

Fish, Bill

Former Globe-Times
Ad. Man Home on Visit

"Bill" Fish, former employe of the Globe-Times in the advertising department, blew in to the office today looking fit as a fiddle. He's in the Army now; in fact, he has been in service since November of 1940. "Bill" was the second man of the Globe-Times force to go into the Army.

APR 2 1943
Actually he is a corporal but he's not wearing his stripes at present because he has come home from overseas to attend anti-aircraft school at Fort Monroe, Va.
