Bethlehem Girl Rejoins Army Corps

Once a WAAC, Irene Catherine Jacobson, 23, of this city, was granted an honorable discharge when the Auxiliary Corps became an official agent of the Army of the United States.

But the lure of the service proved too strong, and so last week she was sworn in as a private of the Women's Army Corps in the Allentown office of the United States Army recruiting station in the post office building.

A graduate of Liberty High School and Bethlehem Business College, she had been employed at Bethlehem Steel Company for more than a year before her first enlistment in the corps.
