Since before I even knew when a City Council meeting was Willie has been doing the work. The work of being out in our community. The work of not only talking about issues at the surface level but understanding the nuance of the decisions we make. The work of coming up with creative legislative and policy solutions to better our city and local government. As someone who has served with Willie, and more importantly as someone who plans on being right here for decades more, I am happy to support him as our next mayor. Remember to vote on May 18.
