

Dally, John T.

New Flight Officer

JUL 22 1944

John T. Dally, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dally of 437 Broad Street, Pen Argyl, recently completed an eighteen-week intensive training course to become a bombardier in the Army Air Force. He took this training at the Central Flying Training Command Bombardier-Navigation School at Childress Army Airfield, Childress, Tex.

With the completion of the course, he received the title of a Flight Officer and received his Silver Bombardier Wings. The completion of this training program qualifies him as a bombardier and navigator for duty in any of the Army Air Force Bomber Commands.

Dally recently spent a furlough with his parents after which he went to the New England States for further service and instruction.

He is a graduate of Pen Argyl High School, class of '40. While in school he participated in sports, being a member of the football team and the school basketball team.

Prior to enlisting he was employed under the Civil Service program at the Middletown Air Depot, Middletown, Pa.
