

Hippensteal, Doris

Girls From Area End Boot Training

JUL 1 1944

Two Northampton County girls have completed their basic training and indoctrination course at the Naval Training School, The Bronx, New York. They are S. 2-c. Madge Proffitt and S. 2-c. Doris Hippensteal, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Falleigh, 509 West Pennsylvania Avenue, Pen Argyl, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hippensteal, 328 Franklin Street, Bethlehem, respectively.

Miss Hippensteal will be further instructed at the National Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Maryland. She attended Holy Ghost Parochial School and Liberty High School and was employed with the Colonial Grill, Broad and Main Streets, Bethlehem, as a waitress prior to enlisting in the service. A brother, Pvt. Paul Hippensteal, is stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla. She was also a member of the T.D.D. sorority.

Miss Proffitt is a graduate of Pen Argyl High School and was employed by the Bangor Mills, Inc., Pen Argyl, prior to enlisting. She has a brother in the Navy. She will complete her instruction at Hunter College Cooks and Bakers School.
