

Kadar, Helen M.

'Tis Stylish to Wear 'Em These Days

Trying on the latest in women's hats, the headgear of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, is Miss Helen M. Kadar, a recruit. Assisting, at the extreme left, is Lieut. Estaline G. Hamm, recruiting officer of Bethlehem, and Lieut. Elsa Krause, officer in charge of the Allentown district.

JUN 25 1943

Miss Helen Kadar Sworn Into WAAC

Miss Helen M. Kadar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kadar, 1618 East Second Street, was sworn into the WAAC yesterday by Lieut. Elsa M. Krause at the Bethlehem office in the Allentown-Bethlehem Gas Company building. She will leave in about three to five weeks for training, probably to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

Miss Kadar attended Bethlehem schools and is in the employ of the Sarco Company. She has two brothers serving in the United States Navy, Nicholas G. Kadar, stationed in Trinidad, and Frank E. Kadar, who has just completed his boot training at Sampson, N. Y., and is now home on furlough.

June 25, 1943