibly the last to be held at the Hotel Bethlehem. The class has been the winners of the Hall Decorating Contest for the past three years, the entire history of the contest. The class has also met with some controversy because of its decision to use Stabler Arena for Graduation. The class of 1987 has had many ups and downs during their sojourn at Liberty, all adding up to a unique and enigmatic class.

Now the pieces of the puzzle of our class will break up and scatter, but one thing will bind us together forever-our memories. We hope this yearbook has brought back some of the memories of the past 12 years and will help to retain them forever. Let the memories of our four-year stay at Liberty remain in your mind as a fragmented image brought forth and solved in this yearbook. Good luck in putting together the puzzle of your own lives; you're special, special people.

With Mr. Thomas Dolusio resigning as principal of Liberty High School and accepting the prestigious post of superintendent of the Bethlehem School District, Mr. Anthony Ruggiero was awarded the position of principal. Mr. Ruggiero was enthusiastic about his new post and worked hard to make Liberty the best it could be.

1. Mr. Ruggiero looks up to be caught by the camera. 2. Dr. Bristol discusses the curriculum with our principal. 3. Mrs. Whitcomb confers with Mr. Ruggiero on school business over lunch. 4. The popular Ruggiero smile.

Mr. Anthony Ruggiero

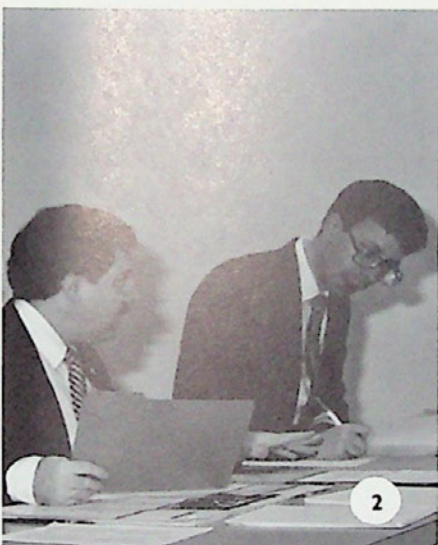

Assistant principals Mr. Edwin Abel, Jr. and Mrs. Roberta Whitcomb performed important roles at Liberty High School. Mr. Abel dealt with disciplinary problems and introduced a new attendance policy.

Mrs. Whitcomb who acted as assistant principal of academics helped students with selection of their courses. The students and staff of Liberty appreciated their aid and support.

1. Mr. Abel discusses school business. 2. Mr. Abel tells Mr. Temlin about the attendance policy. 3. Mr. Abel fulfills his duty as the twelfth man. 4. Mrs. Whitcomb gives a relaxing smile.

Helping plan schedules, electing courses, and listening to students are the Guidance team's many concerns. They take care of employment opportunities, aiding students in college placement, and showing the availability of scholarship opportunities.

Often being overlooked, the school nurses make the school function more smoothly and easily. They should be commended for their fine job. They take care of physicals, ill students, and Gym accidents. Without the help and care of these people, the students would suffer.

The English Department of Liberty High School, under the direction of Mrs. Sally Campbell, has provided a quality education for all students from grade nine basic to twelve honors. The curriculum included everyday grammar, the realistic novel, the adventure novel, poetry, and the Shakespearean period. Other options to English class were the popular journalism and creative writing classes as well as offerings in dramatics.

1. Mrs. Amigo is always there to lend a helping hand.

Liberty High School would not have been the smooth running and efficient organization that it was without the help of our Office Staff. The secretaries provided both students and faculty with daily bulletins and acted as sources of information. They handled lost and found gloves and mittens, kept financial records for the school and classes, set appointments for the principals, over saw attendance records, and saved teachers time by copying worksheets and tests. Liberty High School was very fortunate to have such a skilled and outstanding group of individuals who greatly aided in the functioning of Liberty High School.

Often overlooked is the Custodial Staff of Liberty High School. Students and faculty were always welcomed by a clean building which was not always left in the same condition at 2:40. In addition to cleaning the building, they also helped to unjam lockers, open the school buildings, and dispensed the trash of the day. The task of maintaining such a large complex is not very easy, and we the students of Liberty High School would like to thank the custodial staff for all of their hard work and effort to provide a more pleasant atmosphere at Liberty.

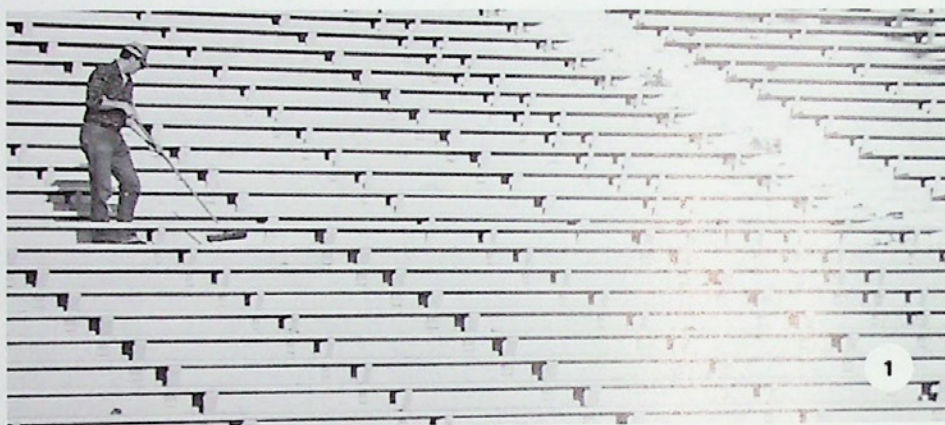

1. Cleaning up the confetti of a passed game. 2. Mr. John Lees and Mr. Gomer Howard guard the tray return. 3. The custodial staff helps set up the orchestra pit. 4. Ricardo Solivan intently watches the Homecoming activities. 5. The custodians show off their workmanship skills.

The cafeteria staff of Liberty High School played a very important part of every student's day at school. They never failed to have food ready for the first lunch period of the day, at eleven o'clock. They helped to satisfy the appetites of over 2,000 hungry students. Students who had morning cafeteria study halls saw that the staff began working first period to get food prepared, then they worked the rest of the day to get the kitchen sanitary and sparkling clean.

This year, the cafeteria staff worked very hard in planning the menus. This was in conjunction with the cafeteria committee of student government. With this new collaboration, the students got the benefit of a milkshake and sundae machine. One constant platter throughout the week was added. There was a noticed improvement in the atmosphere and the food in the cafeteria this past year.
