

Chaikowsky Jr., Nicholas

John

Boris

Declared Dead

DEC 2 1945

NICHOLAS CHAIKOWSKY JR.

Local Sailor, Missing Year, Officially Dead

Nicholas Chaikowsky Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Chaikowsky, 1537 East Fourth St., has been pronounced officially dead by the Navy Department after being missing in the Asiatic area since November 3, 1944.

Nicholas, who was a water tender first class, was aboard the U. S. S. Reno on the night of November 3, when they were attacked by a Japanese submarine torpedo. The ship was severely damaged with the loss of many men.

A graduate of Bethlehem Technical High School, he was an instructor for the Brodhead recreational center. He was employed in the Central Tool Department of Bethlehem Steel Company and was a member of St. Nicholas Russian Orthodox Church and choir.

He is survived by his parents and the following sisters and brothers: Jane, Sonya, Lydia, Vera Krah, Violet Tomolovski, Peter, William, John (U. S. Navy, stationed in the Philadelphia Navy Yard), and Boris (U. S. Navy, stationed in the South Pacific).

Memorial services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. in St. Nicholas Russian Orthodox Church.

December 21, 1945