

Lunger, James B.

Sailor Graduate

A metalsmith in Uncle Sam's Navy now is Seaman James B. Lunger, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lunger, 639 Fourth ave. Lunger graduated at Great Lakes Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., and is now awaiting assignment. He was home last week on 32 hour "shore leave" and celebrated his 27th birthday with his family. He's a former Bethlehem Catholic High student and a member of SS. Simon and Jude Church. He enlisted last September 6, was sworn in on the 24th and left for Great Lakes October 9. He formerly was in the heat-treatment department in the central tool shop, Bethlehem Steel Co., so his present work in the Navy is "right up his alley."
