

Pharmacist's Mate

U. S. NAVAL AIR STATION, New Orleans, La.—(Special to the Globe-Times)—Anna Pundiak, 21-year-old WAVE from Hellertown, Pa., has been promoted from hospital apprentice second class to pharmacist's mate third class here. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pantelemon Pundia, 1129 Furnace Street, Hellertown, she joined the WAVES last July. After training at the Naval Hospital at Jacksonville, Fla., she reported to this station and replaced a man as hospital corpsman in the dispensary. Commander F. M. Reeder, commanding officer of the air station, home of the Navy's Primary Flight Instructors School, declared "WAVE Pundiak is an example of the fine young American womanhood that has responded to the call from a nation at war. She not only relieved a man for sea duty but is filling his job in an outstanding manner." She attended Bethlehem High School and was employed at Laros Textiles, Inc., before joining the WAVES.
