dr. bost seeks greater teacher responsibility

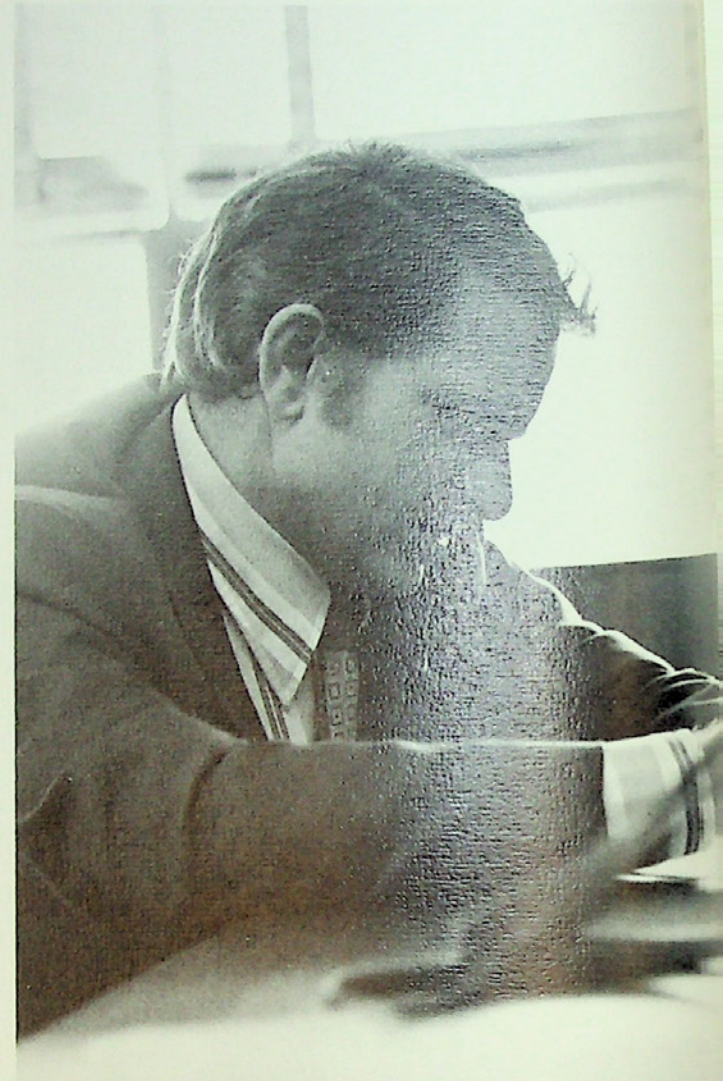

The position of Superintendent of Bethlehem Area Schools consists of varied obligations. The Superintendent must work closely with the principals and the school board, carefully supervise the expenditure of public funds, and continually seek for improvements of the curriculum.

Dr. William A. Bost, the Bethlehem Superintendent of schools, performs all of these duties and more. This school year was Dr. Bost's second in the Bethlehem Area Schools. Having worked in a number of places, he is a most knowledgeable and competent man.

His first year was devoted to restoring faith and confidence in our system. "Confidence was lost during traumatic years," Dr. Bost pointed out. He spent several months getting acquainted with the area and helping the teachers, board, and people heal the wounds. The work of his second year was guided toward putting into practice his philosophy of a school system. "I believe very deeply that individual schools, individual principals and staffs need just as much responsibility as possible. You can think of the system as an inverted triangle with the teachers at the top narrowing down to the superintendent. The principals and teachers then have more responsibility and accountability for what occurs in the school."

Another objective of the year was to pursue the development of the elementary open space schools which he thinks "are a better way of students and teachers living together."

The completion date for the Liberty complex was scheduled for July. The completed campus includes the Commons Building, Laboratory Center, Classroom Center, and the Memorial Gym, connected by modern walkways, halls, and overpasses. "It ought to be one of the finest high schools in the United States and it can be with the aid of the students and teachers."

principals anticipate completion of l.h.s. complex

In the 1971-72 school year Mr. Charles A. Klein completed his 25th year as principal of Liberty High School. For many years he worked toward realizing his aspirations of a new and modernized High School campus. As principal, Mr. Klein maintained an effective operation of school officers with the help of two assistant principals. Mr. Klein's chief duties were planning the master schedule, supervising the teachers, and forming school policy.

Mr. John C. Saunders was responsible for all aspects of curriculum management, including computer scheduling, teaching records, the data processing of report cards, and purchasing supplies. Mr. John F. Spirk attended to all matters concerning discipline, attendance, and extracurricular activities.

guidance strives for betterment of education

The aims of the guidance counselors were to aid the students in selecting courses, to deal with scheduling difficulties, and to provide vocational and personal counseling. Concerned with helping each student to attain his full potential in school and in life, the guidance office provided tutoring service for pupils who encountered scholastic difficulties and helped seniors with college applications.

The girls' guidance counselors were Mrs. Jean Hafner and Mrs. Jean Trend. The boys were counseled by Mr. John Fuhr and Mr. William Zieger. In early October, a new guidance secretary, Mrs. Mary Jones, replaced Mrs. Debra Stauffer, who took a leave of absence.

Mr. Roger Hudak/English 10

With the largest staff in the school, the English department furnished students with a knowledge of grammar, literature and composition. The department provided encouragement and motivation, and helped the students in their attempts to understand and discover themselves. Pupils were urged to develop their own thoughts and to express them lucidly.

Since education may be achieved outside as well as inside the classroom, teachers often sponsored field trips. Such activities exposed the students to cultural events, broadening their horizons and enabling them to acquire new ideas.

In addition to their regular teaching duties, members of the department supervised various literary organizations such as the newspaper, Young Writer, and the yearbook.

Traditional methods and audio-visual techniques were combined to instruct students in French, German, Latin, Spanish, and Russian. The language labs in the classroom center were completed early in the year, aiding the students in developing fluency in their language.

The first and second years were intended mainly to teach students the rudiments of the language. Those who continued their language studies acquired a greater vocabulary as well as a knowledge of literature. More advanced courses of independent studies were also offered in each language to acquaint the students with cultures of various countries.

electives offer personal enrichment

Electives consisting of courses in art, music, and English were available as a supplement to the required subjects and were provided as a means of personal enrichment.

Art courses of all levels were taught by Mr. Carl Langkamer and Miss Anita Sonnenfeld. The Fine Arts course, taught by Mr. Langkamer, provided an opportunity for people to become acquainted with different aspects of our culture. Activities of the class included ballet, theatre, sculpture, music, and sketching.

The Glee Club, Sophomore Choir, and Choraliers were under the supervision of Mr. Donald Snider, who was also responsible for the Music Appreciation and Music Theory classes. In addition to his duties as director of the band and orchestra, Mr. Ronald Sherry was responsible for individual and small group instrumental instruction.

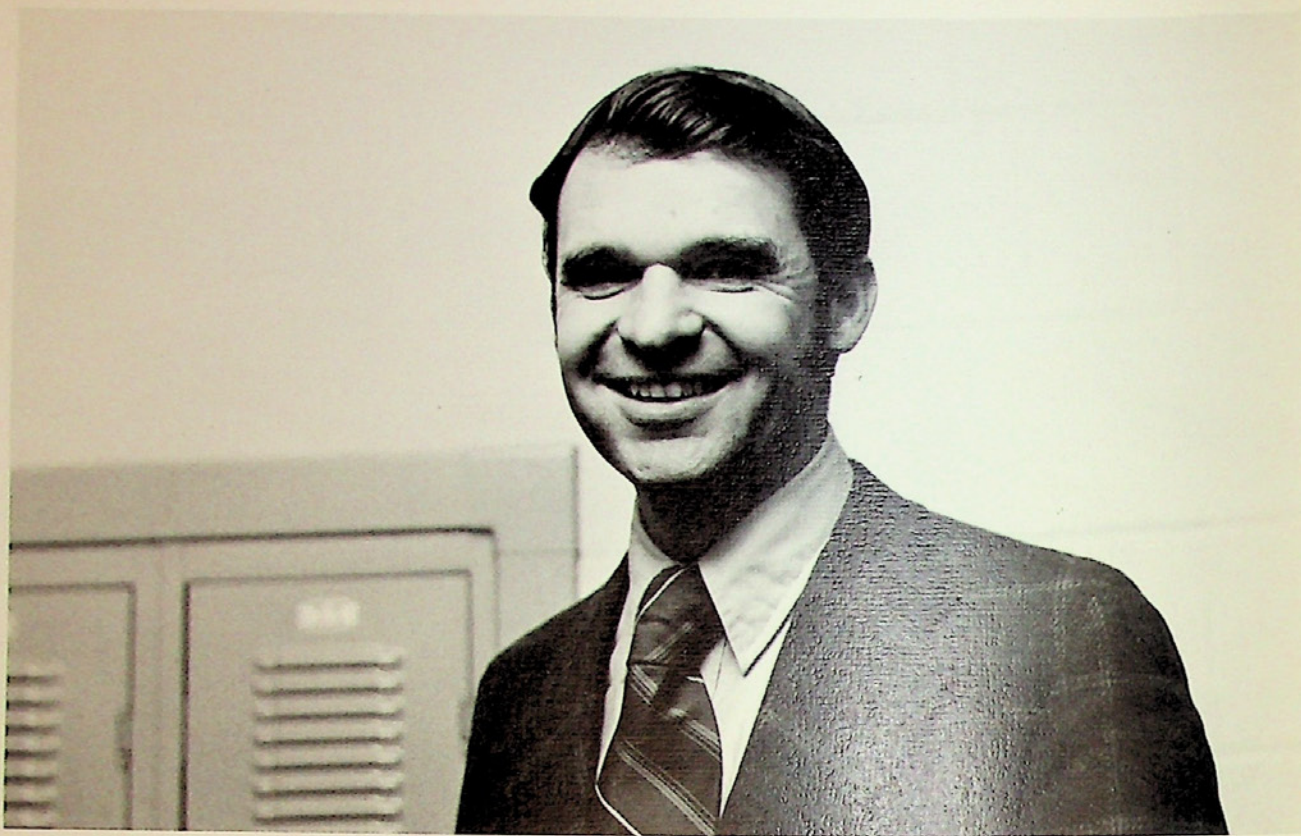

Mr. Dale Kehler instructed pupils in Public Speaking, Dramatics, and Creative Writing. The purpose of these courses was to instill in the students greater confidence and supply them with a better means of expressing themselves.

students benefit from special services

Reading, health care, and the instruction of non-English-speaking students were among the many services offered to the pupils of Liberty High School. The reading courses, taught by Mr. Bernard Fritz and Mrs. Harriet Royal, were provided for pupils who wished to improve their reading skills and comprehension. A speed reading course was also available to students who wished to increase their reading ability.

The nurse's office was efficiently run by Miss Kathryn Eckert with the aid of Mrs. Nancy Strubeck. Together they gave general physical examinations and were always available to help those in need.

A new addition to the curriculum was the course designed for the instruction of the non-English-speaking students. Mrs. Anita Amigo and Mrs. Mary Auerbach provided a lively atmosphere for these pupils.

Mr. Clark, the bookroom supervisor, handled all the affairs concerning classroom materials and the replacement of mislaid or lost books.

One of the most prominent features of the new Classroom Center was the modern library operated by Mr. Jay Schuler and his assistant Mrs. Ellen Beers. The spacious new facility was very well equipped with filmstrips, viewers, individual study carrels, and many additional books.

math department supplies the necessary requirements for further study

A challenging program was presented by the Math Department this year with the hope that students would be motivated toward greater interest in this field. Pupils in the College Preparatory Course received instruction in Geometry, Trigonometry, Algebra I, II, and III, and Statistics. More advanced students were given the opportunity to continue their studies in Calculus.

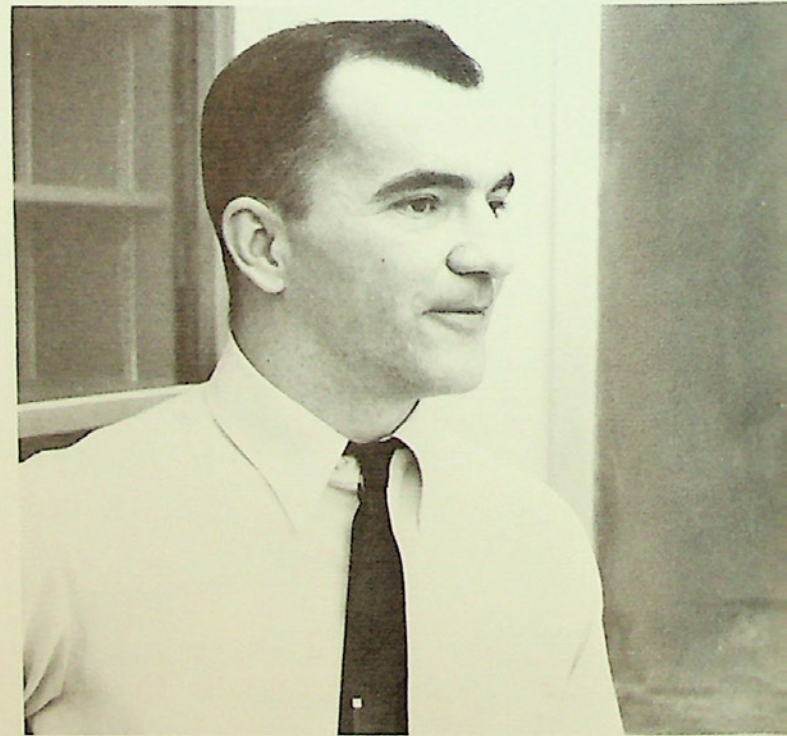

The Mathematics Department supplied an excellent background to the students, and provided pupils with many of the necessary requirements for further study.

social sciences present a diversified curriculum

The prime objective of the Social Studies Department was to attune the student's mind to world affairs of the past and present. Teachers attempted to instill in the students an awareness of the many world problems which exist. Two years of history, one being United States History, were required of each pupil. Because of this policy, a diversified selection of electives was available. Among them were World History, Government, Economics, Psychology, Urban Studies, and International Relations. The Social Sciences Department, directed by Mr. David Stewart, strove for a better understanding of our nation which led to a greater knowledge of all nations.

Upon the completion of the renovations in the lab center, the Science Department had the use of many new facilities. Mrs. Marjorie Glessner led the staff of 12 teachers, who instructed students in the use of these labs.

This year the department expanded to include many new electives. The courses offered were: Biology I and II, Physics, Chemistry, Earth Science, Nuclear Science, Ecology, and Bacteriology. In the lab sciences, students were urged to draw their own conclusions to experiments. Because of the wide selection of courses, the students were able to choose those studies which would best suit their interest and future needs.

The Business program supplied its pupils with the requisites for the Business world. Through diligent practice, they acquired a knowledge of business skills. The courses taught involved skills in recordkeeping, bookkeeping, merchandising, advertising, and typing. A special semester course was offered in academic typing for students who wished to acquire only a general knowledge of the subject. Additional courses were offered in business arithmetic, data processing, business machines, and secretarial practice. a greater sense of responsibility instilled by driver education

Mr. James Delgrosso, Mr. Harold Dudeck and Mr. Henry Kichline were the instructors of the driver training program. The course consisted of two parts: classroom theory and the actual road training. The classroom theory included facts concerning traffic regulation, safety, and insurance. Speakers and films were presented to complement the classes.

Each junior had the option of taking road training which involved applying the classroom theory to practical skill on the road. Most students began their training in the simulators, which tested the students' reaction time and ability. The combined efforts of the driver education departments of Liberty and Freedom were responsible for the completion of the driving range, where the pupil practiced road skills in a radio-controlled car.

health and fitness emphasized by physical education department

Volleyball, Swimming, Gymnastics, and Football were among the many activities presented to the students by the Physical Education Department. All students were required to participate in the classes to develop coordination, promote physical fitness, and to provide an environment in which pupils could learn to cooperate with each other. Various intramural sports were offered to the students for enjoyment and personal satisfaction of participation.

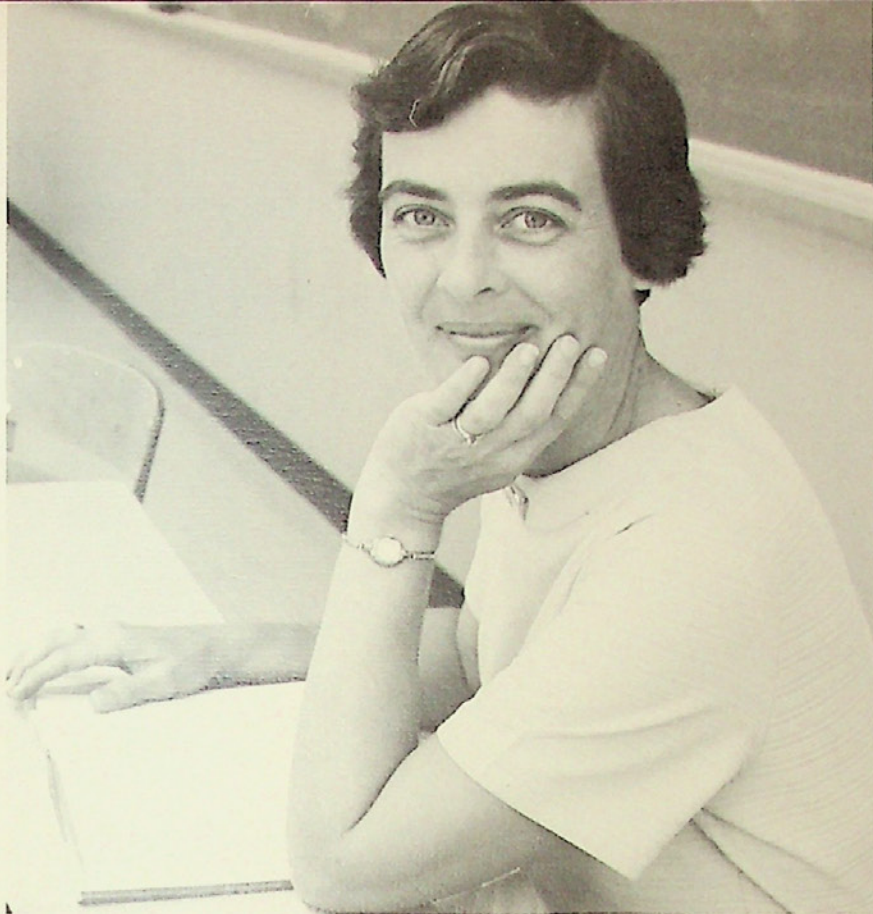

Health classes taught by the members of the Physical Education Department were also required of all sophomores to enable them to understand themselves better. The classes discussed matters of personal hygiene and different facets of mental health.

instruction offered in various trades

Industrial Arts courses were available to any student who wished to participate. Interested girls were also welcome to enroll. This was a general shop course which primarily involved working with leather and wood. However, the students were also permitted to work in other areas. Mr. Michael Fidorack, the shop instructor, was working toward an expanded program which would include a print shop and an auto shop.

Vocational and Technical students of the area attended Bethlehem Area Vocational-Technical School. Among the courses available were Auto-Mechanics, Data Processing, Drafting, Printing, Cosmetology, and Commercial Art. The program was designed to prepare the students for employment, individual occupations, and skilled trades.

students develop skills for practical living

In the occupational education program, the pupils learned basic academic subjects in school and had actual work experience in local job placements. This program enabled the students to become self-supporting and self-directing members of the community and aided them in choosing an occupational field. Instructors of the 3-year program were Mr. Robert Kishbaugh, Mrs. Nancy Rentko, and Mr. Constantine Loupos.

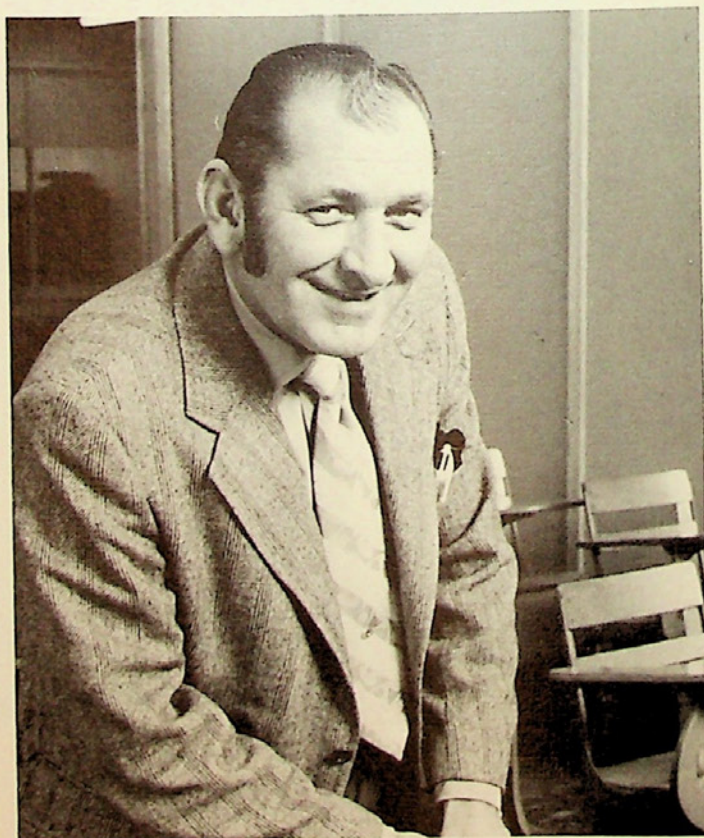

The electives provided by the Home Economics department were Child Care, Home and Family, Home-making, Advanced Clothing, and Advanced Foods. The teachers, Mrs. Dorris Young and Mrs. Linda Lieberman hoped that the knowledge acquired through these courses would be useful to the pupils sometime in their future life. The practical arts courses were designed to develop the skills of the student for practical living in our modern society.

student association initiates new programs

To coin a phrase, "It was a very good year" for the Student Association of Liberty High School. Under the leadership of Mr. David Stewart, many worthwhile projects were accomplished. The Association bridged the gaps between the students, the faculty, and the administration by again utilizing the Student-Faculty Forum. Other activities of the Association were the operation of the School Store and the publishing of a Student Handbook. After a year without a handbook, it was a greatly appreciated reestablishment. A new program initiated by the Association was the Friendship Program, which helped new students become acquainted with the school.

The officers of the Association were: Ray Chernasky, President; Scott Ogilvie, Vice-President; Mary Wilson, Secretary; Harry McKnight, Treasurer; and Carol Schimmel, Social Activities Secretary. The members who met Wednesday after school, totaled thirty-one.

In practices held in the summer as well as before and after school, Sharon Glick executed her duties as head majorette. Co-heads Susan Heffner and Susan McElhenny assisted her in teaching and mastering the skills involved in synchronized marching, and in gaining a sense of rhythm and poise. The seventeen girls led the band in school functions, as well as public parades and special sport events.

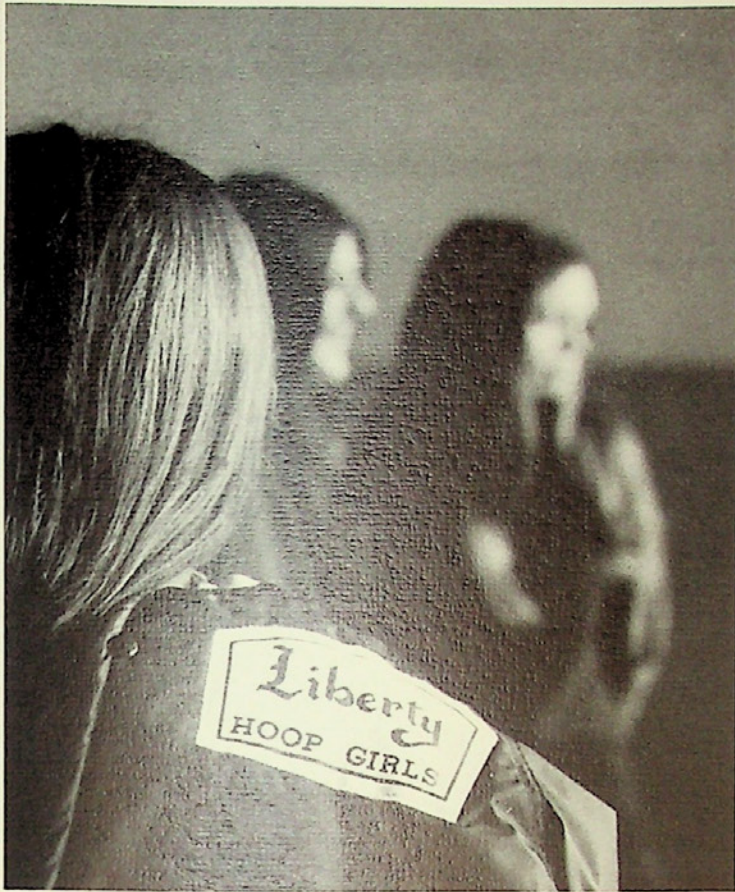

This impressive group, directed by Mr. Ronald Sherry, was an appealing addition to the band.

pep club, hoop girls boost student spirit

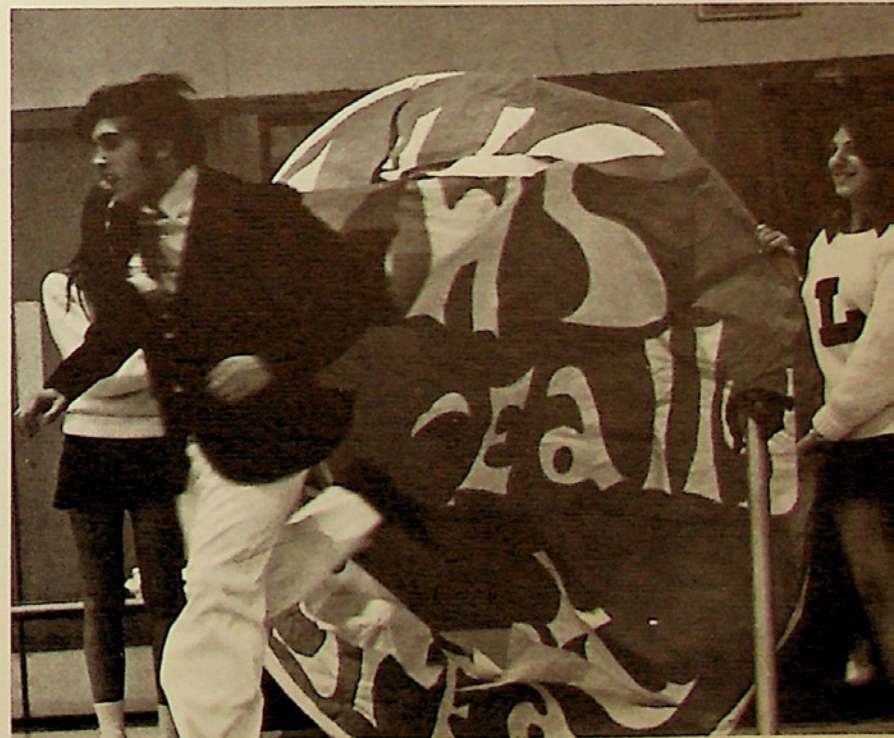

Carol Schimmel, leader of the Hoop Girls, was responsible for Pep Club Activities.

"... We'll stick together for the old Red and Blue." This familiar lyric, sung by the members of the Pep Club and Hoop Girls, was frequently heard at the athletic events. These groups were dedicated to helping the Cheerleaders spread enthusiasm at the games and pep rallies. About one hundred and fifty members gave the Liberty High School spirit a big boost with their hearty voices and inspiring cheers.

Under the leadership of Carol Schimmel, Social Activities Secretary of the Student Council, the sixteen Hoop Girls handed out lollipops to the athletes and spent many hours painting posters to decorate our school halls. Not only did they make signs for athletic events, but they also added their artistic talent to many other sports-oriented activities at Liberty High School. One of their most important functions was constructing the hoops through which our athletes crashed minutes before each game.

The faculty advisor, Mr. David Stewart, worked closely and effectively with Carol to put forth the best effort of the two groups.

ava supplement classes

Supplementing the teachers' regular program with movie projectors and tape recorders, the Audio-Visual Aides Club helped to provide stimulation in various classes. They handled the equipment, and repaired it when mechanical difficulties arose.

The officers, John McCaffrey, President; Rodney Herzog, Vice President; Ronald Flaska, Secretary; and Donald Flaska, Treasurer, led the eight members in their numerous activities. Mr. Robert Wilson served as the advisor.

stage crew adds their "professional touch"

One of the more unacclaimed groups at Liberty High School was the Stage Crew. Without their talents, productions at Liberty would not have had that "professional touch." The twelve members, under the able direction of Mr. Dale Kehler, painted flats for the class plays, built sets, and did the lighting and technical work for all of Liberty's performances. The crew did the bulk of their work on Saturdays. Senior members were: Michael Doncevic, James Heisler, Paul Henning, and Bruce Hensinger.

In addition to their busy work schedule, they went to New York to see a play.

library club provides for students' needs

Liberty High School greatly benefited from the efforts of the Library Club this past year. Its seventeen members, advised by Mr. Jay Schuler, assisted in the library at various times, checking out books for students and arranging them on the shelves. As part of their activities, the club visited libraries of nearby colleges and universities and held two parties following the December and May meetings. The officers of the club were Janet Farrell, President; Paul Twaite, Vice-President; and Wendy Reiman, Secretary-Treasurer. Meetings were held the second Wednesday of every month after school.

area resorts visited by ski club members

Although the Ski Club was new to Liberty this year, it received an overwhelming response from the student body. Approximately sixty students attended the meetings each Tuesday to learn new skiing techniques which increased their enjoyment of the sport. The main aim of the club, however, was to provide lower costs at a local ski area. Because of the decrease in expenses, many more students were able to learn the pleasures of keeping fit by skiing.

Mr. Robert Wilson advised the group in all their planning and fund raising activities. The Ski Club elected Don Cummings as President; Ann McGeady as Vice-President; Barbara Fried as Secretary; and Bob Speer as Treasurer.

the brotherhood studies history and culture of colonized peoples

The Brotherhood was a coalition of Puerto Rican, Black, and other colonized students dedicated to helping and educating their brothers and sisters. They also attempted to gain understanding and acceptance of each other.

Through rap sessions, panel discussions, seminars, and other means, the members of The Brotherhood provided an opportunity for the white community to understand the true history, culture, and feelings of colonized peoples. The members of the Brotherhood went on several trips throughout the year which were of political and cultural importance.

The Brotherhood's elected officers were Sylvia Culver, President; Sheila Culver, Vice-President; Gloria Huertas, Secretary; and Miriam Huertas, Treasurer. The faculty advisor of the Brotherhood was Mr. Donald Watson.

sought-after grenadiers march in macy's parade

The Grenadier Band retained its reputation as one of Liberty's outstanding organizations. The 212 members, supervised by Mr. Ronald Sherry, mastered their music as well as marching routines in order to perform during half-time at Liberty's football games. The Grenadiers also entertained at several parades, pep rallies, and home basketball games. Adding color to the performances and providing a touch of tradition were the majorettes, led by head majorette Sharon Glick, and the bagpipers, assisted by Scott Ogilvie.

The band continued to be one of the most sought-after musical organizations, receiving more than one hundred invitations to participate at special events throughout the country. This year appearances were made at the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and at professional football games in Philadelphia and New York. Practices were held every day during the football season and, afterwards, every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday in order to prepare for the annual Band Concert in March. Serving as officers were: Richard Rohrbach, Senior Officer; William Horwath, Junior Officer; Sally Heckert, Secretary; and Nicholas Kusiak, Treasurer.

The Orchestra, with a membership of over seventy students under the direction of Mr. Ronald Sherry, provided musical entertainment throughout the school year. This organization afforded to interested students an opportunity to perform in a group and also to further their musical education. The "Pops," Liberty's version of the Boston "Pops," was their most important event of the year. Others included accompaniment for the senior class play "Carnival," the Thanksgiving Day Program, Christmas Vespers, and the Spring Musicales at Broughal.

Serving as officers were: Jeff Hitchings, Lucy Zito, Roberta Kincaid and Melanie Skibo; President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer respectively.

glee clubs present vespers, musicale

The aim of the three vocal groups at Liberty High School was to learn, prepare, and perform good choral music. The Junior and Senior Glee Clubs participated in a Thanksgiving assembly for the school with the Sophomore Choir joining them to present the Christmas Vespers at Broughal Junior High School. Glee Club members, wearing robes and carrying candles, sang religious selections.

The annual spring concert was held in May. Each group presented a few songs and then all members combined to sing two medleys from Broadway shows, "Man of La Mancha" and "Fiddler on the Roof." "Song of Democracy" was selected for the finale. The Glee Clubs were directed by Mr. Donald Snider with the Juniors numbering 100 and the Seniors, 96.

A select group of forty-two senior vocalists comprised this year's Choraliers. These talented students were chosen from the Senior Glee Club by the musical director, Mr. Donald Snider. The main purpose of the Choraliers was to sing at civic events, but they also performed for the school and area churches. Featured at these functions were popular contemporary songs, as well as traditional numbers.

Among the Choraliers more important singing engagements were the Greater Council of Churches and the Liberty High School Band Parents Meeting.

thespians learn many facets of the theater

Theater arts came to Liberty High School in the form of the International Thespian Society, otherwise known as the Dramatics Club. The sixty-seven members, who met every other Tuesday, were led by Elizabeth Knipe, President; John Anthony, Vice-President; Patty Yastrzebski, Secretary-Treasurer; and Nettie Kromayer, Scribe. Mr. Dale Kehler was their advisor.

The members worked diligently to earn the necessary ten points which made them eligible to be initiated into the International Thespian Society, a worldwide organization for actors. This was done mainly by directing, acting, and doing backstage work for the three one-act plays. A new activity which the club members undertook was the production of a film. Speakers on such topics as Experimental Theater also enlightened the members on different aspects of the theater. Professional theater was observed by taking a trip to New York City in December to see Applause.

language clubs view varied foreign customs

Different language clubs were formed to enable the students to learn more about the customs and cultures of various peoples.

The French Club conducted meetings in French and broadened the students' knowledge of French manners, literature, art, and history. The members raised money for a trip to New York in the spring to see a French show and dine at a restaurant "à la cuisine française." The club consisted of about 40 members who were students in their third and fourth year. Advised by Miss Rich, they met once a month after school. The officers of French 4 and French 3 respectively, were; Martha Divras and Roberta Budura, President; Athene Chiadis, and Susan Swan, Vice-President; Judith Jandras and Roseann Casciani, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Russian Club became more acquainted with the language by using Russian in everyday conversation. Joseph O Keefe, President; David Oliver, Vice-President; Janice Hurd, Secretary; and Susan Thomas, Treasurer, served as the Club's officers. The 15 members met the first Wednesday of every month and were advised by Mr. Donald Drasher.

Mr. Damandl supervised the German Club, which provided an opportunity for its members to practice the language outside of the classroom. Meetings were held every other Wednesday and monthly programs included the presentation of guest speakers. Service projects were undertaken, and an end of the year picnic was planned. The 35 members also took a trip to New York. The officers included: Mark Hoffman, President; Dot Bedics, Vice-President; Liz Knipe, Secretary; and Pam Cummings, Treasurer.

"Initium," the newspaper published by the Latin Club, was one of the Club's main activities. The members planned a Roman Banquet, occasional dinner meetings, and trips to the Metropolitan Museum and the museum at the University of Pennsylvania. The club was led by Mr. Rapp, advisor; Lani Burkey, President; Argie Mikroudis, Vice-President; Sue Thomas, Secretary; and Peter Lukehart, Treasurer.

The Spanish Club, supervised by Mrs. Eisenhower, held meetings on the first and third Wednesday of every month after school. Its forty members enjoyed a typical Spanish meal in the Home Economics room and prepared a food basket for a needy family of Spanish descent. During the Christmas season they held a party featuring the breaking of the "pinata" and sang Spanish Christmas Carols at a nursing home. The club also planned a trip to New York to see a play and eat in a Spanish restaurant. Serving as officers were: Diane Fluck, President; Mary Werkheiser, Vice-President; Diane Stefanik, Secretary; and Rebecca Griesemer, Treasurer.

Editing the Latin newspaper, "Initium," proves to be a very challenging but fun experience for Sue Thomas and Peter Lukehart.

The primary function of Liberty Life was to inform the students of the various events occurring at the school and in the community. For the second consecutive year, Liberty Life received the first place award at the Pennsylvania School Press Association in Harrisburg. Individual awards were given for the feature column, the editorials, and the editorial cartoons. While in Harrisburg, the staff also participated in various journalism workshops.

The staff's fund-raising projects included the sale of cosmetics and baked goods. The editorial board, under the direction of Mr. Roger Hudak, included Ralph Hunsicker, Editor-in-Chief; Elaine Deutch, Managing Editor; and Carol Miles, Business Manager.

The time-consuming task of preparing a yearbook kept room 850 constantly busy throughout the year. The entire staff, with the exception of Editor-in-Chief, Bobbie Budura, was new to the Cauldron and had much to learn. The creation of interesting layouts, an art in itself, was a great challenge to the staff, as was the composition of descriptive write-ups filling a designated number of lines. Eagerness to produce the finest Cauldron ever spurred the staff members on to meet the required deadlines. The new advisor for the 1972 yearbook, Mr. Dennis Temlin, guided everyone involved, with his knowledge of yearbook production.

One of Nettie Kromayer's duties on the staff is to give suggestions for articles, headlines, and captions.

artistic and literary talents displayed by young writer

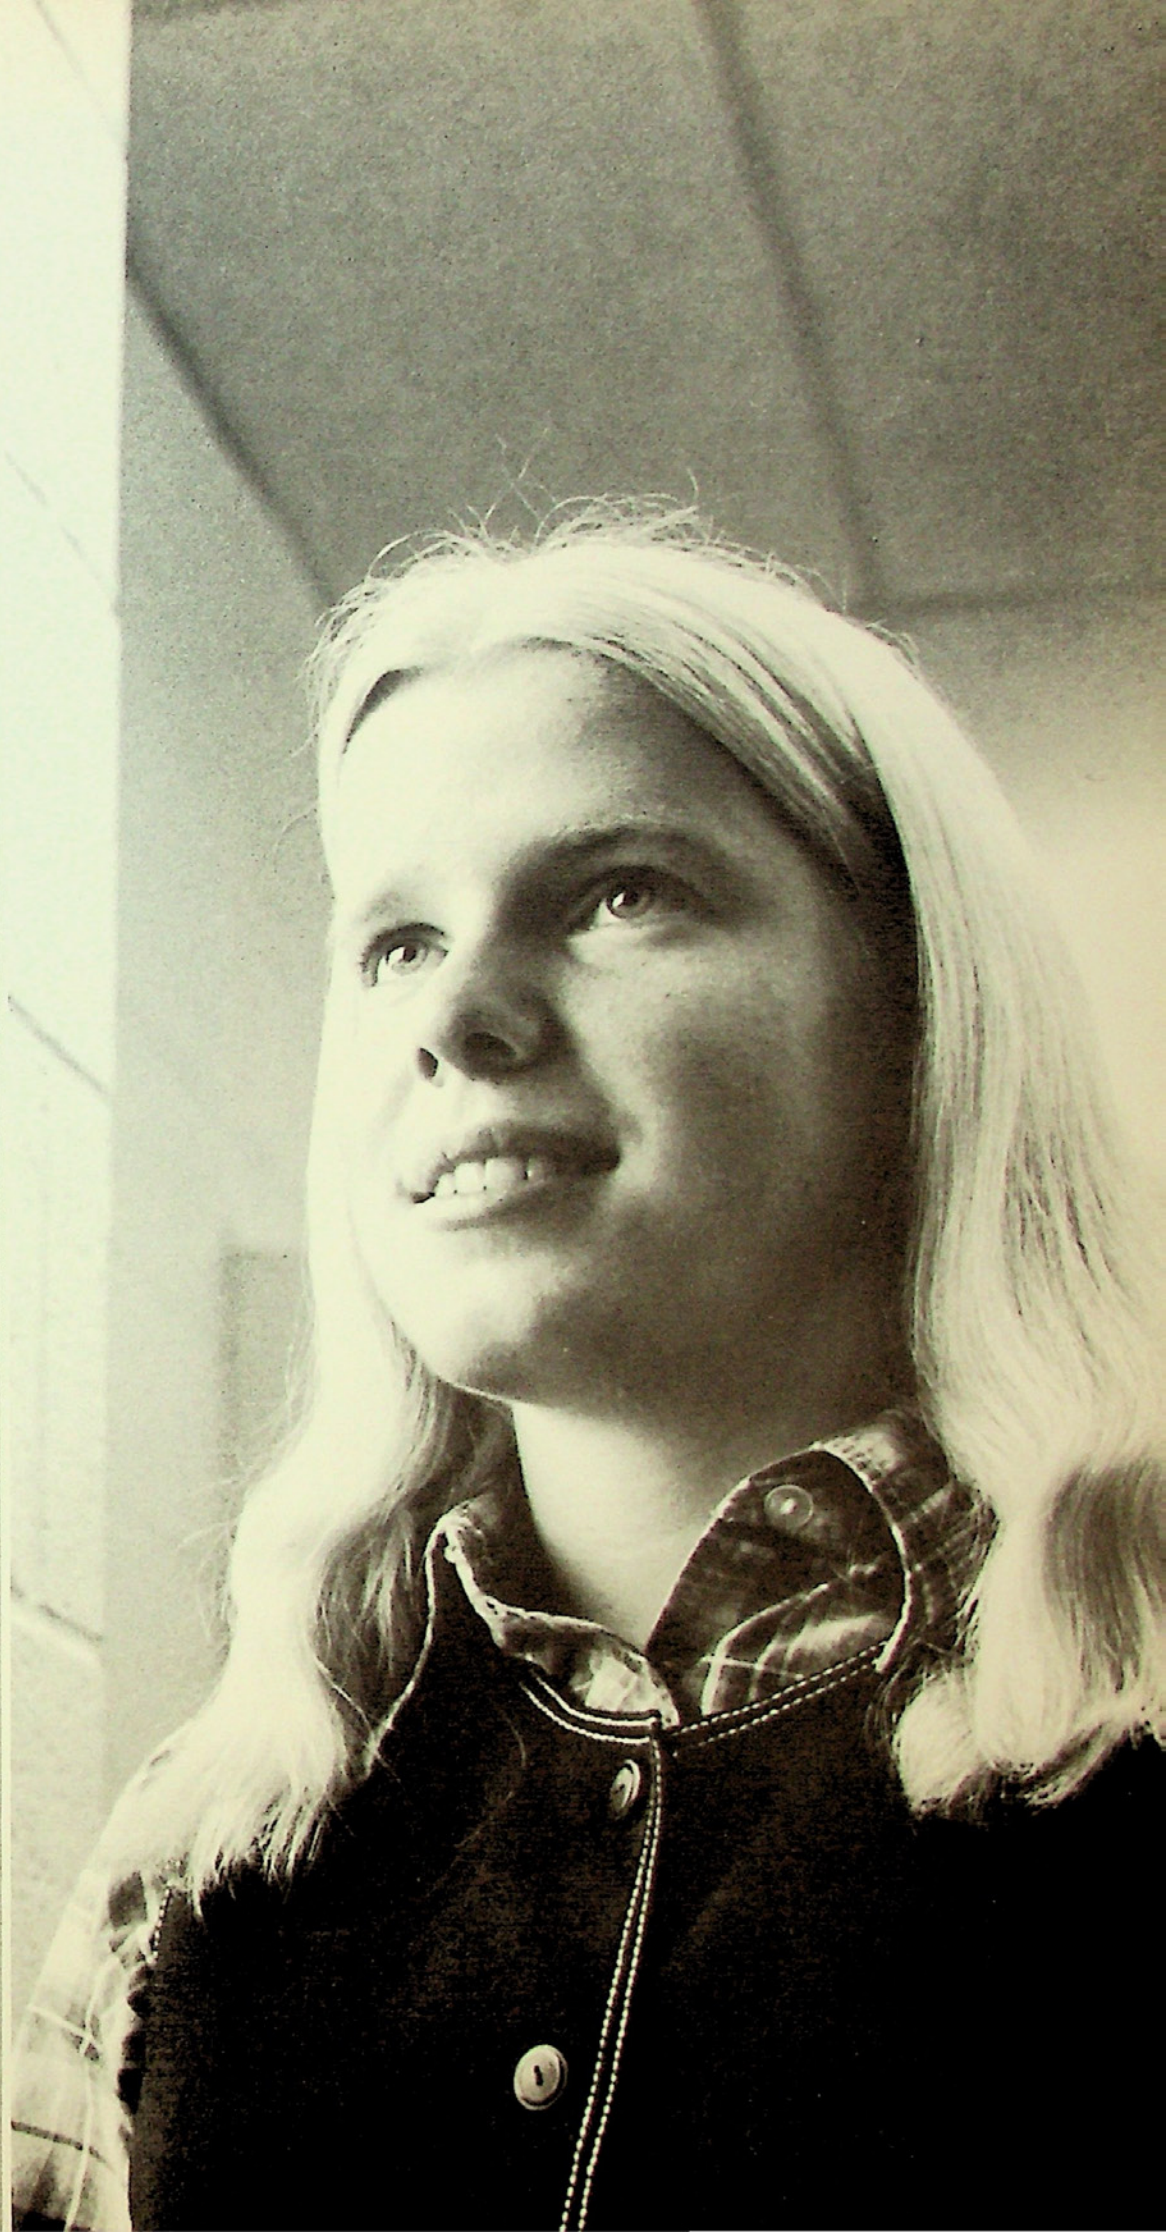

Thoughts and feelings of Liberty High School students were imaginatively expressed in the annual publication of the Young Writer. The thirty staff members published the magazine, combining poetry, stories, and art with an innovation of color. This year's literary editors, Lisa Ungerleider and Carolyn Haynes, along with the art editors, Jeff Wily and Lori Valigra, were advised by Mrs. Lorraine Smith. Together they supervised the staff during eighth period in the work of receiving, editing, and proofreading the submitted selections.

afs provides forum for discussion of national, international affairs

The American Field Service provided a cultural exchange each year at Liberty High School supervised by Mr. David Stewart. The twenty-five members aimed to promote a better understanding of other countries and their cultures.

At their meetings every other Monday after school, AFS provided a forum for discussing international as well as national news topics. Their annual basketball game between the teachers and the football team provided part of the funds needed to support the foreign exchange program. In addition to these activities at school, the club planned a trip to New York.

Serving as officers this year were Barry Klayton, President; David Davies, Vice-President; Bob Braddick, Secretary; and Jerry Gilbert, Treasurer.

sweden represented at liberty high by brita

Through the foreign exchange student scholarship program of the American Field Service, Brita Eklund came to Bethlehem from Sweden. During her stay in Bethlehem, she lived with the G.M. McClure family and was kept very busy.

One of her many activities of the year was speaking to the American Field Service Club and other interested students about her country. She also played on the girls' basketball team.

Among Brita's reasons for coming to the United States were to increase her fluency in the language, to gain an understanding of American life, and to get different views on her own country.

morales boosted by the efforts of spiked shoe

The Spiked Shoe Club's members were busy again this year promoting interest in the sports of track and field.

The girls boosted the morale of the teams with bake sales and posters. Their presence was also appreciated at the meets where they helped with the timing, measuring, and the keeping of a record of the team's progress.

The officers of the Spiked Shoe Club were; Terry Oravec, president; Kathy LaForm, Secretary; and Kathy Davis, Treasurer. Mr. Potkovac was the advisor.

key club benefits the school and community

Throughout the year, the members of the Key Club contributed greatly to the school and their community. Working with Mr. Gencarelli, the thirty-eight members promoted the betterment of the individual by instilling the qualities of leadership.

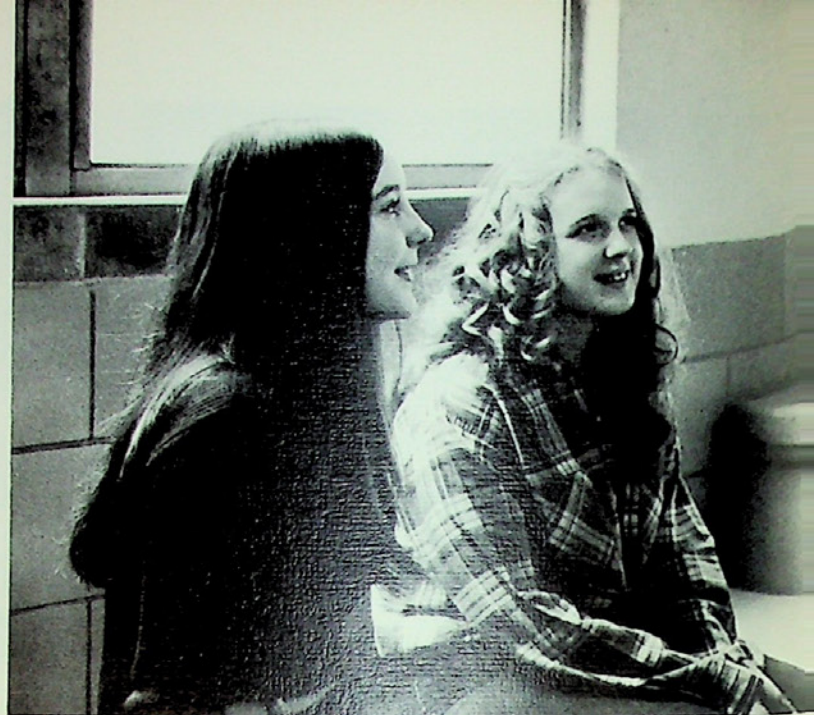

This year, members of the Key Club partitioned and numbered the spaces in the parking lot. Among their other activities were painting window frames at the Wiley house, singing carols at the Muhlenberg Medical Center, and assuming professional positions on law day.

The officers of this year's club were Alan Stiles, President; Jeff Opp, Vice-President; Matt Hoffman, Secretary; Tom Peters, Treasurer.

As one of their many service projects through the year, the Key Club works at improving the parking lots.

Another service organization that was quite active in school and community affairs was the Interact Club, which met Tuesday nights at 6:30. This year their activities included sponsoring an Indian Orphan, holding car washes and bake sales, visiting hospitals during the Christmas and Easter seasons, and selling cookbooks at Christmas time.

Working with Mr. Pitsilos, the officers this year were Tom Hickey, President; Judy Lychak, Vice-President; Terry Oravec, Secretary; and Mike Lamb, Treasurer.

liberty's top students admitted to the nhs

The National Honor Society, led by Mr. Anthony Ruggiero, spent a profitable year putting their academic talents to use in both the school and the community. To be eligible for membership, the students were required to have a 3.5 cumulative average. The most widely known of their projects was tutoring, for which the members gave up their free periods and helped fellow students having difficulties with a particular subject.

The NHS members realized that learning new things was vital to their academic growth. They accomplished this by inviting various speakers to their meetings and also by attending the regional conference for National Honor Societies, held at Lehigh University.

The Society, which met once a month after school, elected Daniel Welty as President, Roberta Budura as Vice-President, and Sylvia Culver as Secretary.

commercial club learns about business world

The Liberty High School Commercial Club provided specific information for the students concerning careers in the business world. Field trips were planned, guest speakers were invited, and films were presented. Advised by Mr. Glenn R. Koplin, the 33 club members met every other Wednesday at 3 p.m. The officers included Nicolette Martucci, President; Eileen McGowan, Vice-President; and Leslie Hein, Secretary-Treasurer.

home ec club prepares girls for the future

The Home Economics Club was formed to provide the girls with an opportunity to learn more about children and the home. Each Tuesday four members worked as volunteers at the Parkridge Day Care Center. They taught various crafts to the children, played games with them, and held a Christmas party. Supervised by Mrs. Lieberman, the thirteen members also did volunteer work for the Cancer society and Red Cross. To raise money, the club sold baked goods and held car washes. At the end of the year they planned a trip to the shore. Meetings were held every other Tuesday after school. Serving as officers were; Yolanda Huertas, President; Kathy Hartz, Vice-President; Marianne Leszcynski, Secretary; and Carol Gangewere, Treasurer.

future nurses exposed to medical careers

The Future Nurses' Club familiarized students who were interested in entering the medical field with the necessary requirements and preparation. Several guests from hospital schools of nursing and NCACC spoke about such topics as practical nursing and lab technology. Numerous films were also presented. Fields trips provided an opportunity to visit St. Luke's Hospital, Easton Hospital, and several institutions in Philadelphia. Advised by Miss Eckert, the club's officers included: Sandy Hageter, President; Joyce Hagelgans, Vice-President; Myrna Lopez, Secretary; and Dotsy Gilly, Treasurer.

fta members learn aspects of teaching careers

Marsha, Barb, Olha, and Justine relax before the meeting.

The Future Teachers' Association exposed its members to the career of teaching and made them aware of problems in the field of education. They listened to speakers, viewed films, and visited colleges. Reciprocal programs were held with other FTA groups. The club also aided the school and community by tutoring elementary pupils, serving as teachers' aides, and holding a picnic for Head Start children. Approximately 25 members, advised by Miss Dragotta, met the first and third Thursday of each month. Justine Pacala, President; Marsha Warning, Vice-President; Olha Mychajliw, Secretary; and Barbara Lang, Treasurer, held positions as officers.

"bach to bacharach" theme of mermaids

This year the annual Aquacade of the Mermaids was held on May 25 at Lehigh University Pool. Because of renovations in the Commons Building the practices were held at Freedom High School in the fall and at Lehigh University throughout the winter and spring.

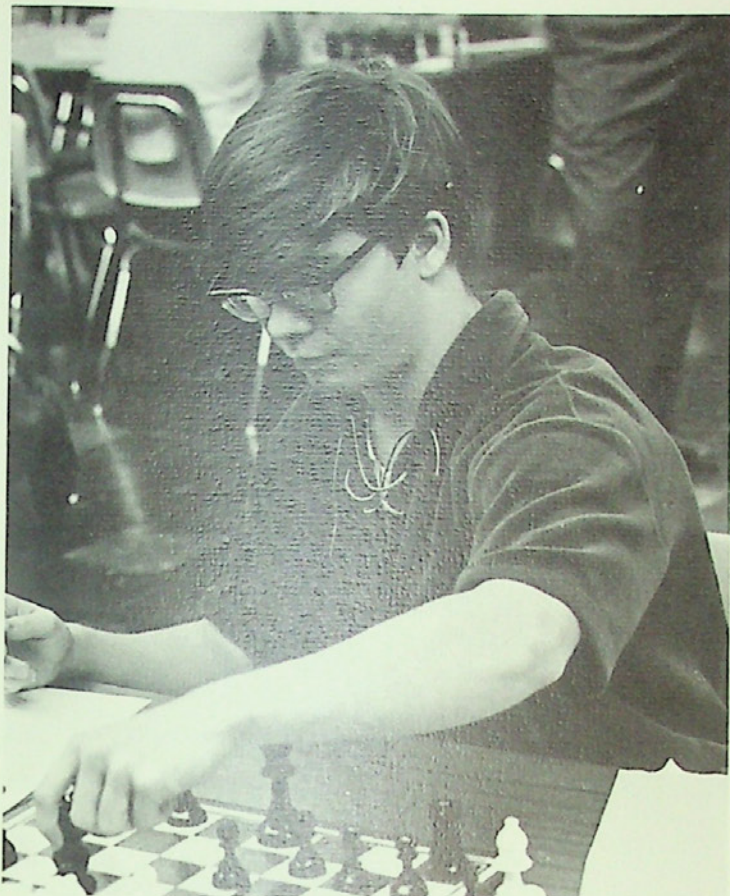

This year's theme was "Bach to Bacharach." It consisted of songs from famous composers throughout history. Under advisor Mrs. Phyllis Fissel the officers were Kyle Sabatino, President; Linda Leckonby, Vice President; Carol Schimmel, Secretary; and Connie Skelly, Treasurer.

The mermen were an added attraction to the show for the first time. They appeared in their own number and put on a comedy skit during intermission.

For their field trip this year the Mermaids went to State College to see the Pennsylvania State University Aquacade. The show was excellent and provided the Mermaids with a number of new ideas.

The main aim of the Chess Club, in the words of George Treisner III, the club Treasurer, was "To win!" The members challenged each other at club meetings each Monday and Wednesday to improve their status on the team. The club also selected Mike Boyer, Mike Archiga, Guy Elliot, and Jim Pfeifle to compete in the individual tournaments at Muhlenberg College.

season filled with mixed emotions

The 1971 football season, which ended with a 5-5 win-loss record, was one filled with mixed emotions. The Liberty gridders, coached by Bob Buffman, were plagued by injuries which could have been the cause of the sudden winless streak in the second half of the season.

The first game, with Bethlehem Catholic, displayed the team's fine defense and come-from-behind determination as they scored an 8-7 victory. Central Catholic fell to the Hurricane by a 28-20 score before LHS' confrontation with Thomas Jefferson, the top team in New York City, which ended hopes for an undefeated season by handing the Red and Blue a 22-21 loss. The team then reached its climax by stopping the highly favored Pennsbury Falcons. Another win encouraged the gridders, but ailing knees and a broken thumb foreshadowed a four-game losing streak. Nevertheless, the team, anxious to hold the city title, defeated arch rival Freedom by a score of 23-14.

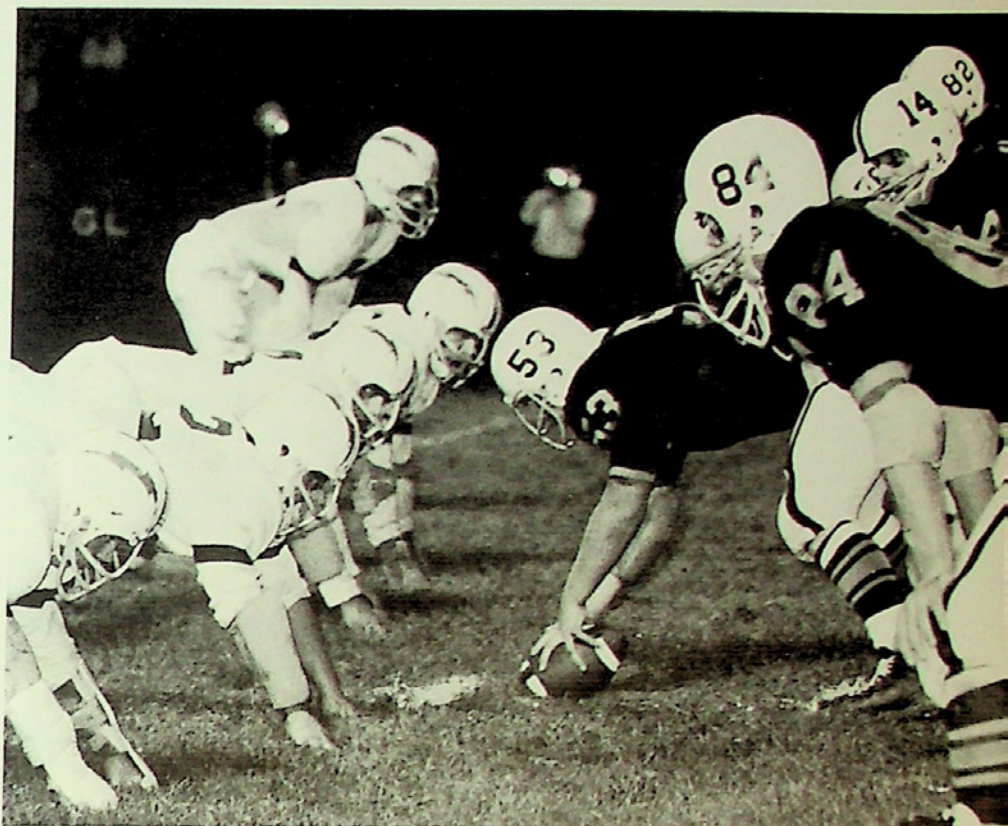

The Hurricanes were a running team led by quarterback Richie Wescoe, who, in this third year of varsity football, was the co-captain with Tom Lindner. Other offensive standouts were halfbacks Evanoy Gonzales and Kevin Wescoe, and Fullback John Jennings. The defense was led by Jeff Opp, Paul Reybitz, Milt Schuler and Butch Horwath.

Cartwheels, flips, roundoffs, loud voices, and vibrant personalities comprised the LHS cheerleading squad. The members spent a week at National Cheerleading Association Camp during the summer, eager to learn and enter competition. The Red and Blue Cheerleaders won a first place trophy for the best all-round group, and the highly sought spirit stick. They were also awarded one white and five blue ribbons.

The squad, led by a different member each week, attended and cheered at football, soccer, basketball, wrestling and J.V. football games. Whether the team won or lost, the Hurricane rooters always kicked up a storm of spirit among the fans and boosted the morales of the teams. The seven senior girls were Marion Cunningham, Jean Marancik, Paula Tiscio, Margo Clifford, Sue Marshall, Judy Lychak, and Becky Vehafric. The five juniors were Gretchen Wescoe, Lynn Mellon, Joanne Cericola, and the substitutes Jill Werely and Joanne Shramko. Together they taught prospective Junior Varsity Cheerleaders and helped choose the final squad. In order to send three girls to camp, they sold candy with the Booster Club at the Junior High School morning games.

booters finish 11-2-1; league's best defense

The 1971 Liberty High School Soccer Squad finished the season with the second best overall record in the Eastern Scholastic Soccer League, but for the third year in a row, missed winning the championship by a mere point. This year's squad faced the toughest schedule of any Liberty team with the realignment of the league and the expanded fourteen game schedule.

The team led the league in defense, allowing only 8 goals in 14 games and compiling 10 shutouts. Primarily led by all-star fullback and captain Jose Perna, and goalies Jeff Fissel and Steve Farkas, this defense proved tough to crack. These three players were greatly aided in defense by all-star halfbacks Mike Fatzinger and Bob Brunnabend, who also helped the offense tremendously. Other senior starters were linemen Bill Herrlinger, Mike Schlener, John Racz, Tony Strobel, and Greg Filipos. For the second consecutive year, Hank Amigo, a junior, led the team in scoring with nine goals. All-star Mike Delpeiore, also a junior, followed with 7, Mike Schlener with 4, junior Tim Versacci had 3 and Bob Brunnabend and John Racz had 1 each. Senior wing Bill Herrlinger led the team in assists with seven.

harriers finish 5-5, ruth and stewart pace squad

The Liberty Cross Country team finished the 1971 season with a 5-5 win-loss record. Throughout most of the season the team was paced by Eric Ruth and Bob Stewart, who showed their talent by placing second and fourth respectively in District 11 competition. The team ran off a three-meet win streak early in the season. After a decisive defeat to Salisbury, one of the league's best teams, the Hurricane runners rebounded by crushing Palisades. Unfortunately, good things ended at this point for the harriers when they fell into a 4-meet losing streak, including a heartbreaking 1-point loss to Phillipsburg, a team which was unbeaten in 25 contests. However, the squad managed to end the season on a happy note and with a .500 percentage by winning the final meet of the season over Saucon Valley.

The 1971 Liberty High School basketball squad utilized a tough defense, desire, and tremendous hustle to finish the season with a fine 16-8 record. Game after game the team would fall behind, then clamp on its vaunted full-court press, and almost always turn the contest around in a matter of minutes. Whatever the team gave up in size, it more than made up for with hustle and determination. Not considered to be a league contender, the squad proved the experts wrong as it battled its way to the league playoff in both halves of the season. Unfortunately, there always must be a loser, and both times it was the Hurricane, first to Easton in the first half, and then to Dieruff in the second half. Throughout the entire season the squad demonstrated a keen ability to play together as a team, and this carried them to many victories.

The starting five was composed entirely of seniors. Richie Wescoe, the team's only returning letterman from the year before, "quarterbacked" the squad throughout the season. His fine defensive play and clutch performances were indeed a valuable asset to the team. Other starters were Dick Packer, Jose Perna, Steve Farkas, and Bucky Frey. The two juniors who saw action were Terry Marcincin and Skip John, affectionately dubbed "The Midgets" because of their size. They were mainly used by Coach Senavitis to implement his full court press.

girl hoopsters enjoy successful season

The LHS Hoopsters enjoyed a satisfying year, finishing with a 9-4 won-lost record. The team ran off eight straight victories at the beginning of the season and then suffered through a four-game losing streak before closing out league competition with a 50-35 triumph over Dieruff. The starting line-up consisted of seniors Linda Leckonby, Dottie Best, Cathy Solliday, junior Kathy Zweifel, and Swedish exchange student Brita Eklund. Much of the team's success can be credited to the enthusiastic coaching of Miss Frances Bentkowski.

The 1971-72 Liberty High School wrestling squad showed good balance and a lot of potential while compiling a 7-6 record. Each man had his good and bad days, but the team as a whole pulled together for many of the wins.

Senior starters on the squad were co-captains Greg Filipos and Ernie Gonzales, Eric Ruth, Bob Larkin, Peter Kes-sack, Tom Lindner and Ken Dimenichi. Other starters were Kevin Boyer, Greg King, Jay Miller, Tom Biamon, Tony Villani and Milt Schuler. Two of the wrestlers, Jay Miller and Milt Schuler, both juniors, posted fine duel meet records. But the two wrestlers who led the squad throughout the season were co-captains Greg Filipos and Ernie Gonzales. Ernie was beaten only once in duel meet competition, and Greg won District and Regional titles before becoming the PIAA 106 lb. runnerup. Greg's season record was 21-2. Greg was also chosen to represent Pennsylvania in a duel meet between the best high school wrestlers in the state and those in Illinois.

tankers hold their own despite small team

Although the L.H.S. Swim Team finished with a disappointing 5-7 win-loss record, nothing disappointing can be said of the spirit and determination the Tankers showed, even when the odds were against them.

Standouts of the season were senior team captain Jamie Hunsicker, who was defeated only once during the season, Jim McDonald, Gary Enright, Lee McGeady, Joel Manfredo, Joe Leach, and John Strohmeyer. The team was coached again by Pat Garramone who was assisted this year by Bill Rapp.

The outstanding victories were against Whitehall and East Stroudsburg, who gave the Tankers a good amount of competition. This season, Liberty sent Jamie Hunsicker and Joel Manfredo to the State Finals to compete in the 100-yard butterfly and diving competition, respectively.

In two of the meets — Salisbury and Dieruff — the Hurricanes posted perfect 500 scores. Liberty was eventually defeated by Dieruff in a shoot-off for the Southern Division crown.

speed and desire lead batsmen to epl title

The 1972 Liberty High School baseball team finished its season with an excellent record of 14-4. Aided strongly by what coach Bernie Fritz called "an extremely fast squad" and a great pitching staff, the team went on to win the East Penn League title. One of the big reasons for the success of the club was senior lefthander Rich Dankel, who finished the season with an 8-1 record, and an e.r.a. of 1.20. He was aided by the always strong arm of Richie Wescoe, who ended with a 6-3 log and a .70 e.r.a. The team was not the best hitting club ever, but they always got runs when needed. Leading hitter on the team was Tom Prosser, batting at a .367 clip. Wayne Fatebene led the squad in rbi's with 11. Senior Kevin Wescoe won a place for himself in LHS sports history by powering two balls out of the park at Sheridan Field, marking the first time any player has accomplished this feat.

thinclads finish 5-3; mile relay decisive

Relay teams were in the spotlight as the LHS track squad closed with a good 5-3 record. After jumping out with an exciting win over Phillipsburg and a crushing defeat of Allen, the Red and Blue fell victim to two of the best teams in the league, Easton and Reading. At least four of the meets were decided by the final event, the mile relay. The relay team, composed of Bob Sahaydak, Lou Cogle, Mike Stempo and Jeff Opp provided the margin of victory against Phillipsburg, Freedom and Pottsville. Some outstanding performances were turned in by members of the squad. Senior Eric Ruth smashed the 2-mile record at Liberty with a time of 9:49, and placed second in the District in the same event. The 880 relay team of Charlie Donchez, Lou Cogle, Mike Martin and Jim Smith was beaten only once during the season, and took first place in the Meet of Champions. The 2-mile relay team of Bob Sahaydak, Mike Stempo, Jack Shive and Eric Ruth set a new school record with an 8:25.5 clocking.

In a meet where the mile relay provided the margin of victory, Bob Sahaydak passes the baton to junior Tim Versacci.

spikers finish 27-3; place second in league

The 1972 Liberty High School Volleyball team finished the season with an excellent 27-3 overall record. They also placed second in the league standings and finished second to Freedom High in District XI post-season competition.

The team won many of its games by utilizing an aggressive style of play, always working to set up the big men for the spike. The big men throughout most of the season were Jim McDonald and Gary Urban. Other senior starters were Jeff Hitchings and Gary Urban. Junior Jack Ferri and Sophomore Barry Rosar rounded out the starting lineup. The team was coached by Mr. Larry Deutsch who has compiled a fine record since taking over the spikers several seasons ago.

despite fine playing golfers finish 1-6

The 1972 L.H.S. Golf team finished the season with a 1-6 record, despite what coach Charles Peters called "some fine playing" by the squad. It seemed that every time the Hurricane shot well the opposition had an extraordinary day. Also, with the complex scoring in golf, some of the matches were much closer than they appear. Senior members were Tom Yenko, Rick Campbell, and Gary Vitanovec. Other team members were Dave Burke, Frank Boyer, Clete McGory and Tom Roman.

The 1972 Liberty High School Tennis Team finished the season in fine style and compiled a successful 10-3 record. The team played extremely well all season and was led by the number one and two men, Bob Speer and Scott Ogilvie. They proved to be quite tough in both singles and doubles. The other senior members of the team were Allen Stiles, Charlie Sweigard, Bob Braddick, George Desh and Tim Angle. Junior Keith Sweigard also saw plenty of action. In District XI singles competition Junior Bob Speer made it to the final round before being beaten to place second. liberty girl tankers try harder despite losses

Although the 1972 girls' swimming squad had a rather unsuccessful season in league competition they had much for which to be praised. The relatively small team of 16 was coached by Mrs. Betty Phelps and captain Linda Leckonby. Throughout the season the members tried hard and improved their times considerably. Despite the inconvenience and psychological effect of having to use the Freedom pool for home meets, the Hurricanes managed to set several team records. The medley relay made up of Linda Leckonby, Barb Easen, Beth Ann Williams and Jan Laberteaux broke a school record twice with a final time of 2:09:7. Diver Susan Swan broke a team record with a score of 123.75 against Parkland. Freshman Barb Easen maintained an almost perfect season with an 8-1 record in the 50-yd. breast stroke event.

Proving that trying harder does make a difference, the team avoided a winless season by handing Dieruff a 40-37 setback in the last contest of the year.

senior officers plan first homecoming

Four seniors worked together to make the 1971-72 school year a memorable one. President Ralph Hunsicker brought into office an enthusiastic attitude accompanied by many new ideas. Assisting Ralph in many of the tasks which this office entailed was Joe Slivka, who was Vice-President. Linda Keim, as Treasurer, efficiently took care of all financial matters which befell the class. The office of secretary was occupied by Sylvia Culver. One of the better achievements of the officers was their organization of Liberty's first Homecoming. These changes could not have taken place without the help of the Senior Class Advisors, Mrs. Marian Eisenhower and Mr. Harold Dudeck.

Senior Officers discuss past and upcoming events.

Senior officers anxiously await the beginning of the sack races.

Remember

*Remember me when I am gone away.
Gone far into the silent land;
When you can no more hold me by the hand,
Nor I half go yet turning stay.
Remember me when no more day by day
You tell me of our future that you plann'd:
Only remember me; you understand
It will be late to counsel then or pray.
Yet if you should forget me for a while
And afterwards remember, do not grieve:
For if the darkness and corruption leave
A vestige of the thoughts that once I had,
Better by far you should forget and smile
Than that you should remember and be sad.*

junior class presents broadway's "harvey"

Harvey, written by Mary Chase, is an endearing comic fantasy which concerns the adventures of Elwood P. Dowd who imagines he sees a six-foot rabbit named Harvey. Vita Louise Simmons, his spinster sister, tries to put him away in Chumley's Rest, the sanitarium, but through some mishaps, she finds herself there. A number of humorous episodes follow in which Elwood is left free to roam the city and Dr. William R. Chumley chases after him.

The play was directed by Mr. Dale Kehler. The junior class, the stage manager and his assistants, the stage crew, and the costume, properties publicity, house, business, and make-up committees furnished the skill necessary to assure an enjoyable production.

The play was performed at Northeast Junior High School because of renovations to Liberty's auditorium.

Last minute preparations on opening night cause mass confusion backstage.

musical of 60's success with class of 1972

The senior class presented a fine production of "Carnival," directed by Dale M. Kehler. The play focused on Lili, an orphan looking for a job in a carnival. She falls in love with the suave magician, Marco the Magnificent, who considers her just one of his admirers previously unmatched by his mistress, and assistant, the Incomparable Rosalie. Margo urges Lili to stay and she finds work as an assistant puppeteer for Paul Berthllet. He falls in love with Lili, but because of a lame leg he is afraid that people do not like him.

Meanwhile Rosalie has been feeling rejected. However, Lili soon sees that her impressions of Marco are foolish, and she begins to concentrate more on the puppet act. Rosalie and Marco decide to leave together to "make a go of it" in another town. Through the puppets, Paul is finally able to show Lili that he loves her.

Much talent is displayed by the seniors in their acting. As was evident by the song and dance routines, the cast put a great deal of time, cooperation, and effort into the play.

christmas vespers pre- view the yule holidays

Liberty High School's Vespers have remained a traditional part of the Christmas activities. The service, based on the Nativity, was conducted in a splendid manner despite complications in being moved to Broughal Junior High School. Donald Snider, director of the glee clubs and choir, and Ronald Sherry, director of the orchestra, coordinated efforts to create a varied program of secular and sacred music.

The highlight of the service was the combination of the glee clubs standing on the stage and aisles, and the sophomore choir located in the balcony, singing "The Last Words of David," "Gloria in Excelsis" and the "Hallelujah Chorus."

For a few selections, there were projected slides on the backdrop of the stage depicting scenes of Christmas. A tableaux portraying the cradle scene was arranged by the Art Department. The service was concluded with the candlelighted recessional hymn, "Away in a Manger."

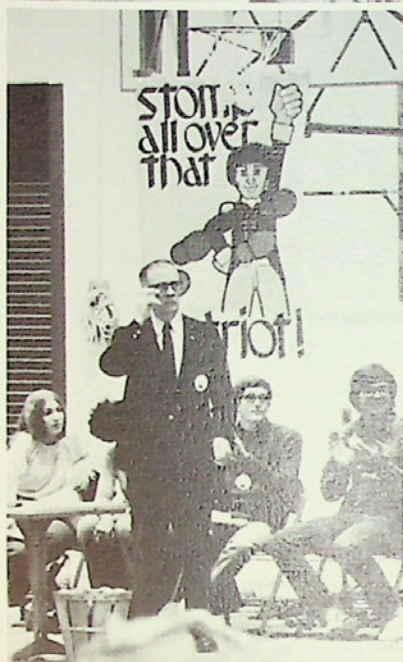

homecoming receives enthusiastic response

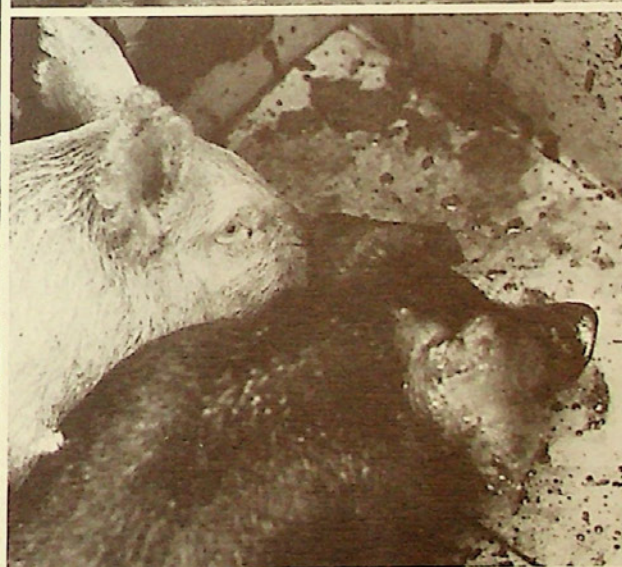

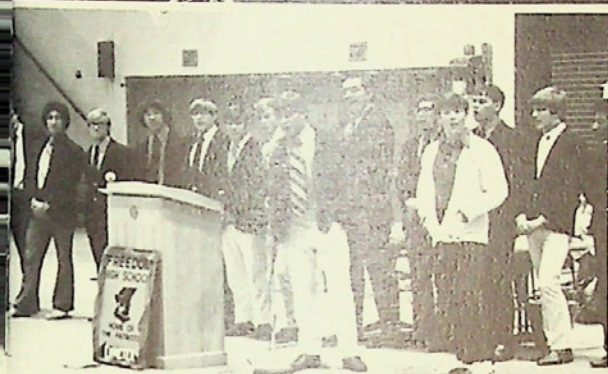

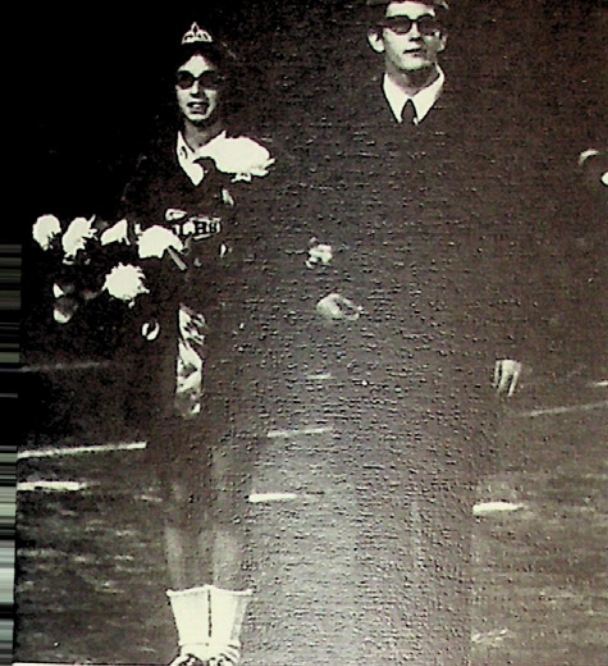

Of all the games played this year, the competition between Liberty and Freedom was greatest because of rivalry for the city title. Because of a lack of interest on the part of the students to support their team, the senior class officers launched a program that they hoped would create some spirit for the final game.

The Homecoming Dance was featured Thursday, the night before the game. The students voted for a Homecoming Queen and elected Susan Marshall. On Friday, afternoon classes were dismissed for the pep rally. The activities included an Ugly Patriot contest in which a standing ovation was given for the first prize winner, Michael Ziegenfuss. Nancy Burpee received five dollars for the best sign and a boy and girl from any homeroom ran a three-legged sack race. Senior, junior, and sophomore class winners were John Racz and Susan Marshall, Peter Loupos and Barb Batt, Craig Clouser and Marie Cadden, respectively.

Following these events, the student body moved outside to the stadium to watch the final moments of the Turkey Trot. Next were the tugs-of-war on the middle of the field in which skills of strength were tested between the faculty and seniors and the juniors and sophomores. Trophies were awarded to the senior boys and girls and the sophomore boys and girls.

A used car, the "Pate-Mobile," was the object of ax blows by volunteers to represent the beating which Freedom was going to receive that night. Concluding the afternoon was the greased-pig contest. Approximately thirty groups of five people each were ready to chase the pigs, greased with vaseline. The two pigs apparently had no sense of humor at all and could not last through more than ten groups. The "Homecoming" was climaxed by the victorious football game that night.

Karen Lechler reigns as the Prom Queen.

... there was a Liberty High School Prom. Many people were there to walk the yellow brick road and dance to the music of the R.D.M. Band. Karen Lechler reigned as the radiant Queen.

Each year it has been the Junior Class who acts as host for the seniors. This year they did an admirable job in providing decorations, which were of the characters in the Wizard of Oz, to create a fairy tale atmosphere. Everyone seemed to enjoy the mood and music of the gala event.

Brita Eklund presented a small Swedish flag as a token of her stay at Liberty.

The theme of the two speakers, Scott Ogilvie and Bruce Merkin, was the struggle to turn today's dreams into tomorrow's realities.

Rev. Boyer and his son Mike both had major roles in the exercises. Mike sang "The Impossible Dream" and his father spoke about "Life's Purpose".

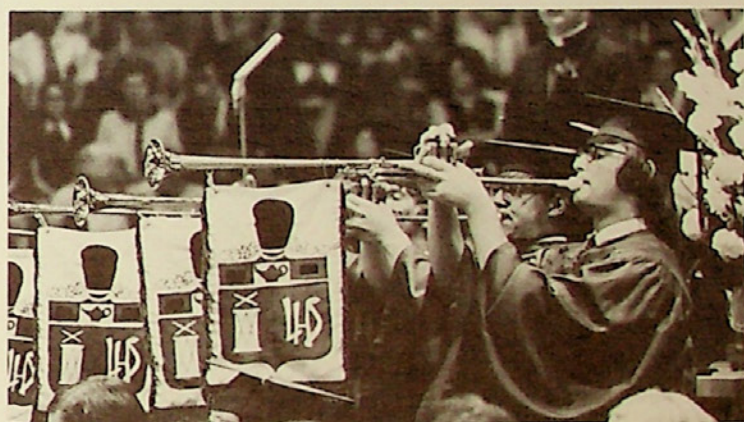

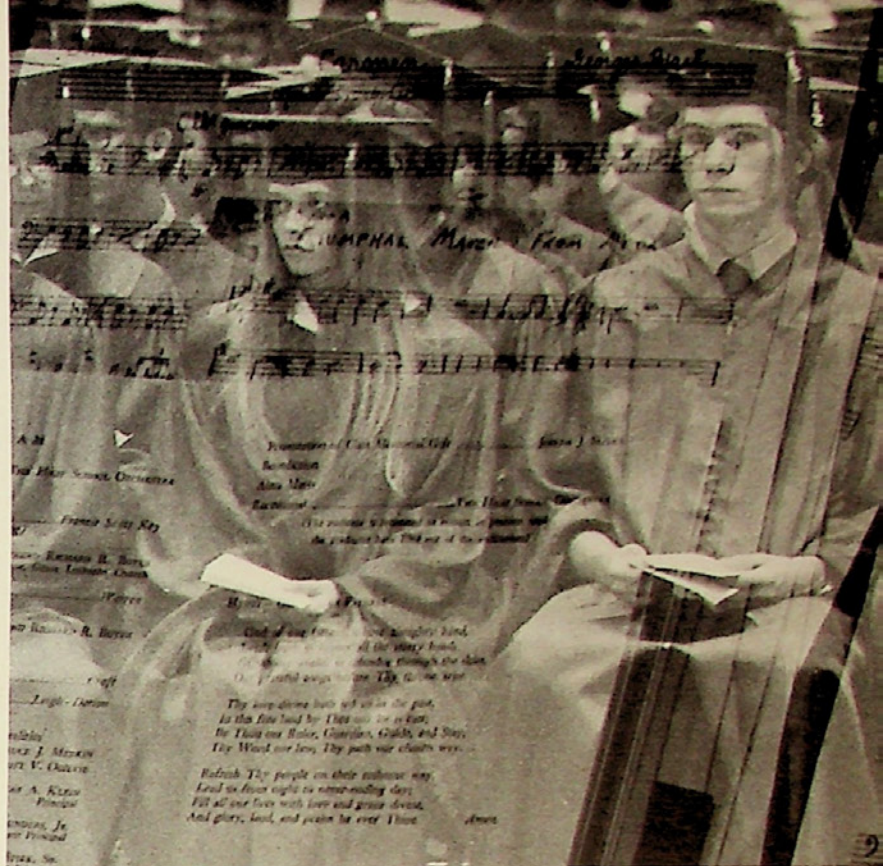

At Ralph's suggestion, the graduates switched their tassels making them alumni of LHS.

Memorial Gymnasium, crowded with people sweltering under arc lights on a warm spring evening, is not an inviting place for someone held within the confines of the traditional cap and gown. But on June 3 the Class of 1972 was there all the same for the very last time as students of Liberty High School. One hour and 40 minutes after the ceremony began, 617 graduates marched out to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance", carrying with them the challenge to turn today's dreams into tomorrow's realities.

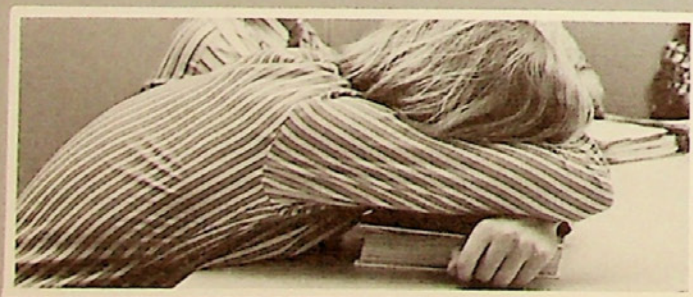

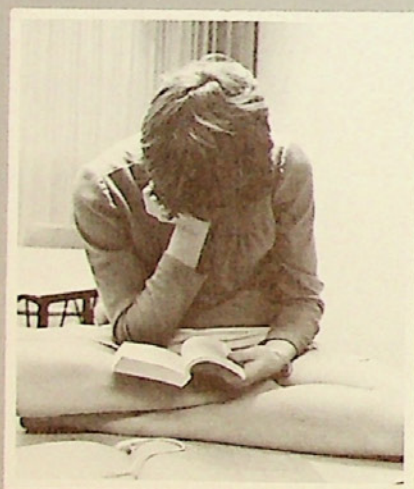

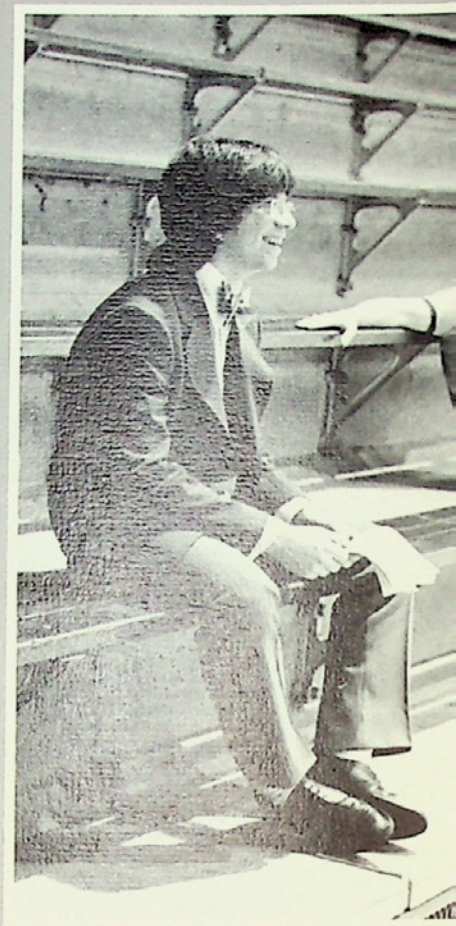

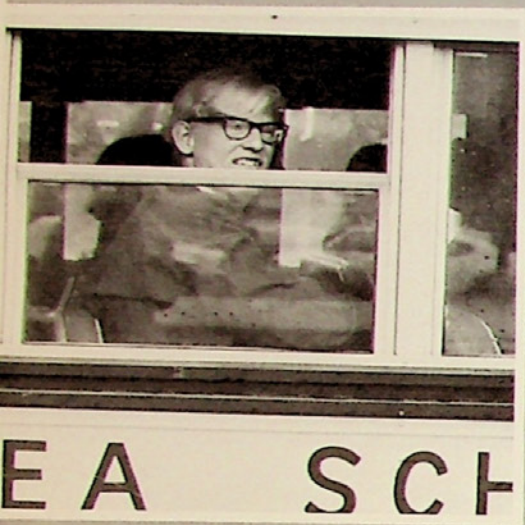

Rev. Richard R. Boyer delivered the Baccalaureate sermon, "Life's Purposes", while student speeches were offered on "The Reality of Today's Dreams" by Bruce Merkin and "The Dreams of Tomorrow's Reality" by Scott Ogilvie. Michael Boyer provided added inspiration with an outstanding vocalization of "The Impossible Dream."

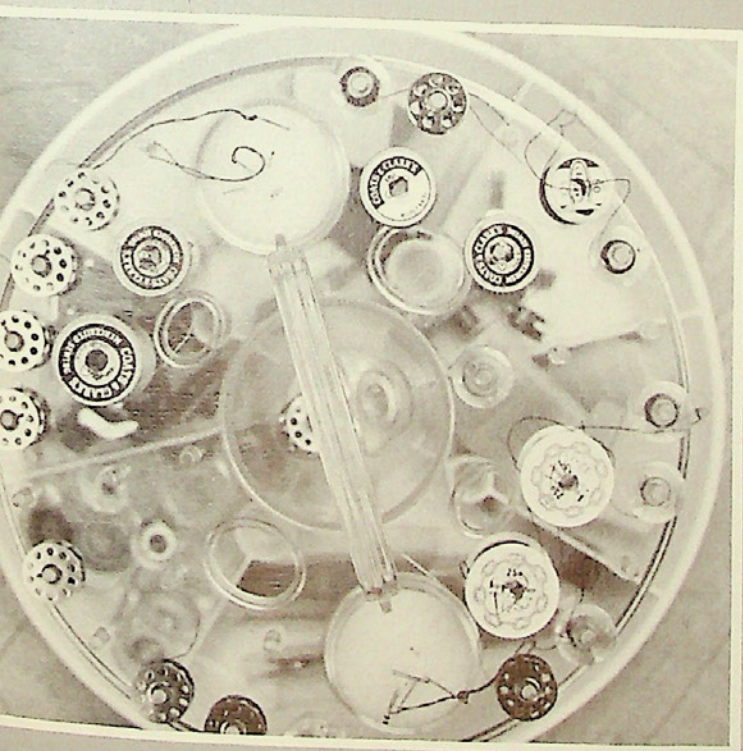

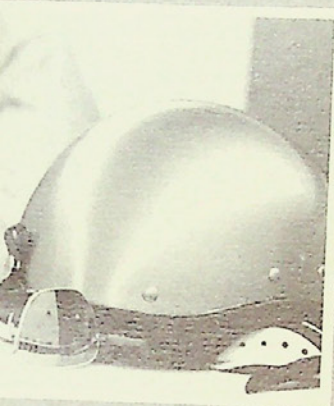

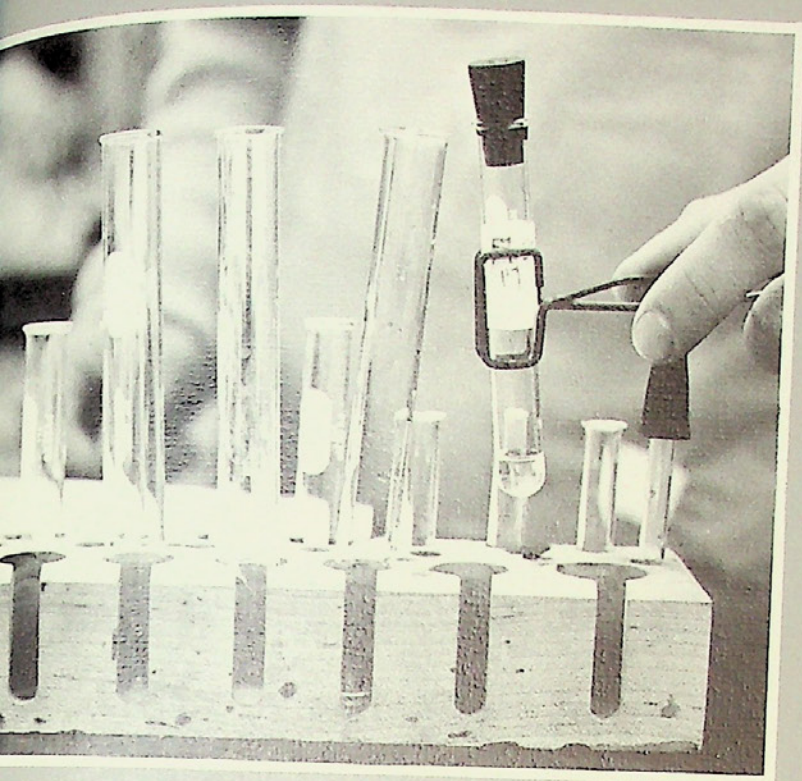

As their last official act, the class officers presented the school with the funds for a park to be constructed on the northeast corner of the campus so that Liberty will always remember the Class of 1972.

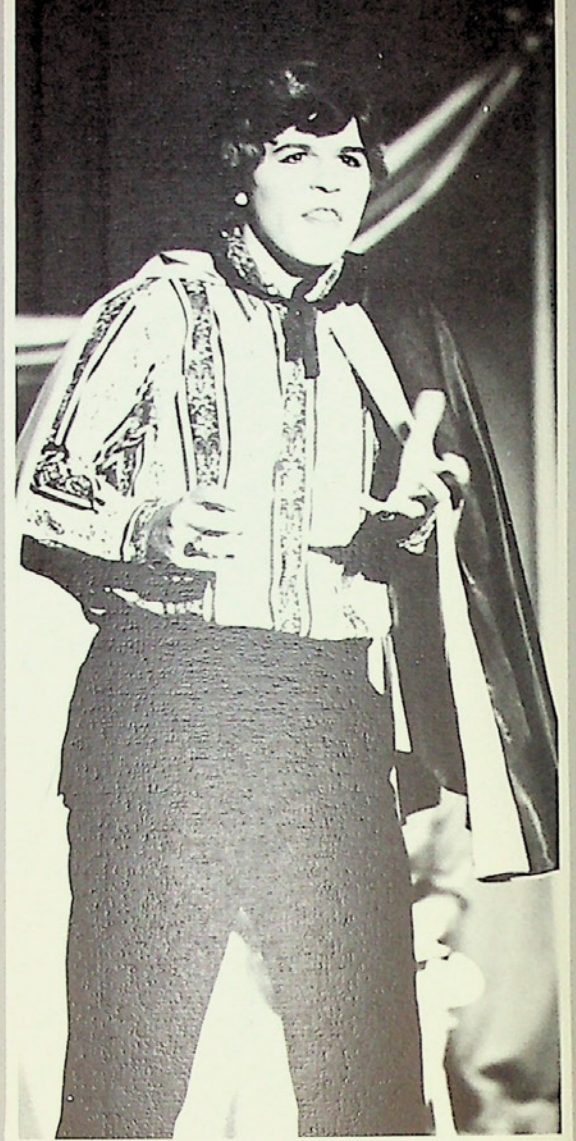

The orchestra, with herald trumpets, played the "Triumphal March" from Aida as the graduates took their places.

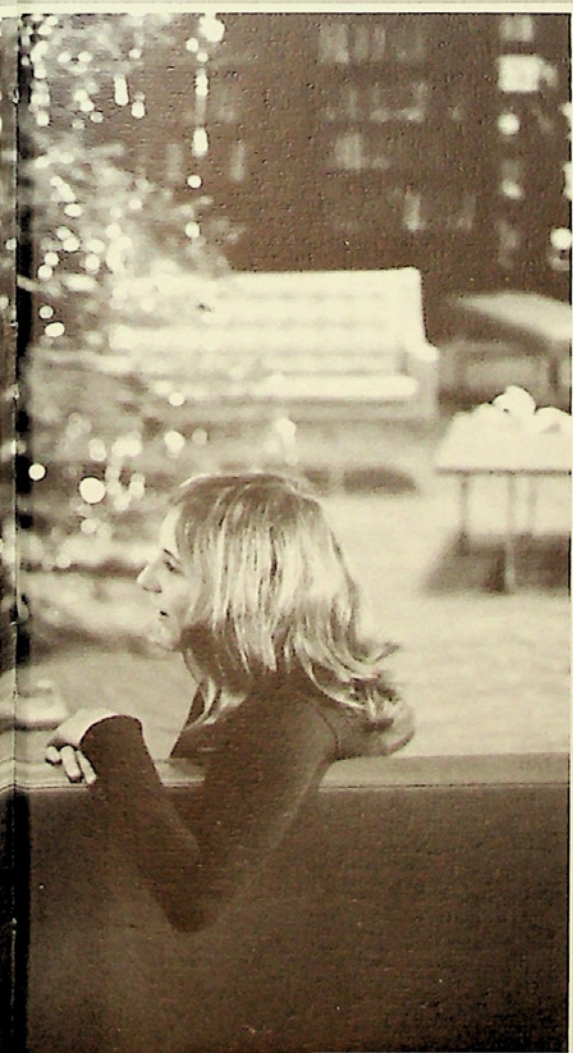

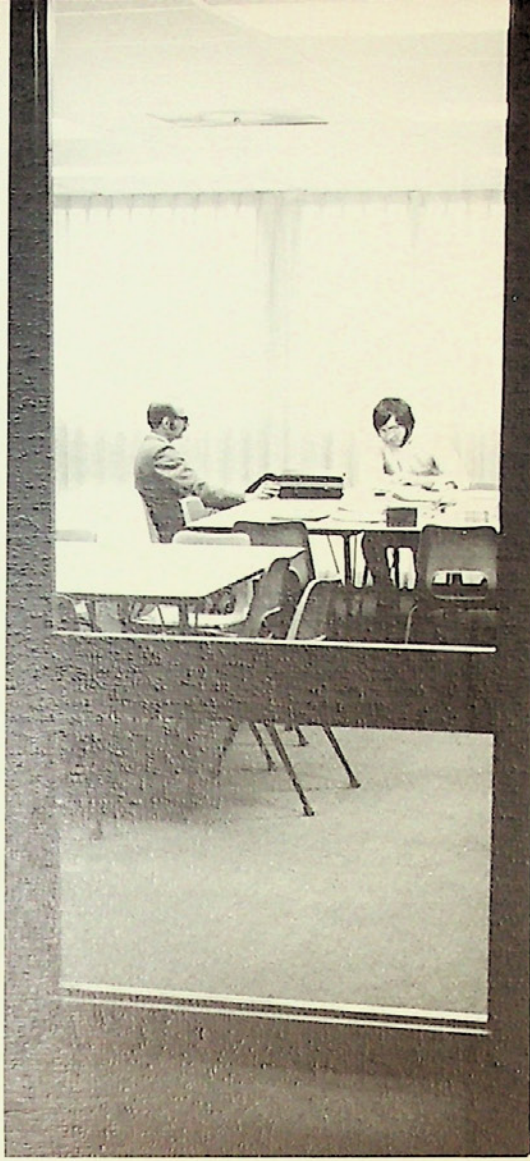

Time it was
And what a time it was . . .

... It was — a time of innocence,

a time of confidences . . .

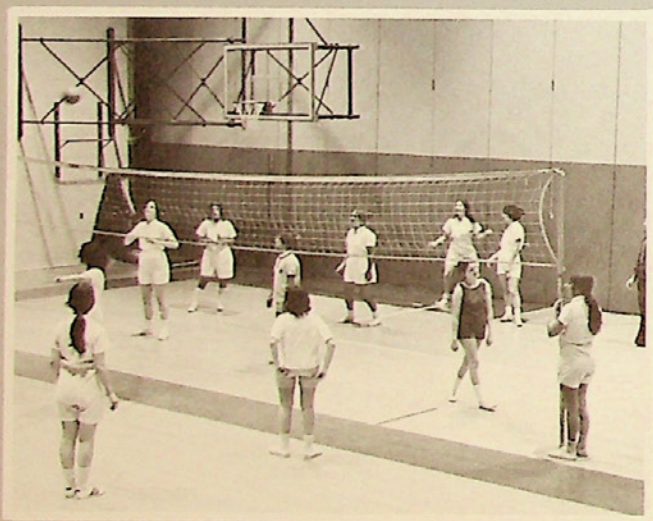

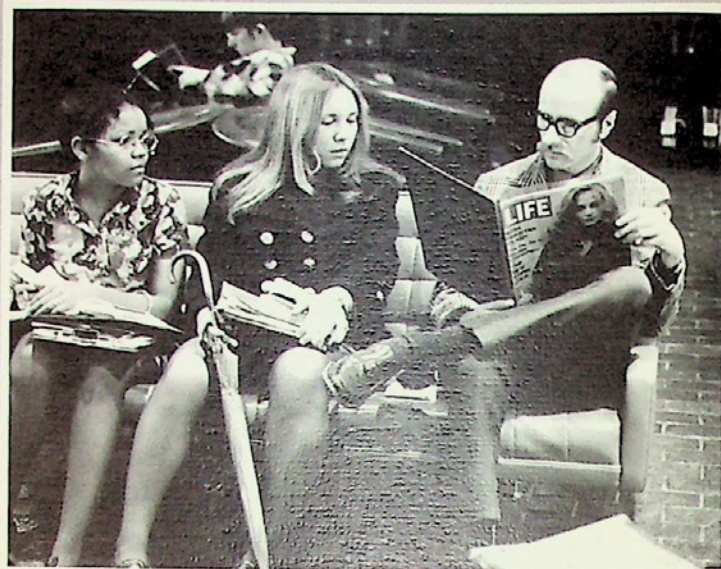

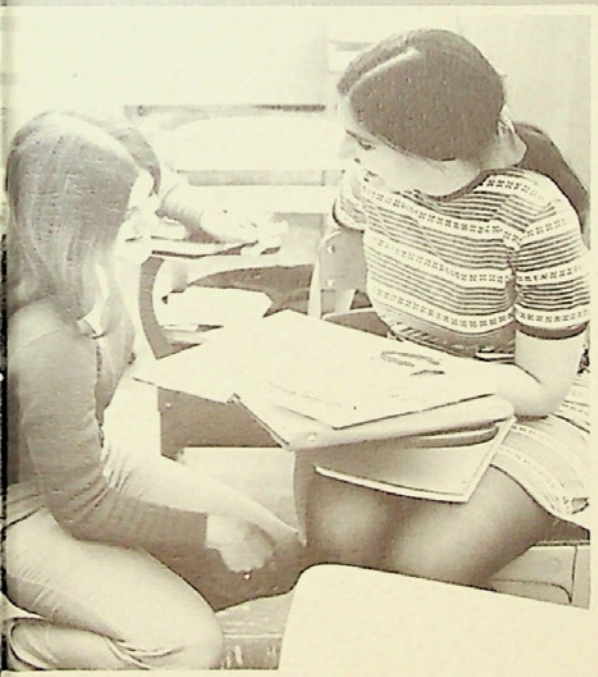

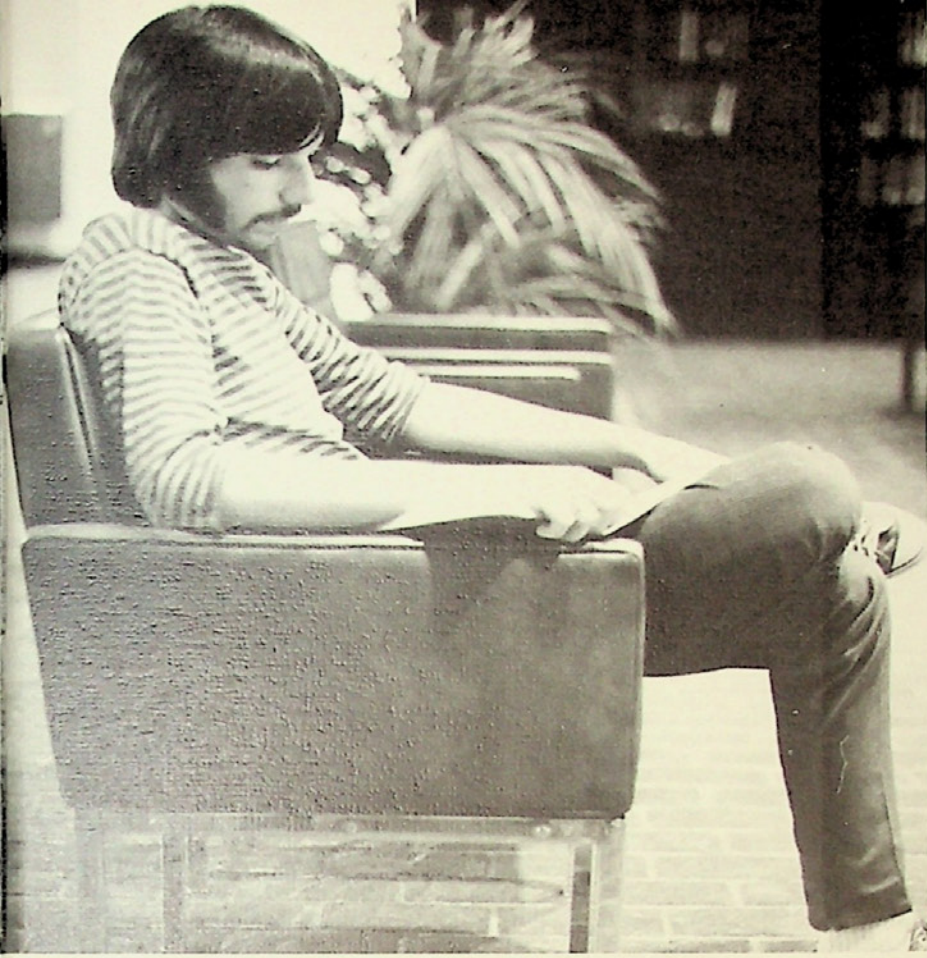

... Long ago
it must be ...

Hail to Alma Mater dear!

Where we've spent our high school years,

Now to Liberty we raise

Voices to extol thy praise.

In thy stately halls we've spent

Hours with hearts and minds content,

Now to thee, dear Liberty High

In our loyalty we cry:

Liberty High School, hail to thee!

Loyal sons and daughters we,

In the future as the past,

We'll be loyal to the last.

Hail the dear old Red and Blue!

To the colors we'll be true.

As the star of Bethlehem shone,

So our love for thee has grown.

In the world where e'er we are,

Nothing shall thy honor mar.

Though the future years pass by,

This shall always be our cry:

Liberty High School, hail to thee!

Loyal sons and daughters we,

In the future as the past,

We'll be loyal to the last.
