

Worth Jr., Wallace

Sgt. Worth Heads 213th Organization

JUN 25 1945
Sgt. Wallace Worth Jr., has been appointed by Col. L. C. Atwood as temporary Chairman of an organization to consist of former members of the 213th Coast Artillery Antiaircraft. Both Col. Atwood and Sgt. Worth have recently returned to civilian life and desire to obtain the names and addresses of all members of the 213th Antiaircraft Regiment who have returned home. All such men in the Lehigh Valley are asked to send their names and addresses to Sgt. Wallace Worth Jr., 621 Ninth Avenue, Bethlehem.

Families of men who were formerly with this Regiment are asked to bring this to the attention of the members who are still in service, as soon as they return home.

The 213th C. A. (A.A.) was a unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard and was inducted into Federal Service on September 16, 1940. Practically all men who were with the Regiment at that time have more than the 85 points necessary for release from active duty at this time. Those who went overseas have over 100 points. Many are already home and it is expected that several more will be released from service during the next few months.
