Red Cross Commends Lt. Cdr. I. R. M. Schultz

AT A MID-PACIFIC NAVAL BASE—Lt. Cdr. I. R. M. Schultz, of Bethlehem, Pa., formerly in charge of special welfare and recreation activities at this base, has been praised by the American Red Cross for his outstanding service in this area.

Stanton Griffis, commissioner for the Red Cross, Pacific Ocean Areas, commended Lt. Cdr. Schultz in a letter to Vice Admiral William Ward Smith, USN, Commander Service Force, Pacific Fleet.

The Red Cross executive wrote, in part:

"We wish to express the very deep appreciation of the American Red Cross for the outstanding service Lt. Cdr. Schultz has rendered in connection with our cooperative activities with the U. S. Navy. He has been understanding and helpful in all our dealings with him. We indeed appreciate the opportunity we have had to work with such an effective representative of the Commander, Service Force."

The Bethlehem Navy officer has been detached from duty here and now is serving in another area.
