

Vnuk, Ray

Local Lads Army Cooks In England

Staff Sergeant Ray Vnuk, of 1143 South Twenty-third Street, Manitowoc, Wisconsin, top left, who is the Mess Sergeant, and the two first cooks, Sergeant Charles Ligouri, 31 School Street, Westerly, Rhode Island, (center) and Sergeant Joseph Mollin, of 707 East Fifth Street, this city, are seen conferring about the days menu in their mess hall in England.

Corporal Ludwig S. Krauss, 26, of 633 Twelfth Avenue, this city, who is acting first cook in the kitchen of a school for British and United States Officers somewhere in England.

Nov. 8, 1943