

Saeger, Tryon J.

ELEVEN GRANTED FURLOUGHS

Eleven embryo sailors from Bethlehem, one from Freemansburg and one from Bath have completed their basic training at the Sampson, N. Y., training base of the U. S. Navy and have been given brief leaves. Each man is now eligible for further assignment for specialized training leading to petty officer rating and ship or shore duty.

The Bethlehem lads are Tryon J. Saeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saeger, 1811 Linden Street; Kenneth Steely, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Steely, 407 East Broad Street; Gilbert L. Transue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Transue, 1023 Monocacy Street; Gordon O. Speck, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Speck, 1137 Main Street; Edward J. Wamser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wamser, 1414 Madison Avenue; Leonard P. Achey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Achey, 1602 Monocacy Street; Robert P. Danner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Danner, 334 East North Street; Richard Fogel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fogel, 524 Washington Avenue; John S. Gross, son of Mrs. Mary Gross, 734 Dellwood Street; Frank E. Kadar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kadar, 1618 East Second Street, and John R. Kondash, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Kondash, 733 Jennings Street.

Frank J. Rajki, husband of Eleanor Rajki, 41 West Main Street, Bath, is the sailor from that borough and Samuel E. Overbeck, son of Mrs. Esther Overbeck, 8 Main Street, Freemansburg, hails from that community.
