

Counts, Charles M.

Grim Work—This Business of Warfare

Here we see a photograph passed by the U. S. Army censors showing Pvt. Charles M. Counts, 24, of 637 12th Avenue, Bethlehem, setting the fuse on a 155-millimeter shell. He is engaged in live fire practice with his field artillery unit "somewhere in England."

September 17, 1943