

Neumeyer, James H.

Lauded for Work

James H. Neumeyer, Aviation Radioman 2/C, this city, was one of the ten enlisted men and two officers attached to the U. S. Coast Guard Air Station, San Diego, to receive commendations from the commandant of the U. S. Coast Guard, for their display of courage and efficiency during rescue missions performed by the Air Sea Rescue Unit.

The commendations were presented by Commander D. B. MacDiarmid during informal ceremonies intended by base personnel.

In distributing the award, Commander MacDiarmid stated that "although these commendations are being received by a few, they symbolize the great work that is being done by all those attached to this station."

May 28, 1945