

Andrews, Harry J.

Walnutport Man Made Lieutenant Colonel

Harry J. Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Andrews of Walnutport, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Army. He is presently commanding an ordnance battalion somewhere in Australia. He had the honor recently of conducting General MacArthur about the battalion area.

He was called to active duty in November, 1940, and served at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.; Fort Bliss, Texas, and Fort Lewis, Wash. In September, 1942, he was sent overseas where he participated in the Papuan campaign in New Guinea.

His wife, with their son and daughter, reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Cameron, 2605 Allen Street, Allentown.

Before entering active duty, he was employed by Congoleum-Nairn Inc., as assistant chief chemist of the Marcus Hook plant. He is a graduate of Slatington High School and of Lehigh University.

Jun 14 1943