are the sons of Leslie Masters of Andover, N. J., and grandsons of the late Mrs. Ida King of Farmersville, with whom the boys were at home. After the death of their grandmother, the boys made their home with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller, of Farmersville.

"Jimmy" received his basic training in Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, leaving there for Colorado and later was transferred to Arizona.

Joseph received his basic training in Jefferson Barracks and, being separated from his brother, was transferred to Lowry Field in Illinois. Neither one has seen each other since.

Prior to enlistment, Jimmy was employed by the Bethlehem Steel Company and Joseph by the Green Pond Country Club.
