

Falatek, John G.

Former Globe-Times
Carrier In England

Mrs. Agnes Falatek, 418 Atlantic Street, received a V-mail letter from her son, Pfc. John G. Falatek, stationed the past year in England with an anti-tank company. He is in good health and writes that he feels sorry to hear about his cousin, Paul Falatek, who is an Italian prisoner.

He made week-end visits to London and enjoyed them. Better known by his friends as "Fats," he played baseball in the Catholic League. He was a former Globe-Times carrier for many years.

AUG 26 1943

August 26, 1943