

Farrell, William J.

Marine Sergeant William L. Farrell, 23, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Farrell, live at 912 High Street, is shown as he was presented the Purple Heart Medal by Marine Colonel William H. Hollingsworth at the Navy Yard, Philadelphia. Farrell was wounded in the left ankle by an enemy sniper's bullet as he led a patrol on Iwo Jima. A veteran of the Marshall Islands, Saipan and Tinian campaigns, Farrell was overseas 16 months. He has been in the Marine Corps three years.

September 20, 1945