Gadfly:

I agree with Dana, and I’m concerned the consequences are more negatives than positives. Also, I still can’t believe they called that a “Public Meeting” — more than half of attendees were city administrators, Lehigh employees, or project-related staff, and the other half was in great majority Lehigh students. I wonder how they advertised it. I doubt the community knew about it. At least families from Broughal Middle School should have been made aware.
