

Tulba, John

Trained as an expert airplane mechanic, and qualified to service and maintain the United Nations' huge B-24 Liberator bombers; Pvt. John Tulba, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tulba, 1615 Columbia Street, will be graduated March 14 from Keesler Field's Army Air Forces Technical Training Command School.

MAR 11 1943

Now ready for the important job of keeping Allied planes in good flying condition, Pvt. Tulba and other members of the graduating class soon will be assigned to tactical units for active duty "on the line." In school they were trained in B-24 maintenance, structures, hydraulic systems, fuel systems, engines, electrical systems, instruments, propellers and inspection.

March 11, 1943