

Domiter, Joseph.

Apple-Bobbing Marines in Ireland

FEB 24 1944

Pfc. Joseph Domiter (at right), member of the U. S. Marine Corps from Bethlehem, smiles gleefully as he bites into the apple he salvaged from an apple-bobbing contest in which he came in second to Pfc. G. E. Masters (at left), U.S.M.C., Richmond, Ky. The contest took place during an entertainment for Marines stationed in Londonderry, Ireland. Masters has already consumed his apple. The man in the center is 2nd Lieut. Arthur R. Timmer, U.S.M.C., Grandville, Mich., whose admiration of Domiter's prowess as apple-bobber is plainly written on his face. (Official Marine Corps photo)
