Three Northampton County Men Take Orientation Course

Three Northampton County servicemen recently completed an orientation course in England. The course is designed to bridge the gap between training in the States and combat against the enemy in France, according to an announcement by the Air Service Command.

Included in the group are the following: Lt. Albert A. Kneiss, son of Joseph J. Kneiss Sr., of Route 4, Bethlehem; Sgt. James F. Bucchin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Bucchin, of 246 East North Street, Bethlehem, and Cpl. Frank J. Suranofsky, husband of Mrs. Irene E. Suranofsky, of Main Street, Bath.

Prior to entering the Army Air Forces, Lt. Kneiss was employed as a billeteer operator at the Bethlehem Steel Company, while Sgt. Bucchin was a student at the Bethlehem Technical High School, and Cpl. Suranofsky was employed as a packer by the Lone Star Cement Corporation of Nazareth.
