Lehigh Valley history at your fingertips

BY STACEY A. KOCH LVP editorial assistant

Hey, Lehigh Valley enthusiasts, history buffs and lovers of learning August is for you!

During the weekends this month, several historical sites in the area and beyond are participating in the Lehigh Valley Passport to History program. That's right you have eight days to come learn the amazing history that is, at some locations, right in your backyard.

"Lehigh Valley Passport to History is a partnership of historic sites and resources in and around Pennsylvania's Lehigh and Northampton counties. Let our group connect you with historical activities, events, tours and exhibitions throughout the Valley," the Passport to History website states. "Passport to History Month is a celebration of local history, stories and the community that bring Lehigh Valley history to life. Each weekend in August, participating historic and cultural sites will open their doors to the public with tours, activities and programs for visitors of all ages."

In addition, child-friendly tours and children's activities and games will be available. As a parent of a 4-year-old, who is very energetic, I appreciate when businesses and organizations keep in mind youngsters need a bit more interaction and fun incorporated with the learning.

The following list contains the sites currently participating.

Aug. 14 and 15 · Whitehall Historical Preservation Society,

Whitehall · Horner's Cemetery, Northampton (Saturday

· George Taylor House, Catasauqua (Sunday only)

• 1803 House, Emmaus Alburtis Lock Ridge Historical Society, Alburtis

• Emmaus Historical Society, Emmaus

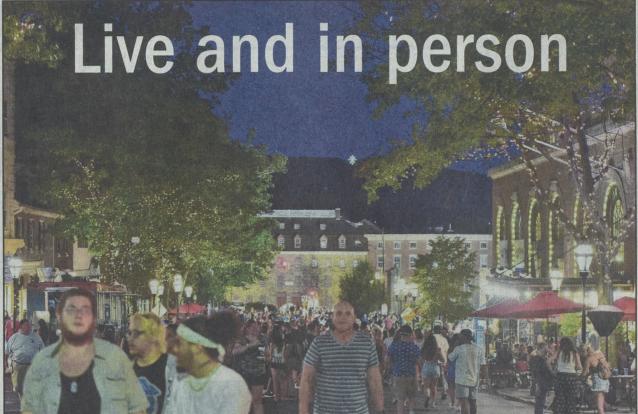

· Forks Township Historical Society, Easton · Lower Macungie Historical Society, Emmaus · Williams Township Historical Society, Easton (Saturday only)

The ArtsQuest Foundation will host Simply Linny, an exclusive Musikfest VIP experience honoring Bethlehem philanthropist Marlene 'Linny' Fowler, on the festival's closing night Sunday, Aug. 15. This event, presented by Cornerstone Advisors, will take place in Terrace 2 of the Wind Creek Steel Stage for headlining act Black Violin.

Mayor Robert Donchez and Bethlehem Parking Authority executive director Steve Fernstrom delivered ceremonial checks at a brief announcement held at Payrow Plaza. "The partnership between the Bethlehem Parking Authority and the City of Bethlehem should be commended," said Donchez to several representatives in attendance from both recipients. "It brings so much energy, vibrancy and engagement with the downtown," added Fernstrom. The donation to the Chamber of Commerce will cover additional Christmas season expenses, event sponsorships, and economic development activities. Taylor, Lenig get their senior season

BY KATIE MCDONALD kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Traditionally, graduating high school seniors who compete on summer swim teams are granted that last summer before college to have one more summer swim season, but since last summer was a COVID one. Suburban Swim League of the Lehigh Valley extended that offer for this summer.

Taking the league up on the offer were Samantha Taylor and Trevor Lenig, both about to enter their sophomore year of college and both members of the Bethlehem Stingrays, formerly known as the Hanover Stingrays.

"I was really hoping they wouldn't cancel the season last year because it had already been two months of the lockdown, so I was like, I want to see my friends again. I was super upset because it was senior year, the last year of swimming so I wanted to have one more," said Lenig.
"I'm really happy they let us come back. I'm having a lot of fun with it.

"I'm having a lot of fun and I'm excited, just because I was really sad that we didn't get our senior year because I've so it's been almost a year been swimming for Hanover/ Bethlehem since I was six," said Taylor, who is also an assistant coach this year.

"I grew up through Hanover and it's super important to me. I was so excited when Evan (Kocon) asked me to coach because I've always wanted to coach. I have the 11-12's during the second practice and then I have the 8 & under girls for the third such a fun age group.'

Although Lenig is not a coach, he's happy to help

"I don't swim in college and a half since I swam, so it's an adjustment for sure,' Lenig said. "One of my favorite things about swimming is racing people. Obviously coming back, it's taken longer to adjust, but I'll take pointers from any coach at any time."

Taylor is a member of the swim team at Shippensburg where the Raiders held virtual meets this season.

'It was good. It was fun," practice, and I love it. They're said Taylor. "We were going to have our PSAC meet the end of April, so we did a couple virtual meets, and then we went to York and swam the conference meet, so it was really exciting because it was the first competition I'd been at since high school states.'

Bethlehem Stingrays coach Evan Kocon was thrilled to have Taylor and Lenig back for one more summer swim

Sugra golf outing's 20th, final year

BY TAMI QUIGLEY Special to the Bethlehem Press

To many, it may seem unreal that this September will mark two decades since the terrorist attacks of 9/11 that shook the heart of America.

For the family of Bill Sugra, who lost his life at age 30 working in the Twin Towers of the World Trade Center in New York City, that tragic and surreal day is never far from thought.

But the family has drawn light from the darkness of that day, raising $1,011,902 over 20 years to distribute to those in need through The Bill Sugra Memorial Fund For Needy and Disadvantaged Peoples - "Making A Million Dollar Difference" as the Sugra family describes it. As part of that total, $127,300.00 is being awarded this

The annual Bill Sugra Memorial Golf Outing is the cornerstone of the organization's fundraising efforts, and, after 20 years, will tee off for the final time Friday, Aug. 27 at Green Pond Country Club, Bethlehem Township.

Bill's parents, Bill Sr. and El Sugra and sister Tracy Sell launched the fund. The golf outing is truly a family event, including Tracy's husband Steven and their young children, Reagan

El Sugra said the fund began Sept. 12, 2001, when an eighth grade student at St. Thomas More School, Allentown, sent a note to now recently retired pastor Msgr. John Murphy suggesting proceeds from the school's annual walk-a-thon be set aside for the Sugras in case they found Bill and needed the money for his hospital bills. The Sugras have been St. Thomas More parishioners since 1973.

"On that very day The Bill Sugra Memorial Fund was born, not only for our family, but for others," El Sugra said.

"The golf outing has become our family, so this will be very emotional and bittersweet," El Sugra said of the upcoming final event. "We have had such an overwhelming response to this golf outing.'

The enthusiastic response to the final outing has resulted in 144 golfers set to hit the greens at a noon shotgun start. Children will participate in the Lehigh Valley First Tee Program, a junior golf morning event where children receive instruction from PGA professional volunteers. New this year is a morning golfing event that came about through Tom Santangelo, a Theta Chi fraternity brother of Bill Sugra at Indiana University of Pennsylvania (IUP). Santangelo had previously played in the golf outing and wanted to participate in the last one, but the field had filled by March because of the heightened interest in this being the last event. So Santangelo and approximately 40 fellow fraternity brothers and others from the waiting list will tee off in the morning.

Santangelo had pledged a semester "Bill was a very good friend and fraternity protner. It is so amazing what you all have done to honor Bill in such a tragic situation," Santangelo told the Sugra family. "He was an amazing brother to all of us. Back in 2015, I was able to take my family to the 9-11 memorial reflecting pools and found Bill's name and paid my respects.'

While the Sugra family chairs the event, they will be joined by much appreciated co-chairs Jim Finnegan and Chris Birkhead. Msgr. Murphy will offer the prayer.

The day will wrap up with a dinner at Green Pond that includes a raffle and silent auction.

This year's title sponsors are Jim and Lynne Finnegan and HatTrick Technology Solutions

Platinum sponsors are Robert and Kristen Bennett, The Sell Family, I.B.E.W. Local Union 375, Plumbers Local Union 690 and One Financial Services - Jack Marrone.

Past grant recipients include Allentown Area Ecumenical Food Bank, Allentown Symphony Association, Greater Lehigh Valley Muscular Dystrophy Association, Lehigh County Conferbefore Bill Sugra at IUP. ence of Churches, Liberty Bell Shrine, Lutheran Congregational Services, Meals on Wheels Lehigh County, Meals on Wheels Northampton County, Pediatric Cancer Foundation of the Lehigh Valley Inc., Pennsylvanians for Human Life, Sacred Heart Hospital, Special Olympics Lehigh County, The Salvation Army Sunday Dinner and Third Street Alliance for Women and Children.

The fund will continue after the golf outing ends. Contributions can be made through the fund's website https:// billsugramemorialfund. com/.

Gathering before the start of the 2020 golf outing tournament are, from left, El Sugra, mother of Bill Sugra; Jo-Ann Kelly; Chuck Kelly; Bill Sugra Sr., father of Bill Sugra; Doe Levan; and Nate Snoke. "Each and every foursome is very special to us. We are so blessed with the continued love and support," El Sugra said that day.

Singer-Songwriter-Guitarist Phillips performs on the Wind Creek Steel Stage at PNC Plaza on Musikfest's opening night. Phillips came to fame as the 11th season winner of the ABC television singing competition show "American Idol." His popular songs include "Home," which is the best-selling individual song in "American Idol" history, "Gone, Gone, Gone" and "Magnetic." Phillips has a rootsy, folk rock sound and often told stories that related to songs performed. He said early in the performance that he felt a little nervous, since this was his first time back on stage after the forced hiatus during COVID, but stressed he felt great to be here for the crowd who came to see him play. Phillips encouraged the show attendees to participate in the song "Home" that revealed an undeniable energy toward inclusiveness and healing after a very difficult period historically.

Hughes appointed to fill Weber's seat

BY CHRIS HARING Special to the Bethlehem Press

Hellertown Council gained a new member Aug. 2, as four applicants for the vacant seat created by the resignation of Phil Weber joined the evening's meeting to be interviewed. Only one would ultimately be nominated for the interim term, which expires Dec. 31. Council members asked questions of each applicant, asking for opinions on topical items such as the recent Hellertown Pool controversies, among other queries.

Kevin Smith, who retired from the Pennsylvania state police as a sergeant in March and is currently employed by the Carbon-Lehigh Intermediate Unit as a school resource officer, was the first potential addition. Hughes said he views council as community service and not "a political soapbox or... stepping stone," while Smith said he did not want to be "beholden" to any political party.

After Hughes was subsequently sworn in by the mayor, Rieger encouraged the three applicants who weren't selected to apply to fill two current vacancies on the Planning Commission. Applicants for the vacancies should submit letters of interest to borough manager Cathy Hartranft by Sept. 10, according to an Aug. 3 post on the borough's Facebook page. Rieger also pointed to other opportunities to serve the borough, such as on the Civil Service Commission. "I encourage everybody, don't go anywhere," he said.

In other businss, Rieger, citing recommendations from "council leadership along with our labor attorney and staff," proposed changes to the borough COVID-19 mitigation policy due to what he "recent virus called breakthroughs in the Hellertown workforce.' Beginning Aug. 3, he said, all unvaccinated staff, visitors, vendors, guests and subcontractors would be required to wear a mask when entering Hellertown municipal building.

Borough employees who wish to remain mask-free would be required to show proof of vaccination by the morning of Aug. 5, he added. Council member James Hill was the only 'no' vote on the motion.

'Christmas in July' delivers sunshine to Young cancer warriors

BY ED COURRIER Special to the Bethlehem Press

The Pediatric Cancer Foundation of the Lehigh Valley brought abundant sunshine to the families of cancer warriors with their Christmas in July event July 24 at Pavilion No. 3 in Upper Macungie Township's Grange Park.

"It's just a really nice afternoon in the park for a lot of deserving families," said Executive Director Michelle Zenie. While PCFLV usually hosts a family party every summer, this is their first "Christmas in July" themed event.

'We probably will make it an annual event," she envisioned.

Activities included games, art projects, and appearances by Mulan, Ariel and Minnie Mouse, plus some elves. Each child battling cancer and their siblings brought home Christ-

The families, arriving from all points of the compass, also enjoyed pizza, pretzel bites and the event favorite, shaved ice.

Looking like a fuzzy snowdrift, "Caesar," a therapy dog owned by Dan Serbia from Alburtis, provided comfort to those attending the event. The 12-year-old White Magic Samoyed found plenty of comfort as McCoy Rapa from Schnecksville and John Notchey from Bethlehem scratched his back. McCoy is diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia and John with Stage 2 Hodgkin's

According to volunteer Jasmin Boyd, the tree she created for the PCFLV event is inspired by the one from "A Charlie Brown Christmas." The Mt. Pocono resident decorated it with colorful flowers and leis to reflect the "Christmas in July" theme. She has been battling leukemia for two and a half years.

lymphoma. Both have responded well to treatment

"They have been very good to us," said John Notchey, a Liberty HS senior, referring to PCFLV.

Gregory Smith, diagnosed with germinoma brain cancer in 2016, and two of his siblings, Alyssa and Peter, celebrated a Smith family sweep of a game of bingo. All three Schnecksville residents got to pick their prizes, with Gregory choosing a kazoo. The Smiths also cautiously celebrate four years without a sign of cancer.

The Latimer and Carter families drove down from East Stroudsburg to attend with AJ Latimer, who is on maintenance treatment for T-cell leukemia. Jasmin Boyd traveled from Mt. Pocono to volunteer. She has been battling leukemia for two and a half years.

The Stravinski familv brought Madeline. their leukemia warrior, and her brother, Austin, up from Green Lane to participate.

The foundation successfully pivoted to virtual programming for the families they serve during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

"The hardest part for us was fundraising," said Zenie, as she explained that virtual fundraising efforts weren't as successful as previous in-person ones had been. The executive director expressed hope and optimism that, as COVID restrictions

Will you take the secret 30-day challenge?

When I gave a talk to a women's church group about the sacredness of marriage, I used my own marriage as an example. I told them that while I've always been a prayerful person, that intensified when I married David.

"I spend a lot of time on the knees thanking God for bringing David into my life," I told them.

The women laughed because they recognized pattern of many mar-

A while back I took a always does. class on conflict resolution. What they taught was especially helpful in marriage as well as on the job. While some of the techniques were common sense, I think all participants walked away with a better sense of how to successfully resolve conflict without hard feelings.

In other words, it's not about winning a dispute. It's about paving the way for a better relationship. That's certainly important in marriage. Ever since taking the class, I've been careful not to use inflammatory words in trying to resolve as conflict. Words like "wrong" and "It's your fault" are judgmental and do nothing to advance your cause.

We were told to use words," not phrases "You always do that." I words focus on your feelings, not an attack on the other person.

Some people resort to yelling to make a point. When the other person doesn't see their viewpoint, they yell louder. That never resolves anything because we hear the loud voice, not the message.

Words are weapons. They can wound or they can soothe. Which would you rather?

I recently listened to a talk given by Gary Chapman, author of "The Five Love Languages."

He made the point that when couples are dating they shower each other with flattering words. They often mention what they love about their sweetheart, complimenting they look and the pleasing things they do.

Chapman says that doesn't continue after years of marriage.

Maybe it's because couples start to take each other for granted.

But we weren't to mention we were doing it as part of Chapman's challenge or it wouldn't have the fullest effect.

Oh, that's easy, thought. I'm sure David and I already do that. But then Chapman gave the second part of the challenge. For 30 days we were not to say to others one negative thing about our partner. Don't share anything that would put your partner in a negative light.

Well now, that's harder for me. I sometimes tell my best friend about my frustration with David's meddling in my kitchen.

For instance, when I was gone he went into my cupboard and threw away several good casserole dishes, thinking there was no reason to have more than one or two. He doesn't understand recipes call for specific sizes based on how much you're mak-

Ginger and the Schnappes revive entertainment era

Greg Wood does 'An Iliad' at PSF

BY PAUL WILLISTEIN

It's called "An Iliad." It's not "The Iliad."
"An Iliad," which concluded a two-week run Aug. 1, Pennsylvania Shakespeare Festival, Main Stage, Labuda Center for the Performing Arts, DeSales University, and streamed online, is much more.

In the one-person performance by Greg Wood, it's transcendent.

A key scene is when Wood (The Poet) recites a litany of the names of presumably all of the wars in human history.

Wood enunciates the wars deliberately, slowly and sensitively, pausing ever so briefly for effect.

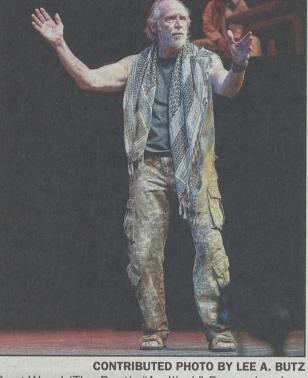

The effect is devastating. You could hear the quiet drop in the Labuda theater when "An Iliad," in its Lehigh Valley premiere, was seen July 24 for this review.

"An Iliad," by Lisa Peterson and Denis O'Hare, is based on Homer's "The Iliad," translated by Robert Fagles.

"The Iliad," an ancient Greek epic poem which is attributed to Homer, was written circa 8th century BC and, along with Homer's "Odyssey," is among the oldest works of Western literature.

"An Iliad" proves to be the very definition of a tour de force performance. Wood is up to the challenge.

Wood enters the stage to a loud percussive sound and is silhouetttale of woe, which is our tale of woe, which is humanity's tale of woe.

In "Jungle Cruise" the movie, it's circa 1916. Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson is Skipper Frank Wolff, a steamboat captain on the Amazon River. Emily Blunt is Dr. Lily Houghton, an English botanist. The duo is reminiscent of Humphrey Bogart, down to the skipper's cap and rascally nature, and Katharine Hepburn, down to the proper attire and prim outlook, in the great director John Huston's "The African Queen" (1951), believed to have inspired The Jungle Cruise ride at Disneyland.

In lieu of Robert Morley from "The African Queen," for flibbertigibbet comedic relief, we have Paul Giamatti, as Nilo Nemolato, a jungle boats owner.

Dr. Lily enlists Skipper Frank to head up river in search of the mysterious petals of the Tears of the Moon, purported to have healing powers. Along for the ride is Lily's brother MacGregor (Jack Whitehall), who tried but failed to get England's Royal Society to cough up an arrowhead artifact reputed to be key to finding the petal power (The flowers' representation has a Disney "Beauty and the Beast," (2017) aspect.).

Skipper and Lily go into the jungle, the more grim is the going. To paraphrase Ian Anderson of Jethro Tull, "It's a bungle in the jungle."

I'm a fan of Dwayne Johnson, a Freedom High School, Class of 1990, Bethlehem Area School District product (as it's said in the sports department), who has terrific comedic chops, which he gets to exercise here with the Skipper's bad puns. I wanted more.

Johnson has been making movies at a fast and furious pace: 106 acting credits on the Internet Movie Database since 1996 (including WWE, with professional wrestling a family business). Johnson often gets typecast in Tarzan-like roles ("Hercules," 2014; "Moana," 2016; "Jumanji: Welcome To The Jungle," 2017); remakes ("Walking Tall," 2004; "Get Smart, 2008; "Race To Witch Mountain," 2009) and spin-offs ("The Scorpion King," 2002, his first lead role; "Fast Five," 2011, and its sequels; "G.I. Allentown Rotary fights spread of COVID-19 in Zambia

BY ROSARIA M. STOOPS

Special to The Press

The Rotary Club of Allentown recently approved and sent $500 to the Rotary Club of Mfuwe to help make and distribute face masks to elementary schools in Mfuwe, Zambia.

The funds were originally going to be used toward a toilet block project in a Mfuwe elementary school, but in January, conditions and priorities in Mfuwe changed as the COVID-19 virus became prevalent in the area.

Mfuwe has, so far, avoided an outbreak, but due to recent visitors from both Zambia's capital and other countries coming into the area, the spread of COVID-19 has now become a major health concern.

To help protect the local community, the Rotary Club of Mfuwe asked to use the original $500 donation to make and hand out face masks to more than 20 schools.

The club agreed this was a more urgent priority and could currently do more to help the community.

The Rotary Club of Allentown

President of the Rotary Club of Mfuwe Oscar Mwape Musonda thanked the Rotary Club of Allen"[For the generosity] toward people you have never seen, known or met," he stated, "The only solution for the poor village children and their parents was masking up, so your provision of the $500 went a long way in providing masks for the school children.

"We employed local tailors to make the masks with the Rotary Club of Mfuwe logo, and distributed them to the community."

DRIVERS DELAYING

VEHICLE MAINTENANCE

Many drivers recognize the importance of vehicle maintenance, but a significant percentage of drivers are putting off taking timely care of their cars and trucks. IMR Inc.

surveys 25,000 households each quarter, asking participants how they have serviced and maintained their vehicles. In the first quarter of 2020, much of which occurred prior to the declaration of a global pandemic, nearly 18 percent of respondents indicated they had delayed vehicle repairs or maintenance.

IMR classified "delayed maintenance" as repairs and maintenance that vehicle owners intentionally put off despite knowing the vehicles needed them. That conscious decision to delay maintenance and repairs could prove costly in the long run, as adhering to a routine maintenance schedule is a great way to ensure cars stay on the road longer. In addition, adhering to manufacturer-recommended maintenance schedules is a great way to discover minor issues before they escalate into larger, more costly concerns.

he window of a conference room in the new Lehigh Elementary School has a beautiful view of Blue Mountain.

Except for one thing the old Lehigh Elementary School blocks the view.
That will change when the old school is demolished.

You can see for yourself at the new Lehigh Elementary School, which faces Blue Mountain, the northernmost ridge of the Appalachian Mountains.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony for the new school is 6:30 p.m. Aug. 12.

Open houses for the public are 8 a.m.-2 p.m. Aug. 14 and 5-8:30 p.m. Aug. 18 at the new school, 800 Blue Mountain Drive, Walnutport.

Kindergarten through grade 5 orientation is 5-7 p.m. Aug. 19 at Lehigh Elementary. The orientation provides opportunities for parents and guardians to meet Lehigh teachers, visit classrooms and tour the facility.

Lehigh Elementary School Principal Cassandra Herr and Northampton Area School District Superintendent of Schools Joseph S. Kovalchik sat down July 27 in the school's conference room to talk about the new building as construction crews put on the finishing touches.

Herr has been principal of Lehigh Elementary for four years.

"There are a lot of memories in that building," said Herr, glancing out the conference room window toward the old Lehigh Elementary School, which she attended. "The history of that building has been incorporated in the new building."

This includes a display in the

"We've incorporated some of the old with the new to provide the best education opportunities," Kovalchik said.

The historic photos symbolize this.

To introduce the new Lehigh Elementary to parents and guardians of students who will attend the school, Herr is making in-person visits to township residences, delivering greetings and gift bags and asking if parents have any questions. As of the July 27 interview for this article, Herr had visited 50 households.

"It's been a really nice way to establish relationships. It's been very well received," Herr said of her visits.

Planning for the new Lehigh Elementary School goes back at least new school project. to 2015. Discussions between the NASD administration, school board and stakeholders began in earnest in 2017 when a feasibility study by D'Huy Engineering Inc. concluded that renovating the old 88,000-square-foot school would cost $31.9 million.

NASD school board members voted Oct. 23, 2017, to authorize the Cost of the new 95,000-square-foot Lehigh Elementary School, including demolition of the old school, is $35.7 million.

"We're going to be under budget," Kovalchik said.

Architect is KCBA Architects. Project engineer is D'Huy Engineering Inc.

Key to the new Lehigh Elementary are two STEAM - as in Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Math — education rooms.

"We've made it a building for the current educational requirements that will last a number of years," Kovalchik said.

"We actually have two STEAM labs. One is partnered with the technology curriculum,' said Herr, noting that Lehigh Elementary has a full-time technology teacher. "The other is to encourage cross-curriculum and provide a lot of hands-on for a lot of collaborative opportunities," Herr said.

One of the STEAM labs is linked to a TV studio. Students will make video announcements each school-day morning.

"The scripts are written by the students, and the announcements will be streamed to the classrooms," Herr said.

STEAM lab capacity is approximately 750 square feet.

"Everyone will have access to it," Herr said of the STEAM labs, adding, "It's peer-to-peer learning.

Rooms are set aside for art, music, gym, cafeteria and the library.

'We have some flexible seating in the library," Herr said.

The gymnasium, which has a stage, can be used for basketball, wrestling and concerts.

"That has much more purpose than use as a gym. It could be used for music programs, chorus, orchestra, band,' Kovalchik said.

"The cafeteria is designed for more efficient use," he added. "We tried to create spaces that are accessible to students at all times."

A southern-facing, turf-covered courtyard, which will be gated, is between two wings of the building. It allows for outdoor classroom teaching, lunch and events.

There are four classrooms for kindergarten on the first floor. There are four classrooms each for grades 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 on the second floor. There are seven classrooms for special education. There is one classroom for Colonial Intermediate Unit 20 use.

In all, there are 40 classrooms.

"You need additional space than you did years ago," Kovalchik

There will be no prekindergarten classes at Lehigh Elementary for the 2021-22 school year. There might be prekindergarten classes for the 2022-23 school year.

day of classes, Aug. 30, at Lehigh Elementary. Enrollment typically increases in August.

Lehigh Elementary has a staff of 50, including administrators, teachers, teacher aides, secretaries, cafeteria workers and maintenance workers.

Possible community uses at Lehigh Elementary could include an art exhibit, concerts, parent-teacher association meetings, fundraisers and sports.

"We have community access to all areas," Kovalchik said.

The school is designed with security and safety at the fore-front. Each person must be buzzed in at the main entrance. At the front desk, a person's identification will be checked.

Only certain areas will be accessible during public use.

"The building can be gated off," Kovalchik said.

Community uses will be considered Aug. 30 and after. NASD has a request policy for build-

"It's a fully functioning building that can be used for multiple uses for the community and public." Koyalchik said.

After the old Lehigh Elementary is demolished and the site is regraded, reseeded and redesigned, a baseball field and soccer field will be constructed for school and community

In the vicinity of the new school are basket-ball hoops. A new playground is in the back area, or eastern side of the campus, approximately between the new and old buildings.

Bus access and parents' vehicle access will be relocated. There are 12 buses that transport students to Lehigh.

Blue Mountain Drive, approximately between Cashew Drive and Cork Road, is being widened and also lowered about 2 feet to improve drivers' sight lines in the vicinity of the school's entrance and exit.

The window views of Lehigh Township vistas from the new Lehigh Elementary are much improved, even if only a few hundred feet from the old Lehigh Elementary.

The old school had basement classrooms, including for arts, music, gym and the intermediate unit.

Some classrooms had no windows. Other classrooms had basement windows at ceiling height.

With the new Lehigh Elementary School, these and other subjects will be seen in a new light.

"There are lots of new memories to be made," said Herr, smiling and gazing out the window of the conference room in the new Lehigh Elementary School at the old Lehigh Elementary School and beyond to Blue Mountain, soon to be in full view.

hings change.
History remains.
Lehigh Elementary School is at the epicenter of Lehigh Township.

It's also at the epicenter of educational history in Lehigh Township.

"That site is approximately the geographic center of the township. That's why the school was built there in the first place," said Robert Mentzell, Northampton Area School District Board of Education director.

Mentzell is a resident of Treichlers, Lehigh Township, where he's lived for 40 years. He is a retired history teacher, having taught at Northampton Area High School from 1975 to 2013.

Mentzell did a presentation about the history of education in Lehigh Township at the April 29, 2019, groundbreaking ceremony for Lehigh Elementary School, 800 Blue Mountain Drive, Walnutport.

Mentzell wrote about the schools of Lehigh Township in the program for the upcoming ribbon-cutting ceremony for the new Lehigh Elementary School, to be held 6:30 p.m. Aug.

The old Lehigh Elementary School opened Feb. 13, 1956. Groundbreaking was Feb. 12, 1955. The school cost $655,000 to build. That's roughly $6.3 million in 2021 dollars.

NASD Board of Education President David Gogel was in the first kindergarten class at Lehigh Elementary School

John Becker, NASD Board of Education director, also attended Lehigh Elementary School.

At one time, Lehigh Township had its own school district.

Lehigh wasn't the only township in what would become the Northampton Area School District to have its own school district. In fact, every township, plus two boroughs, had its own school district in what became the 99-square-mile NASD.

There was Lehigh
Township School District, Moore Township
School District, East
Allen Township School
District, Allen Township School District,
Bath Borough School
District, Chapman
Borough School District and Northampton School District.

The one-room school in Chapman is still standing. It was built of slate.

Lehigh Township had as many as 22 one-room schools, but at any one time, usually there were 10 one-room schools. One was Huth's School in Pennsville. The building was torn down. Huth's was believed to date to 1840.

The school districts mostly consisted of one-room schoolhouses. Students were taught until the eighth grade, at which time they took a test to see if they were qualified to advance to what was junior high school and then to high school.

"If you scored decently on the test, then you were allowed to go on to a junior high school or high school level," Mentzell said.

Lehigh Township even had its own high school from 1907 to 1948. It's uncertain where exactly high school classes were held 1907-08. The Berlinsville School building, built in 1909, had one classroom for high school students and three classrooms for elementary school students. There were, on average, 10 to 20 students per class. The building is the location of Teddy Bear Day Care, 4623 Lehigh Drive.

Some Lehigh students in the northwestern part of the township went on to attend Slatington High School. Some in the southeastern portion of Lehigh went on to then Northampton High School.

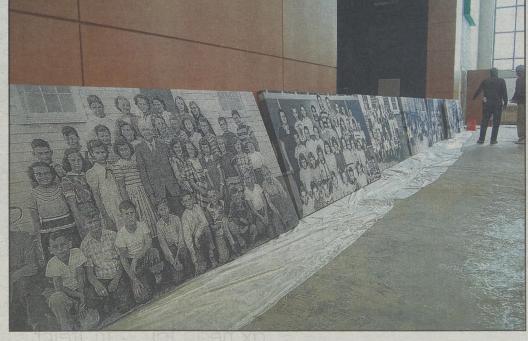

The Lehigh Township School Board had created a Lehigh Township School Authority.

In 1940, the Lehigh Township School Board considered building its own junior high and high school. The plan was never pursued, possibly because of the advent of World War II.

Work to widen Blue Mountain Drive will improve access to and egress from Lehigh Elementary School, on left, in Lehigh Township. The road project began in July 2021.

There was discussion of Lehigh Township School District joining Palmerton Area School District.

Some students in what is now NASD attended Liberty High School or Nazareth Area High School.

In 1948, Lehigh
Township School Board
provided bus transportation to Northampton
Junior High School and Northampton High School, located along Lincoln Avenue. The high school along Laubach Avenue opened in 1960.

"And they could ride the train," Mentzell said. "They had student passes to ride the New Jersey Central from the station in Treichlers to the station in Northampton. They walked from there to the high school on Lincoln Avenue. This was in the 19-teens and 1920s.

"The state recognized after World War II that students couldn't get a full education in a one-room schoolhouse. The state ramped up many of the requirements to encourage consolidation," Mentzell said.

In 1948-49, there were two-room schoolhouses, including Cherryville, Danielsville, Pennsville, Treichlers and Danielsville.

"In Lehigh Township, the one-rooms began to be closed. By the early 1950s, there was only one one-room schoolhouse, and the rest were two rooms," Mentzell said.

Lehigh Township School District ceased to exist Nov. 11, 1969. The Moore Township School District also was dissolved on that date. The new entity was, at first, called Northampton Area Joint School District.

After its construction in 1955, there were renovations to Lehigh Elementary School in 1986 and 1999. For each year, there is a datestone.

Demolition of the old Lehigh Elementary School was to have begun sometime after Aug. 1. The datestones are to be saved. Each, several inches thick, may be displayed in the glass showcase built into the wall near the entrance to the new Lehigh Elementary School.

Contents of the time capsule from the old Lehigh Elementary School may be displayed in the new school's showcase. Items in the copper box include the school dedication program, a set of coins, a list of students and teachers and a Native American ax head found in Treichlers.

Lehigh Elementary School Principal Cassandra Herr is coordinating the contents that will be placed in a time capsule at the new elementary school.

In the new school's gymnasium-auditorium are enlarged archival photos of Lehigh Township students.

A framed montage of Lehigh Township oneroom schoolhouses will displayed in the new school.

The old red school bell that was mounted in 1955 at the entrance to the old Lehigh Elementary School has been affixed to the wall at the entrance to the new Lehigh Elementary School.

Ring out the old. Ring in the new.

Things change. History remains.
