Mayor Rosado to leave office

BY TRACY RICE
Special to the Bethlehem Press

Mayor Jose Rosado has announced that he will not be running for re-election at the end of this term. "I have been mayor since 2011 and I feel a great sense of accomplishment during my time in office," he told council recently. "Morale in the borough is excellent, and there have been no grievances regarding the police department in three years."

Before the hiring of Police Chief Ed Bachert, grievances were made several times a week, Rosado said. The police department has hired four new officers since 2012, new computers, a new fleet of vehicles, new weapons and good communication with the Lehigh County task force and the district attorney's office have improved public service. Rosado said he feels confident Bachert will continue to keep the department in good standing with the community, and he is looking forward to attending future council meetings as a resident of the community.

Meanwhile borough council has passed an ordinance prohibiting parking on parts of Warren Street from Nov. 1 through March 31. Signs have been put up on Warren Street's west side beginning at the intersection of Moravia Street and extending 500 feet south. The original plan restricted parking on both sides of the street. This restricted parking will help borough employees from

The WORST and BEST of snow days

Last week's snowstorm dumped almost 14 inches on the Bethlehem area, and while adults lamented the effort of trying to keep up with the weather, the children went outside to enjoy an unplanned three-day vacation. Rockland Park off Stefko Boulevard near Just Born Inc. has one of the best sledding hills in town. Last year's winter season totaled 36.2 inches, according to the regional weather service, but most of it was from one whopper storm. If this was the big storm of 2017, our area will have seen a very mild winter. But Bethlehem had it easy; Weather.com reports some areas of Pennsylvania, New York and Vermont received nearly five feet of snow from winter storm Stella.

Who will fill this pulpit at First Presbyterian?

BY BERNIE O'HARE
Special to the Bethlehem Press

The First Presbyterian Church of Bethlehem is unfortunately a church divided. A splinter group calling itself the ECO Presbyterians has been busy nationwide, peeling away congregations from Presbyterian Church USA (PCUSA).

That's an ecclesiastical matter in which courts refuse to involve themselves. But oftentimes, there are property questions. Who owns the real estate on which First Presbyterian Church of Bethlehem stands? Questions like that are decided by a judge.

That's a question currently before President Judge Stephen Baratta. He has already had to play Solomon once and direct the two denominations on when they could hold their Sunday services. He's urged them to work together and has given both factions reason to believe each could lose. But they remain at odds.

It's hard to tell the difference between the two groups, at least on the surface. Both worship the same God, read the same Bible, use the same choir book and have services that are remarkably alike. That was certainly the case during a recent Sunday visit to both groups. The only difference between ECO and PCUSA was a visit from the PCUSA stated clerk, the Rev. Dr. J. Herbert Nelson II.

In the ECO service, Rev. Dr. Mark Krumpler said he needed a softer heart. Quoting Ecclesiastes, he said, "I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit in you; I will remove from you your heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh."

In the later service by PCUSA, Rev. Dr. Nelson referred to the reading from Ephesians: "Be completely humble and gentle; be patient, bearing with one another in love."

Given these admonitions from both sides, it's hard to believe this dispute still lingers. But it does.

And there are differences, and not just on LGBT rights. PCUSA has been open and even had a lunch after their Sunday service in which Nelson answered questions for over an hour. ECO has in contrast been unresponsive. Attempts to reach out in July failed. And they failed again recently as the Krumplers simply refuse to speak to the press.

One thing that stands out about Nelson was his simplicity. When the service started, it was with a parade of PCUSA clerics from all over and a congregation of about 250. The clergy were fully clad in all their religious regalia. Nelson walked behind them, wearing only a plain black suit and a Roman collar. But underneath this simplicity, there's strong conviction. In answering a question about the importance of LGBT rights, Nelson conceded that PCUSA's stands on that and other issues has cost it membership. But he said, "We have to be the church even at the risk of the church losing its life." So it remains a church divided. During a lunch following the service, PCUSA member Paul Watts was shown Council also announced vacancies on both the Planning Commission and Zoning Board. To learn more about these committees visit the newly redesigned website at www.fountainhill.org and click on Administration. You will see descriptions of the Planning Commission and Zoning Board.

While you are there take a look around the new website. It has taken months of painstaking efforts of the board to work with the web design company, 3 Seed Marketing, but be patient as it is still a work in progress. Residents can sign up to receive alerts, emergency information, traffic issues, and snow emergencies from the police department.

Other local items include the police department holding another prescription drug disposal event April 29 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at police headquarters and council granting permission to the Shade Tree Commission to replace the current Christmas tree at Tinsley-Jeter triangle. The current tree has become too large to maintain for Public Works. It will be replaced with another tree that is more manageable.

Finally, the borough is preparing for the annual Fountain Hill Bacchanalia March 25 from 2-4:30 p.m. at the Comfort Suites in Bethlehem.

Tickets are $40 for unlimited wine and food tasting. There are also $25 "Designated Driver" tickets available for food tasting only. Profits benefit borough playgrounds and other recreational facilities used by the public. Special Services With Dave Brady
I invite you to attend coming special services with Evangelist David Brady at Northampton Assembly of God, March 26-31, Sunday at 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m., and Monday through Friday at 7:30 p.m.
Brady is a lively and anointed preacher with a likeable and unique way of powerfully sharing the Gospel. I recall him preaching an inspiring and challenging message several years ago on the story of Jesus turning the water into wine. He likened the empty waterpots to Christians who must be empty of self and then filled with the water of the Word of God and prayer in order to be miraculously used by Christ to meet the needs of people around them through the power of the Holy Spirit (pictured by the water being turned into wine). He emphasized that pots which are empty of the Word of God and prayer and are out in the sun (external pressures) become "crackpots." The congregation roared with laughter at times in appreciation of his ability to humorously communicate spiritual truths, and then they responded to his challenge to greater commitment to Christ by seeking the Lord earnestly around the altar.
Evangelist Brady grew up in a dysfunctional and alcoholic home. By the age of 15 he was on the streets using drugs and alcohol, but nothing satisfied! One night, he was drinking with his friends in the woods. He recalls, "The more that I drank, the more empty I felt. I began smashing beer bottles against the trees yelling 'There has to be more to life than this!'" As he returned home, he heard the Sunday morning bells of a church compelling him to come. There, at the age of 18, he heard the message of salvation and came to Christ. The Lord set him free from drugs and alcohol and called him into the ministry. For over 35 years, he has been preaching the Gospel and helping free others from the bondage of sin and destructive habits.
I urge you to come and bring others who need spiritual help with you.

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY Council approves prosecutors, Problem Court Administrator

BY BERNIE O'HARE
Special to the Bethlehem Press

When John Morganelli was first elected district attorney, he had a staff 13 part-time assistants. Though those attorneys are now senior prosecutors who can be counted on to try the most difficult cases, Morganelli has gradually replaced departing part timers with career prosecutors. On March 16, he asked county council to approve the elimination of two vacant part-time assistant DA positions so he could create two full-time positions for experienced prosecutors who will be paid a salary of $59,084 each. He said he could find the money for this within the approved budget for his office.

Morganelli recently lost one of his top prosecutors, Kelly Lewis, to the U.S. Attorney's office. His white collar specialist, Bill Blake, is battling a serious illness. Two others have been recruited by the FBI. "It sort of felt like the Titanic down there in the DA's office," he joked. At the time he first made his request, his office was in trial on three different homicide matters simultaneously. All resulted in first degree murder convictions with a life sentence. Since that time, there have been three homicides in Palmer Township alone, as well as a rash of cellphone store robberies.

"We're really, really pressed for experienced folks," he told council. Adding experienced prosecutors "will enhance our office. I think we do a good job of prosecuting serious crime in this county, and with your help, we'd like to continue to do that."

With no discussion, council unanimously approved Morganelli's request. His office now includes just four part-time DAs.

In other business, Judicial Law Clerk Stephanie Spencer was approved to a new hybrid role as both a law clerk to Judge Craig Dally as well as the Problem Solving Courts Administrator. Though there was some concern about what special qualifications a judicial law clerk might have in that post, Judge Craig Dally answered them. Spencer's initial training is in social services, and she decided on law as a second career.

She will be administering both the Drug Court and Mental Health Court.

The drug court has 33 people enrolled and two graduates. Judge Dally explained that it takes 18-24 months to complete the program. This is a post-conviction court.

Mental health court has just 14 participants, but there are six graduates. This is a diversionary court in which charges are dismissed after successful participation.

Efforts are under way to enroll veterans in both courts.

Fisher's salary will increase from $67,425 to $77,566, a $10,141 increase.

A courthouse rumor that her new salary will be over $100,000 is inaccurate. Her combined salary and benefits will be $104,276.

Council President John Cusick, the sole vote against, said other counties are paying more money.

PBS hosts homelessness workshop

BY MICHELLE MEEH
Special to the Bethlehem Press

The bitter cold weather and sharp wind March 11 reminded the meeting attendees, 10 women and five men, gathered at the PBS 39 Community Room, that the needs of the homeless were critical. "I can't imagine what it would be like to be homeless and outside today," one participant said.

The workshop on Homelessness and Housing, sponsored by the Bethlehem chapter of the NAACP, featured discussion with Eugene Gonzalez, executive director of the Bethlehem Housing Authority, and Allyson Lysaght, City Housing and Development planner.

Esther Lee, NAACP chapter president, said the solution calls for more than just homeless shelters. "I'm looking for a place where homeless people can call home," she said. "To know every night where you are going to lay your head."

Pam Lewis, case manager at New Bethany Ministries, said she attended a webinar with state representatives on March 9 which focused on the proposed cuts in federal Housing and Urban Development funding. "There is a crisis," Lewis said. She said many representatives are against funding cuts in the HUD budget. "They don't support this. They are hearing that this is not something we support. That gave me a little hope," Lewis said.

Lysaght said the city faces a potential loss of $350,000 in HOME funding and $2 million in Community Development Block Grant funding, both of which come from the HUD budget.

Lewis said New Bethany has a hospitality center, called Mollard Center, located at the corner of Fourth and Wyandotte streets. The center, open from 7-5 daily, offers meals and public showers. New Bethany Ministries also works with Haven Health to offer psychiatric services and the Lehigh Valley Health Network's "Street Medicine" program.

The proposed funding cuts are threatening New Bethany's transitional housing program, which assists people who need housing, "not because they are not working. They don't have a liveable wage." Participants are taught life skills to build their self-sufficiency.

Gonzalez also discussed the uncertain funding, saying, "for the first time we don't know" whether funding will continue. "The affordable housing need has never been greater," he said. Currently there is a 5-6 year waiting list, with 1952 families (typically a mother and child) in the city waiting for housing. The waiting list for the high rises, which are for singles, seniors and people with disabilities, is about 2 1/2 years, Gonzalez said.

Cordelia Miller, NAACP first vice president, said there are dilapidated buildings in the city in need of restoration. She said she was glad to see blighted properties in the city being restored, since the renovated buildings can be used to ease the housing need in Bethlehem. "The mayor has taken a stand to do something about it," she said. Lysaght said city staff members use an app to track and report blighted properties in need of repair.

Lee said it was up to community groups like the NAACP to get involved. "We need to speak to these issues. We need to start backing things up" to strengthen families in the city who need affordable housing. "These are communities but they are not strong. All of us are in one pot," Lee said. "We're looking for solutions. We have to pull this together. Children are sacrificed. We need to do more for families."

Miller said housing will be most effectively addressed on the city level. "We're taking a whole generation of children and putting them at risk." She suggested they could help the city by working with landlords to help with the housing crisis. "We need to figure out a way that we can support you," Miller said to Gonzalez and Lysaght.

Lewis also said there is a need for someone to advocate pro bono for people facing eviction from bad landlords.

Officer Kris Shirk of Bethlehem Police Department said officers are on the lookout to help homeless people, especially during cold weather, to avoid a potential tragedy. "We find them," he said. Local churches take turns offering shelter during overnight hours, and Officer Shirk said there is a no turn down policy. Lysaght said the city is looking to arrange an all-day site for the homeless.

She said the recent improvement in conditions on the Southside has had an unforeseen effect; that some people who lived there can't afford the increased rent and are moving to the north and west sides of the city.

Who's running in Northampton County?

BY BERNIE O'HARE
Special to the Bethlehem Press

Candidates from both major parties filed nomination petitions last week for the municipal primary May 16. There are several hot magisterial district judge races. The Saucon Valley School Board race should be contentious, too. But it looks like it will be a quiet primary.

County races. - Barring a successful write-in campaign, Bethlehem Attorney Lamont McClure will be the Democratic nominee and incumbent John Brown will be the Republican candidate. McClure will head a ticket that includes five Democrats seeking five at-large seats on Northampton County Council. They are Pete Melan, Lori Vargo Heffner, Ron Heckman, Bill McGee and Tara Zrinski. Brown is at the helm of a Republican ticket that includes incumbents Peg Ferraro, Hayden Phillips, Glenn Geissinger and Seth Vaughn. Ron Angle has also added his name to the Republican ticket.

Bethlehem City races. - Incumbent Mayor Bob Donchez and incumbent Council members Eric Evans, Bryan Callahan, Olga Negron and John Waldron have no oppo-

Veteran police officer Fred Lahovski seeking judgeship in Bethlehem.

Lower Saucon Township - There are three candidates for two open seats. They are Republicans Glenn Kern and Ron Horiszny, and Democrat Ryan Stauffer.

Bethlehem Area School Board - In Region 1, Rogelio Ortizis is the sole candidate for one seat. There are also four candidates seeking three at-large spots. Mike Faccineto (the current President), Shannon Patrick and Angela Sinkler have all cross-filed. John Gallagher is running as a Republican.

nents in either the primary or general election. They are all Democrats.

Bethlehem Township. - President Michael Hudak, a Democrat, has no opposition to his seat in the second ward. Three candidates are seeking the open fourth ward seat. They include Democrats Philip Grieshaber and Republicans John Merhottein and Paul Weiss.

Freemansburg. - There is a contested mayoral race. Incumbent Gerald Yob faces a primary challenge from Donald Lasso. Both are Democrats. No nomination petitions have been filed for three borough council seats.

Hanover Township. - Two seats are up this election cycle. Mark Tanczos has decided to step down. Incumbent John Nagle, a Republican, and Susan Lawless, a Democrat, are the only two candidates Hellertown. - Funeral Director David Heintzelman, a Democrat, is running for mayor, with no opposition. For four open borough council seats, only Democrats James Hill and Thomas Rieger have filed.

Saucon Valley School Board. - There are eight candidates for four open seats. They are Cedric Dettmar, Sandra Miller, Jack Dowling, Tracy Magnotta, Scott Bashak, Joseph Harvey, Shamim Pakzad and Matthew Milliren. All but Milliren, a Democrat, have cross-filed.

Magisterial District 03-2-11 (City of Bethlehem Wards 5, 15, 16 and 17; Freemansburg Borough) - Four candidates are seeking this open seat: Nick Englesson, Jon Whittington, Will Power and Fred Lahovski. All but Democrat Lahovski have cross-filed.

Democrat Pete Melan and Republican Ron Angle both running for NorCo Council.

Easton City Council candidate Taiba Sultana and Bethlehem City Council candidate Olga Negron add diversity and a different viewpoint.

Magisterial District 03-2-04 (Hellertown and Lower Saucon Township) - Four candidates seek this open seat: Alan Mege, Bob Mateff, James Hill and David Repyneck. All have cross-filed.

Magisterial District 03-1-04 (Bethlehem Ward 14 and Hanover Township) - Judge Jim Narlesy is stepping down. The four candidates who wish to suc-

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICALS

STORIES AND PHOTOS BY ED COURRIER

With the spotlight on Lehigh Valley high school musicals on the road to the annual Freddy Awards at the State Theatre Center for the Arts in Easton, the Lehigh Valley Press Focus section continues its annual preview series.

Northampton 'Anything Goes'

"Anything Goes" sails onto the stage at 7 p.m. March 30, 31, April 1 and 2 p.m. April 2 in the auditorium of Northampton Area High School, 1619 Laubach Avenue, Northampton.

The musical comedy, written by Guy Bolton and P.G. Wodehouse with music and lyrics by Cole Porter, and later revised by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, debuted on Broadway in 1934.

The show, set aboard an ocean liner, is about the misadventures of stowaway Billy Crocker, who falls in love with American debutante Hope Harcourt. Crocker is aided by gangster Moonface Martin and nightclub singer Reno Sweeney in his pursuit of the heiress, who is engaged to stuffy Englishman Lord Evelyn Oakleigh.

Gianna Beleno is director, music director and choreographer of the Northampton Area High School production. She is assisted by technical director Cassandra Saulski, set designer Damon Gelb, set builder-advisor Adam Burke and pit orchestra director Angela Mitchell.

"Anything Goes," "You're the Top" and "I Get a Kick Out of You" are among the featured songs. The 1987 Broadway revival received 10 Tony Award nominations, receiving three. The 2011 Broadway revival received three Tonys of nine nominations.

Bethlehem Catholic 'Oklahoma!'

"Oklahoma!" can- ters onto the stage at 7 p.m. March 31, April 1; 2 p.m. April 2 and 7 p.m. April 7 and 8, auditorium, Bethlehem Catholic High School, 2133 Madison Avenue, Bethlehem.

The Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II musical, based on the 1931 play, "Green Grow the Lilacs" by Lynn Riggs, made its Broadway debut in 1943, winning a Pulitzer Prize in 1944.

The setting is the 1906 Oklahoma Territory where cowboy Curly McLain's courtship of Laurey Williams, a local farm girl, is complicated by rival suitor Jud Fry. A subplot involves McLain's friend Will Parker and flirtatious Ado Annie.

"Oklahoma!," produced by Bethlehem Catholic theater department chairperson Diana Tice, is directed and choreographed by Debbie Acampora. Assisting with the production are music director Joseph Fink, vocal coaches Don Nixon and Gabriel Zurek and acting coach Sean Hartman.

Popular featured songs include "Oh, What a Beautiful Mornin,'" "The Surrey with the

The Allentown Symphony Orchestra, Allentown Symphony Chorus, Charlotte Daw Paulsen, mezzo soprano, and Ashley Milanese, soprano, perform Gustav Mahler's "Resurrection Symphony" No. 2 at 7:30 p.m. April 8 and 3 p.m. April 9 in Miller Symphony Hall, Allentown.

Resurrected and Transformed

Allentown Symphony, Chorus to perform monumental Mahler

CLASSICAL VIEWS

By Diane Wittry

Why do people write music? Why do people search for a meaning of life beyond themselves? What is the purpose of our time on earth? What legacy will we leave behind? And what might we experience after death?

These are questions that have haunted musicians, artists and creative souls for generations and for centuries.

We are continually searching: Pursuing our never-ending quest for answers that we will never confirm.

Remarkably, Richard Strauss, 24, and Gustav Mahler, 28, were both writing music with these thoughts in mind in 1888. Strauss was working on his tone poem, "Death and Transfiguration," which the Allentown Symphony performed in its March concerts program, and Mahler was working on a tone poem, "Todtenfeier," which translates as "Funeral Rites." This piece became the first movement of his 2nd Symphony, which was eventually titled the "Resurrection Symphony."

Mahler wrote the following description of this work:

"We stand by the coffin of a well-loved person. His life struggles, passions and aspirations once more, for the last time, pass before our mind's eye. And now in this moment of gravity and emotion which convulses our deepest being ... our heart is gripped by a dreadfully serious voice ... What now? What is this life - and this death? Do we have an existence beyond it? Is all this only a confused dream, or do life and this death have meaning?"

These thoughts became the framework of a massive piece in five movements that is now the most played and most beloved symphony that Mahler ever wrote.

When we think of Gustav Mahler today, we think of a man who was revolutionary in his vision for symphonic music. He was so revolutionary that his symphonies really did not become a part of the standard repertoire until about 50 years after his death in 1911.

Mahler pushed the boundaries of the symphonic form, both in the numbers of musicians involved and in the length of his symphonies.

He was known for superimposing conflicting melodies on top of each other, for abrupt mood changes in his music, for extremes of register in the instrumentation and for his lilting use of folk melodies and popular tunes.

Mahler was also an expert at scoring for the brass, and knew how to write some really good marches. In fact, some of his melodies were very carefully borrowed and appear disguised in some of the popular films of today.

Charlotte Daw Paulsen

Some say that it was Leonard Bernstein who resurrected Mahler and his symphonies and brought them to the public's attention in the 1960s, but in actuality, it was probably the invention of the long-playing record in the early 1950s that allowed for Mahler's complete symphonies to be enjoyed by music lovers in their homes.

The Symphony No. 2 is massive and much of the focus is on the final movement, where Mahler mimics Beethoven's 9th Symphony and adds in the solo voices of a soprano and mezzo-soprano, along with a full symphony chorus. My favorite moment in the piece is when the orchestra stops playing and from a moment of silence rises the a cappella voices of the choir singing "Aufersteh'n, ja aufersteh'n" ("Arise, yes, arise").

The text is drawn from three sources. The mezzo soprano solo in the fourth movement, "Urlicht" ("Primal Light") is from a set of German folk poems, "Des Knaben Wunderhorn."

Nazareth 'Mary Poppins'

"Mary Poppins" flies onto the stage at 7:30 p.m. March 31, April 1; 2 p.m. April 2; 7:30 p.m. April 7, 8 and 2 p.m. April 9, auditorium, Nazareth Area High School, 501 East Center St., Nazareth.

The musical, a fusion of P. L. Travers' children's books and Walt Disney's 1964 movie of the same title, with music and lyrics by Clark Gesner, opened on Broadway in 2006.

Nanny Mary Poppins flies into the chaotic Banks household in 1910 London. With her multi-talented friend Bert, Mary brings magic and common sense to siblings Jane and Michael Banks, and to their dysfunctional parents, as well.

The chorus entrance in the fifth movement is a text by the German poet, Friedrich Klopstock, called the "Resurrection Ode." This is followed by a reworking of another poem by Klopstock, "Oh, glaube, mein Herz" ("Believe my heart") with additional text which ends the piece written by Mahler himself.

After the first complete performance of his Symphony No. 2, Mahler wrote, "The whole thing sounds as though it came to us from some other world. And I think there is no one who can resist it. One is battered to the ground and then raised on angels' wings to the highest heights."

The Allentown Symphony Orchestra performs Gustav Mahler's Resurrection Symphony No. 2 at 7:30 p.m. April 8 and 3 p.m. April 9 in Miller Symphony Hall, Allentown. The concerts feature the Allentown Symphony Chorus and vocal soloists Charlotte Daw Paulsen, mezzo soprano, and Ashley Milane, soprano.

Mahler's symphony indeed comes from a higher place of inspiration. Hearing Mahler's Symphony No. 2 performed live is a rare treat that doesn't come around very often because of the number of musicians involved on the stage. Our performance will feature more than 150 people.

Because it is such a rare treat and such an inspirational piece of music, I have known people that have driven two to three hours to hear a performance of Mahler's 2nd Symphony.

It is really a life-changing experience to hear the piece live, and one that you will not want to miss.

"Meet the Artist," noon April 7, with Diane Wittry, Allentown Symphony Orchestra Music Director and Conductor; Eduardo Azatti, Allentown Symphony Chorus Master; Charlotte Daw Paulsen, mezzo soprano; Ashley Milane, soprano, and Todd Cravens, ASO Conducting Fellow. The talk is free and open to the public.

Diane Wittry is Music Director and Conductor of the Allentown Symphony Orchestra, Artistic Director (USA), International Cultural Exchange Program for Classical Musicians, Sarajevo Philharmonic, Bosnia, and author, "Beyond the Baton" and "Baton Basics" (both, Oxford University Press).

Allentown Symphony Orchestra concert tickets: Miller Symphony Hall Box Office, 23 N. Sixth St., Allentown; allentown-symphony.org; 610-432-6715

Concert selections for soloists & choruses
J.S. BACH's Jesu Meine Freude

Sunday, March 26, 2017 • 4pm
First Presbyterian Church of Bethlehem

The dramatic tension between faith and doubt as well as the spirit of diversity, inclusion, and peace of the Mass was so much a part of Bernstein's mission as conductor, composer, and humanitarian. Bach's exquisite motet is beautifully paired with this epic work. Joining this performance: The Bel Canto Children's Chorus of The Bach Choir of Bethlehem.

Tickets: Adults $37 • Students $9

Counting pennies for prizes at Greenawalds United Church of Christ

Greenawalds United Church of Christ, South Whitehall Township, holds its ninth annual penny party March 11. John Haas, of Bethlehem, purchases a box of numbers and pennies from penny cashiers Dan and Karen Christman.

Michelle Adams, son Mark, both of Fogelsville, and friend Tiffany Dieter, of Germansville, get ready to bid and win items at the penny party.

Bach Choir to perform Bernstein's 'Mass'

The Bach Choir of Bethlehem's Spring Concert features Leonard Bernstein's iconic "Mass" and J.S. Bach's motet "Jesu Meine Freude," 4 p.m. March 26, First Presbyterian Church of Bethlehem, 2344 Center St., Bethlehem.

The Bach Choir will be joined by soloists Barbara Kilduff, soprano; Isaiah Bell, tenor; members of the Bach Festival Orchestra, and the Bel Canto Children's Chorus of the Bach Choir.

Bach Choir Artistic Director and Conductor Greg Funfgeld gives a pre-concert talk at 3 p.m. March 26 in First Presbyterian's Fellowship Hall.

It's The Bach Choir's first performance of Bernstein's "Mass" in the concert selections version.

It's also the first major concert with the Bel Canto Children's Chorus of The Bach Choir since the affiliation was begun about one year ago.

Bel Canto, prepared by director Joy Hirokawa, has a substantial role in the "Mass" and also participates in "Jesu Meine Freude."

Kilduff is making her debut with The Bach Choir.

The concert opens with Bach's colossal motet "Jesu Meine Freude," a kaleidoscope of colors, textures, and expressions ending with the exquisite chorale Bach Choir Artistic Director and Conductor Greg Funfgeld, above, conducts Bach Choir of Bethlehem's Spring Concert featuring Leonard Bernstein's iconic "Mass" and J.S. Bach's motet "Jesu Meine Freude," 4 p.m. March 26, First Presbyterian Church of Bethlehem, Bethlehem.

"You remain at my side, even in sorrow, Jesus, my joy."

Barry Creasy, Chairman of the Collegium Musicum of London, calls "Jesu Meine Freude" "the longest and most musically complex and earliest" of the six motets Bach composed music for St. Thomas' Church Leipzig from 1723 - 27.

Bernstein's "Mass" was written for the opening of the John F.

Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, D.C., in 1971. Conductors presenting the work in the past decade have continued to find it a challenging, inspiring, and deeply relevant work.

Funfgeld has chosen to present the concert version of the work edited by Dr. Doreen Rao, which maintains the integrity of the "Mass" form and the dramatic tension between faith and doubt as well as the spirit of diversity, inclusion and peace that was so much a part of Bernstein's mission as a conductor, composer and humanitarian.

When Rau embarked on editing the "Mass" in celebration of Bernstein's 90th birthday she said, "This concert edition of 'Mass' celebrates Leonard Bernstein's dedication to the music education of young people and his passion for peace, goals central to arts and education in the world today."

Marin Alsop, conductor of the Baltimore Symphony, wrote in 2008, "Bernstein used the traditional Mass as a framework on which to hang all of his beliefs and questions. The music embraces Broadway and opera, rock ballads and blues, with a narrative that blends Hebrew and Latin texts."

Orchestration includes piano, organ, flutes, guitars and a large percussion section.

Stated The Daily Telegraph of London, "The work's orchestral meditations are as lovely as anything in [Bernstein's] 'classical' output. ... And is there a more beautiful 20th-century chorale than 'Almighty Father,' with which Mass ends? I can't think of one."

Recognizing the different kinds of love

I just finished a book by an Italian mystery writer that was only mildly interesting but he had an interesting premise.

We would be better off, he said, if the English language had more words for love. He noted that the Greeks had six different words for love:

Eros, sexual, romance
Agape, love for all
Philia, deep friendship
Storge, (familial) loving family or bonded by chance

Ludus, playful love
Pragma, (pragmatic) long-standing love

Philautia, love of self
Then, two days later, when I went to an Emmaus ladies meeting, I was surprised when the speaker centered her talk on the Greek words for love.

Two days after that, my friend Jeanne sent me a Facebook excerpt from the new book, "How Should We Live? Great Ideas from the Past for Everyday Life."

The author says the ancient Greeks would have been "shocked by our crudeness to use a single word to whisper I love you or to casually sign an email."

First, I heard next to nothing about the six Greek words for love. Then, in one week, I'm exposed to it three times.

"It's time we introduce the six varieties of love into our everyday way of thinking and speaking," said an article in Yes magazine.

I don't think that's going to happen. But I do think we gain when we understand there are different kinds of love.

When most people think of the word love, they think of the romantic version of being physically attracted to someone.

Most of us are physically attracted to someone (Eros) because of looks or other surface reasons. But if there isn't more to it than that, the relationship is doomed to eventually flicker out.

People marry in the belief that their love will last. If they made a wise choice, what started as physical attraction will go deeper into Pragma, a long-standing love with patience, tolerance and mutual respect.

But I think the real philosopher was Forrest Gump with his famous line: "Life is like a box of chocolates. You never know what you're going to get."

When we pick what we hope will be a life partner, we never do know what we're going to get.

I often think of my mother who married the second time to a gentle, good man. But Ziggy was also quite good looking and my mother saw how other women were attracted to him.

Mom's first husband, my dad, didn't stay faithful. She said she had no idea how faithful Ziggy would be.

I watched as their mutual feelings for each other deepened. But the real love story transpired when my mother got Alzheimer's. Ziggy took care of her through thick and thin. When she eventually had to go in a nursing home, Ziggy visited every single day and stayed with her, no matter what.

WARMEST REGARDS

By Pattie Mihalik

I saw him lovingly stroke Mom's cheek, telling her she was still beautiful. Nurses told me they were brought to tears when they saw his unflinching love for her.

I don't know the Greek word for that. Perhaps it's part of Pragma, giving love instead of receiving it. But I do know that kind of faithfulness is something we all hope for.

After the Emmaus talk, we broke into discussion groups as we always do, sharing our thoughts and experiences.

One woman in my group said she's irritated with the meaningless way people use the word love. She said her husband's family ends every conversation with her by saying, "I love you."

"They don't love me," she says. "They live far away and don't even know me. It takes years before we can rightfully say we love someone."

I don't agree with that. Sometimes my love for a new friend bubbles up inside me.

Sometimes I look around church or at a volunteer group where people come to help others and, as the song goes, I feel the love.

Sometimes when I look at good people I feel such love for them.

I'm glad the Greeks gave us words to explain the different kinds of love.

For my close friend Jeanne and for the special friends in my life, I feel Philia, a deep friendship.

And when I look at the good people giving of their time to make life better for others, I feel Agape, love for all.

The older I get, the more I feel the love of Agape.

A while back while my husband and I were having dinner with three couples we were just starting to know, I was called to task because I used the word love.

When I saw the pasta dish one woman ordered, I commented I should have ordered that too, because "I love pasta."

"No you don't love pasta," she said. "You may like pasta and prefer pasta, but you certainly can't love it."

"The word love," she proclaimed, "is grossly overused."

I countered by telling her if she knew me better, she would know I truly love pasta, just like I love life.

I love nature. I love where I live. I love the outdoors. I love the people in my life.

I don't think this world suffers from an overuse of the word love. I think we need to use it more and mean it more.

There's a lot wrong with this world. But I don't think that includes "too much love."

Knee replacement surgery recovery tips

Q. I'm having a knee replaced and I was wondering what it's going to be like when I get home after the surgery.

HEALTHY GEEZER

By Fred Cicetti
fred@healthygeezer.com

More than nine out of 10 patients who have a total knee replacement have positive results. They experience reduced pain and improved ability to perform common activities.

Within the first year after your operation, you should increase your endurance gradually. One of the key pitfalls is trying to do too much too soon.

You'll be given physical therapy exercises for at least two months. These are designed to help you bend and extend your leg. In addition to your prescribed exercises, you can walk as much as you like. Stationary bicycles are recommended for muscle tone and flexibility.

Other acceptable activities after knee surgery include dancing, golf with spikeless shoes and a cart, and bicycling on flat ground. After the wound is healed, you can swim.

Don't do anything that puts stress on the knee such as racquet sports, football, baseball, basketball and skiing. And don't lift anything heavier than 40 pounds.

Depending on the type of work, or play, you do, it could take six to eight weeks before you are back in action.

If your left knee was replaced and you have an automatic transmission, you may be able to begin driving in a week. If your right knee was replaced, you shouldn't drive for six to eight weeks.

Your new knee will probably not set off metal detectors. However, you should carry a medic alert card indicating you have an artificial knee just in case.

The following is a list of modifications that can make your home easier to navigate during your recovery:

Create a complete living space on one floor.

Remove loose carpets and electric cords.

Rearrange furniture so you can maneuver with a walker or crutches.

Install a shower chair, gripping bar and toilet-seat riser in the bathroom.

Use assist devices such as a long-handled shoehorn, a long-handled sponge and a grabbing tool or reacher to avoid bending over too far.

Have a stable chair with a firm seat cushion for your early recovery (and a height of 18 to 20 inches), a firm back, two arms and a footstool for intermittent leg elevation.

About 300,000 knee replacements are performed each year in the United States. Most patients who undergo total knee replacement are between the ages of 60 and 80. This surgery was first performed in 1968. There have been substantial improvements in technique and materials since then.

The knee, the largest joint in the body, is made up of the thigh bone (femur), shin bone (tibia) and the kneecap (patella). Surfaces of this joint are covered with cartilage, a smooth substance that cushions the bones and enables them to move easily. The lateral meniscus and medial meniscus are pads of cartilage that further cushion the joint, acting as shock absorbers between the bones.

In addition, surfaces of the knee are covered by a thin, smooth tissue liner called the synovial membrane. This membrane releases a special fluid that lubricates the knee, reducing friction to nearly zero in a healthy knee. Ligaments help to stabilize the knee.

A knee replacement takes about two hours. Your orthopaedic surgeon will remove the damaged cartilage and bone and then position the new metal and plastic joint surfaces to restore the alignment and function of your knee.

LV MUSEUM

Former KGB agent talk, book-signing

Former KGB Agent Jack Barsky speaks about and signs copies of his new book, "Deep Under Cover: My Secret Life and Tangled Allegiances as a KGB Spy in America," which will be for purchase, at 1 p.m.

March 25, Lehigh Valley Heritage Museum, 432 W. Walnut St., Allentown.

"This is high human drama spy story," said Joseph Garrera, Executive Director of the Museum. "It offers an inside look at Russian espionage and the astounding journey of a KGB agent who avoided going to prison."

The story of a KGB spy and an Allentown FBI investigation that centered on Mt. Bethel, Northampton County, attracted national attention and was featured on the television news show "60 Minutes."

Barsky, born Albrecht Dittrich in Communist East Germany, was planted in 1978 in the United States and began a secret life, reporting back to Moscow.

After an investigation, much of it carried out by the FBI Allentown field office, in May 1997, the FBI and New Jersey State Police apprehended Barsky on the Delaware River Toll Bridge in Mount Bethel.

Darian Cruz raises his arm proudly as he became an NCAA national champion over the weekend.

National Champion!

Former Hawk Darian Cruz wins NCAA title

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tnonline.com

Lehigh's Darian Cruz wanted to enjoy the moment with his family after coming home from St. Louis on Sunday following the conclusion of the NCAA wrestling championships Saturday night.

With District 11 wrestling on the national spotlight over the weekend, the former Golden Hawk turned Mountain Hawk took home the ultimate prize after posting a 6-3 decision over Minnesota's Ethan Lizak to win the 125-pound NCAA championship.

It was a life-altering achievement for the red shirt junior and Cruz just wanted to soak it all in with the people that have supported him the most in his life.

"I just came home and wanted to keep the phone away," he said after arriving back in the Lehigh Valley. "My phone was blowing up all weekend. When I came home, I just wanted to celebrate with my family and enjoy it. It made me feel good to see them so happy."

That happiness rolled over to start the week, where the life of a college athlete puts you on top of the world Saturday, and then back in the classroom Monday morning.

"It really was fun going to class," he said of his first time back on campus. "I'm a pretty friendly guy to start with, but it was great to see so many people excited and coming up to me. They had their own chants going too and everyone was just talking to me. It's been an awesome experience."

Coming into the tournament as a four-seed,

Cruz scored a major upset in the semifinals with a 4-2 victory over Iowa's Thomas Gilman, the top-seed in the tournament, to springboard his trip to the finals.

That set the stage for a D11 final between Parkland graduate Ethan Lizak, who defeated Cruz 8-0 earlier this season.

Cruz wasn't going to let that result replicate itself, as he scored a first period takedown on Lizak with a front headlock to grab the pivotal opening points of the match. With the bout

Hawks play in semis Tuesday

Editor's note: The Hawks played in the semifinals on Tuesday, which comes after Bethlehem Press deadlines.

Bethlehem Catholic's 51-24 victory over Lower Moreland on Saturday meant a PIAA State Class 4A basketball semifinal game for the Hawks this Tuesday night.

In their second round playoff game last Thursday, it took almost two and a half minutes to see whether Beulah or Berks Catholic would score first, but Tessa Zamolyi's three pointer at 5:43 started the Hawks on a nine point run in their 72-35 victory over the Saints at Souderton Area High School.

"I'm excited," said Beulah forward Hope Brown. "Our defense ran our offense, and we kept up the same intensity. It was hard to stay constantly up, but we worked on that. After last year, we knew they'd come out hard."

The Hawks came out harder, taking a 21-5 lead after the first quarter.

Keeping Berks Catholic's Taylor Keys under control was one of the Hawks' main concerns.

"We knew about their big girl," said Zamolyi. "We needed to keep her off the boards, and we knew they wanted to get the ball to her."

By halftime, the Hawks succeeded, holding Keys to five points and taking a 44-17 lead.

"We were mainly clapping up at halftime, for the first part, anyway, because we held them to five and 17 points," Brown said.

The Saints scored mainly on free throws by Keys to start the third quarter, but the Hawks shared the wealth of

PIAA SWIMMING

Hurricanes bring home five state medals

Liberty swimmers, Robert Negron, Ben Stuckey, Chase Ledger, and Jake Evert brought home five medals among them after competing at the PIAA State Class 3A Swimming Championships this past weekend at Bucknell University.

In the final event of the weekend, the Hurricanes swam the 400 free relay with a time of 3:10.60 and placed ninth, while the top eight relay teams clinched medals.

"I was really upset because we were so close," said Evert.

In fact, the Hurricanes were so close to medaling in almost every event they competed in all weekend.

Evert placed 11th in the 100 free in 46.78.

Julia McCarthy placed 12th in the 200 IM in 2:05.50. In the 200 free relay, Anthony Delcorso, Jase Smith, Evert, and Negron also placed 12th in 1:26.47, and Smith, Chris Chambers, Negron, and Evert were 13th in the 200 medley relay in 1:35.77.

Earlier in the meet, Negron won a fourth place medal in the 50 free with a time of 20.64. "I was really hyped up, and I knew what I had to do to win. I was really in the zone, and apparently, I was in the lead at the turn," said Negron. "During warm-ups [for the 400 free relay] I asked to lead."

Negron's thought was that his speed in clear, waveless water would give his teammates a better chance to maintain their place in the race.

"I swam well, a 46.7, and that got us pretty good," Negron said.

Stuckey dove in next. Then, Ledger.

"I was laser focused on my lane, but I knew Emmaus was next to us, and we were neck-and-neck with them," Ledger said.

Calendar: It's spring!

But, area teams still digging out from last week's storm

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tnonline.com

Spring officially began on Monday, but we all know it doesn't feel like those 70 degree days that winter teased us with.

As the snow gradually melts away, most area coaches and athletic directors can't wait for the snowy cover to completely vanish as we head into the spring sports calendar.

Spring practices began on March 6 and teams were afforded five quality days of practice to open the season, only to see that trend reversed last week with Tuesday's 10+ inches of snow across the Lehigh Valley.

The immediate impact was three days off from school, followed by the subsequent thaw, which leaves everyone scrambling for gym time.

"It's really had a big impact on practicing," said Liberty athletic director Fred Harris. "Our teams were blessed to have such a good first week of practice, now it's impossible to get outside until the snow melts away."

For Freedom's boys lacrosse coach Tony Fabrizio, the weather has meant a shift in their plans as they headed into this week with the hopes of getting a scrimmage in on Tuesday.

"We lost three days of practice last week with the snow," said Fabrizio, "but we were able to get some work done in the weight room, in the gym, as well as some film sessions."

"We've been forced to do majority of walk-through work, but the players have been retaining a lot of information that we're throwing at them. We're hoping to have the turf at Freedom clear in time for our scrimmage on Tuesday so we can put all of the pieces together on the field."

At Bethlehem Catholic, the situation is like most schools, which is compounded by the girls basketball team still practicing as they prepared for Tuesday's PIAA semifinal.

"We're in a tough position with the snow because we have only one gym, as well as the fact the girls are still playing basketball," said athletic director Chris Domyan. "We try to get everyone in the gym when possible, but it's been a real struggle."

"As far as the fields are concerned we just have to wait it out like everyone else, because once the snow clears it will be like a pond that needs to dry up."

With practices and scrimmages being affected, the trickle down continues with contests across the board being rescheduled.

The baseball and softball seasons are supposed to start this Friday, but fields will not be ready, as most coaches feel like the earliest the season will start is next Wednesday and that's being optimistic.

According to Harris, tennis has already rescheduled five matches.

"They're going to be playing pretty much everyday once they're able to."

And playing is something that everyone just wants to get on with as we head into April.

"You know the spring preseason is always unpredictable," said Becahi baseball coach Mike Grasso, whose been coaching baseball for 42 years. "We got lucky the first week of practice and now we just have to deal with the snow like everyone else. It is, what it is."

SPRING PREVIEWS: TENNIS

Liberty optimistic about boys team

BY KATIE MCDONALD
kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Liberty and Nazareth's boys' tennis teams decided to postpone last Monday's match due to the freezing temperature, but when the tennis season will resume is anybody's guess.

"I think Nazareth, Parkland, and we will have a pretty strong group of kids," said Hurricane coach Leo Schnalzer.

So the two teams wanted to give each other their best shot, which will take place in April.

"I'm not discouraged [about the weather] because I take our boys indoors twice a week," Schnalzer said. "I've had good players in the past, but this is probably the greatest number of good players I've had."

So good, in fact, that it is also anybody's guess what the Hurricane line up will look like on a daily basis.

"Five or six players could be plugged in at a lot of different spots," said Schnalzer. "I sort of compare this group of kids to the Easton girls' team with a lot of tournament-tested players."

Seniors Dan Lynn and Luke Conrad are returning, as well as sophomore Jacob Berg. Berg won the EPC tournament last year at three singles. All, however, will be challenged by freshmen Louis Gruber and David Lynn, who is Dan Lynn's brother.

"Those five are the top of the line up," Schnalzer said.

Duke Jin and Gavin Snyder will most likely reunite at three doubles, having had won 17 matches last year. Jacob Wong and Marc Burritt will probably team up at four doubles.

"I may move the line up around, depending on who we're playing. They're so close up top, and they're very competitive," said Schnalzer. "The kids are great, they're fun, and I'm excited to see a bunch of good players so competitive at practice."

The entrance to the Freedom tennis courts shows a large area of the courts is still snow covered putting into question when the team can resume play.

Antonis is new FHS boys' coach

BY KATIE MCDONALD
kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Moravian College and Notre Dame Green Pond graduate Mike Antonis has been named head coach for Freedom High School's boys' tennis team.

"I heard there was an opening, and I kind of missed the team dynamic," said Antonis, who was a 2013 District XI doubles champion with Fran Mowrey in 2013.

Currently, Antonis is searching for possible indoor court time for the Patriots while waiting for outdoor conditions to improve after last week's storm.

Freedom senior Jon Fiorentino will be the Patriots' number one singles player after playing doubles last year.

"He did pretty well in our challenge matches, and in singles or doubles, he'd be up for either," Antonis said.

Justin Szaro, who also played doubles last year, will be the Patriots' number two singles player.

Abdul Kutbuddin and Paras Chand are being considered for three singles.

Also on the Patriots' roster are Zachary Chomitzky, Ryan Lombardo, Maxwell Mehta, Matthew Mullen, and TJ Schaeffer.

"It's a really nice group of guys, and they like to play," said Antonis. "I'm looking forward to having the team pretty close and grow as a team, and support each other while they compete."

Antonis hopes to set an example for how to compete, dig for every point, and not give up.

After Bethlehem Catholic's first tennis match against Emmaus last Monday, the Hawks' season came to a screeching halt on Tuesday as snow and ice blanketed the courts on Illick's Mill as well as the rest of the region, and it is unknown when the season's matches will resume.

"It was sunny and not windy, but obviously cold on Monday. It was certainly doable," said Becahi coach George Harmanos.

Harmanos and Emmaus coach Dimitri Diamondopolous decided to have their teams play pro sets instead of two or three full sets due to the low temperature. The Hornets won that match, and now one of Harmanos's concerns is that there will be very little practice time while playing catch-up with matches.

"Two years ago I tried to shovel the courts, but it ends up scraping the courts and doing damage," Harmanos said. "I would love a preseason where we could get some practices in, but that's not going to be the case." Returning for the Hawks are seniors Colby Treadwell, Andrew Kaeser, and Heshanth Jeyaranghan, who will all play singles.

Treadwell played at three singles last year and has moved up to number one. Kaeser and Jeyaranghan played doubles last year and will play at two and three singles, respectively.

"Colby had a nice season at three singles, so number one singles will be a challenge for him," said Harmanos. "This is only his second year playing tennis, and he was 17-6 last year."

The Hawks' number two doubles team is set with Dan Deshler and Matt Falteich.

Three and four doubles are not firm but will be some pairing of Nick Cenek, Sean VanOrmer, and brothers Kyle Smedley, and Jake Smedley.

"Nick, Kyle, and Jake never played tennis before, but they're nice, athletic kids," Harmanos said.

Harmanos's best guess regarding returning to tennis play is Mar. 22 or so.

tied at 2-2 in the third period, he scored a takedown near the edge of the mat with 30 seconds left in the bout for the go-ahead score.

That takedown was disputed by Minnesota's coaching staff, but after review was confirmed.

He capped off the match with a takedown with a second remaining to etch his name in history, giving Lehigh its 28th national title, as Cruz became the 22nd individual to come away with a national championship for the program.

"I was really excited with the win over Gilman," said Cruz.

"After I won in the finals, I was more relieved than anything. When you get to this point, it really is about taking things one match at a time. I didn't want to make it bigger than it was and just kept things simple."

Cruz admitted that winning a national title was always a goal of his coming into the program and now that reality is settling in, he's reaping some of the fringe benefits of becoming a national champ.

"I was hearing that they're going to name a sandwich after me at the Goosemen," he said of the South Side's legendary deli shop. "That's going to be pretty cool."

Becahi coach Jose Medina replaced his starters for the fourth quarter, and the Hawks handled the Saints with 12 more points.

"We mainly focus on defense at practice, but we make time for all our shots," said Zamolyi.

Rhine, Zamolyi, Luma, and Taliyah Medina all were in double digits for Becahi. Also scoring for the Hawks were Solei Rodriguez, Julia Zambo, and Morgan Orloski.

The PIAA State 4A final is scheduled for this Thursday in Hershey.

Notre Dame of Bethlehem recently a state title.

CYO team wins states

BY SCOTT PAGEL
spagel@tnonline.com

Notre Dame of Bethlehem recently won the CYO high school state championship title, but the story that led to the moment is perhaps what sports is all about.

Head coach Michael Horvath, of Hanover Township, guided the kids as far back as their elementary school days.

"I've been coaching this group of boys since they were in the third and fourth grades from Notre Dame of Bethlehem," Horvath said, "which eventually led to a district championship in their eighth grade year and a third-place finish in the Diocesan playoffs in 2013."

Horvath said most of them then went on to play basketball for Bethlehem Catholic and Liberty high schools through their freshman and sophomore years, but eventually the kids moved on to other sports and interests for various reasons. But as Horvath added, their love for basketball remained intact.

"During their junior year, many of these kids got together and talked about forming a CYO high school team for our parish and approached me to see if I would coach them again," Horvath said. "How could I say no to that?"

Last year, the kids' first year back together, they made it to the district finals and lost. However, Horvath said the team made a commitment to come back again this year and set a goal to go all the way to states.

So, it was quite a storybook ending for their journey as they played a perfect, 17-0 regular season before winning the district, Diocesan and eventually the state championships all in one season.

When the kids were in eighth grade they brought home a district title.

Horvath said there were a lot of teaching moments and life lessons learned along the road.

"In the locker room before the championship game, I reminded them to play for all those high school coaches who made them feel like they were not good enough to make the cut and that while those coaches were all at home with their seasons now behind them, we were still playing to take home a state championship," Horvath said.

Horvath said he would love to put his team up against any of the teams in the East Penn Conference this year.

"It would be fun to see how we stack up and what some local coaches might have missed out on," Horvath said. "One thing I can say for certain about this team is their resilience and level of determination to not be denied the goals they set out to accomplish. I am so very proud of them and how they have grown over the years both on and off the court."

The team was made up of: Gabe Albino, Drew Bartos, Max Dillman, Nate Gehringer, Mark Horvath, Matt Horvath, Mike Perrault, Alex Super and Colby Treadwell.

Becahi's Bozzi earns two district silvers

BY KATIE MCDONALD
kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Bethlehem Catholic junior Joseph Bozzi clinched two silver medals at the District XI Class AA Swimming Championships on Mar. 3 at Parkland High School.

Bozzi's first medal was awarded after he took second place in the 200 IM with a time of 1:55.21.

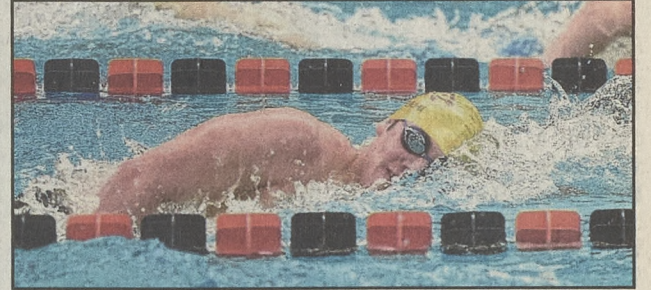

"I was happy. It was expected, and I was satisfied with it," Bozzi said. "The fly felt good, my backstroke was slower, my breast stroke was slow, but I came back really strong in the free."

Marian's Danny Berlitz placed first in the 200 IM with a time of 1:54.02.

Bozzi's swim in the 100 butterfly was as heart-stopping as his place was heart-wrenching.

"I really wanted to win that race," he said.

Bozzi swam a record-setting time of 50.88 but was out touched by Salisbury's Daniel Bonge whose time was 50.84.

"When I turned and looked at the clock, my heart just kind of dropped," said Bozzi. "On the block, I was feeling good, but my first 50 was slow. I didn't go out as fast. My second 50 was good."

Since Becahi does not have a swimming pool, Bozzi practices with Nazareth's swim team.

"My coaches are helping me with my arm speed," he said.

Bozzi qualified for the PIAA State Swimming Championships in both events and competed last Wednesday at Bucknell University.

Joseph Bozzi shows off one of his silver medals from districts.

Bozzi won a seventh place medal in the 200 IM with a time of 1:57.46, and an eighth place medal in the 100 fly with a time of 51.72.

look at the other lanes, just Emmaus, and he jumped in before me, but we beat them by .3 seconds," said Evert.

Still, Liberty was in ninth place overall.

"Then we started hearing rumors that North Allegheny [who had placed first] was disqualified," Evert said.

When Foust confirmed the rumors were true, and that North Allegheny's anchor went off the block early, it also confirmed that the Hurricanes medaled with an official eighth place finish.

"Oh, there was a lot of yelling, a lot of hugging. It was euphoria," said Evert, who had been eyeing the medals table all weekend.

Negron was especially happy for Evert, who is his training partner, and his two senior teammates, Stuckey and Ledger.

"We made it work," said Ledger, "and I want to give a shout out to our parents and coaches for their dedication and relentless efforts in making us the best possible team we could be."

In addition to the euphoria of winning a state medal, there was also a touch of the surreal.

"I never expected this, really. I never even saw states coming. After freshman year, I didn't know if I would stay with swimming," said Stuckey. "[Today] I tried to focus on everything I learned all season, my kick, my streamline, and not breathing off the wall. If I didn't stay with swimming, I don't know where I would be. This was really amazing."

Winter cold no match for Irish spirit

The seventh annual Parade of Shamrocks in Bethlehem, presented by the Celtic Cultural Alliance, was held despite the bitter cold March 11. Both spectators and participants were bundled up for the St. Patty's celebration in downtown Bethlehem. The highlight of the annual procession is its march along historic Main Street where a large crowd lines the popular thoroughfare. This year's 1 p.m. parade seemed to end early, perhaps with groups walking faster and some no-show participants. However, the pride of the Irish remained untarnished.

State reps offer scholarships

High school seniors can now apply for a Pennsylvania House of Representatives Scholarship to help cover the costs of higher education.

Each year, two students preparing for post-secondary education are awarded four-year scholarships through the program. It is open to graduating high school seniors who are Pennsylvania residents with plans to attend a Pennsylvania college, university or career school as a full-time student.

Students must have attained a minimum 3.0 cumulative grade point average in high school in order to be eligible for the scholarship. A student's commitment to community, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities and financial need are also taken into consideration.

To apply, interested students should visit their local representative's state website.

The scholarship program is administered through the Foundation for Enhancing Communities. The program is privately funded by individual and corporate donors.

No tax or other public funds are used. Scholarships are awarded through an independent panel of judges chosen by the foundation.

Judith's award deadline is July 7

Judith's Reading Room local literacy nonprofit has announced changes to its third annual Freedom Through Literacy Award. The award recognizes world-wide teachers, librarians, authors, researchers, educators and others who have instilled in others a love of reading.

The organization's board recently voted to change the prize money structure for the 2017 award. The winner will receive $3,000 cash; the runner-up will receive $1,000 cash; and honorable mention will receive $500 worth of new books to support their program.

The organization will announce the winners on the organization's website and through social media no later than the end of July and not at the Keystone State Reading Association conference.

For an award application, visit www.judithsreadingroom.org. The application deadline is July 7.

Grade: 12
Family members: Belinda and Matthew Austin (parents) and Donovan Austin (brother)
Favorite subject(s): Psychology is my favorite subject because I like learning about how to understand why people behave the way they do and it also helps me understand and better empathize with the people around me.
Activities: National Honor Society
Next steps (after high school): Attending a four year university and majoring in criminal justice and minoring in sociology.
Career goals: Police officer and behavior analyst
Heroes and why: My physics teacher, Mrs. Whitely is one of my heros because she has always pushed me to be great. She has helped me to become a better student over my four years of high school and has always proven that nothing is too hard to stop you from being successful and following your dreams.
Hobbies: Singing, writing, reading.
Volunteer/community work: I have done work with the T. Holmes Foundation regarding anti-bullying and suicide prevention awareness.

Likes: I like to laugh and to get good grades. I also like to shop.
Dislikes: I dislike test taking and math.
Greatest accomplishment (so far): My greatest accomplishment so far would be my presidency of the National Honor Society chapter at my school.
Advice for peers: My advice for peers would be to stay focused in school and to learn time management skills. I would also say to prioritize and still know how to have fun.

Moravian Academy Theatre presented the satirical comedy musical "Urinetown" at three sold-out performances March 3 through 5 at the Dyer Auditorium at the school's Green Pond Campus. Jarrod Yuskas directed a cast of over 50 students, assisted by Deborah Yuskas on costume design, AlexJo Natale with choreography, music director Rob Riker, with the orchestra conducted by Dr. Richard Fanning. A 20-year drought has caused a severe water shortage resulting in the government legislating a ban on private urination and the establishment of paid public toilets, which are owned by the mega-business Urine Good Company. Anyone caught violating the laws banning private urination is sent to the penal colony called Urinetown. "Urinetown" was written by Greg Kotis, with music by Mark Hollman. The show ran on Broadway from 2001 to 2004.

Cedarbrook Allentown resident reaches 105 year old milestone

BY SUSAN BRYANT
sbryant@tnonline.com

Family members, residents and staff gathered March 3 for a party at Cedarbrook Nursing Home, South Whitehall Township, to celebrate Michalena Fiorello's 105th birthday.

According to a press release from Cedarbrook, Aunt Lena, as she is known by her family was truly a woman ahead of her time.

Fiorello, who was born Feb. 26, 1912 and never married, came to live at Cedarbrook when she was 99 years old.

Her niece Mary Deutsch of Whitehall spoke with The Press during the party.

Deutsch said Aunt

Lena [Michalena] prior to coming to Cedarbrook lived in a home near St. Thomas Moore in Allentown.

"Aunt Lena owned her own hotel in the Poconos called 'The Plateau' where she did the cooking in the restaurant," Deutsch said. "She also worked at Hess Brothers as a manager for several years."

Deutsch said Michalena [Aunt Lena] was found late into her 90s on a ladder cleaning windows and kitchen cabinets.

According to Deutsch, Michalena enjoyed Italian cooking and gardening.

Deutsch said Michalena's baby brother John, who is 96, still lives with his wife in New York City.

During the party, Michelle Julian, RN, BSN, MS, director of nursing at Cedarbrook presented to Michalena with a certificate signed by Lehigh County Executive Tom Muller and the board of commissioners, a City of Allentown proclamation signed by Mayor Ed Pawlowski and a letter from Governor Tom Wolf wishing her a happy birthday.

Birthday cake, ice cream and punch were enjoyed by Michalena, her family members and all Cedarbrook residents and staff who came to wish her happy birthday at her party.

Don't let tax time tax your mind and pocket... Trust this local expert to file your taxes this year!

IRS Offers IRA Tax Tips for the 2016 Tax Year

- Age Rules. Taxpayers must be under age 70½ at the end of the tax year to contribute to a traditional IRA. There is no age limit to contribute to a Roth IRA.
- Compensation Rules. A taxpayer must have taxable compensation to contribute to an IRA. This includes income from wages and salaries and net self-employment income. It also includes tips, commissions, bonuses and alimony. If a taxpayer is married and files a joint tax return, only one spouse needs to have compensation in most cases.
- When to Contribute. Taxpayers may contribute to an IRA at any time during the year. To count for 2016, a person must contribute by the due date of their tax return. This does not include extensions. This means most people must contribute by April 18, 2017. Taxpayers who contribute between Jan. 1 and April 18 need to advise the plan sponsor of year they wish to apply the contribution (2016 or 2017).
- Contribution Limits. Generally, the most a taxpayer can contribute to their IRA for 2016 is the smaller of either their taxable compensation for the year or $5,500. If the taxpayer is 50 or older at the end of 2016, the maximum amount they may contribute increases to $6,500. If a person contributes more than these limits, an additional tax will apply. The additional tax is six percent of the excess amount contributed that is in their account at the end of the year.
- Taxability Rules. Normally taxpayers don't pay income tax on funds in a traditional IRA until they start taking distributions from it. Qualified distributions from a Roth IRA are tax-free.
- Deductibility Rules. Taxpayers may be able to deduct some or all of their contributions to their traditional IRA.
- Saver's Credit. A taxpayer who contributes to an IRA may also qualify for the Saver's Credit. It can reduce a person's taxes up to $2,000 if they file a joint return.
- Rollovers of Retirement Plan and IRA Distributions. When taxpayers roll over a retirement plan distribution, they generally don't pay tax on it until they withdraw it from the new plan. If they don't roll over their distribution, it will be taxable (other than qualified Roth distributions and any amounts already taxed). The payment may also be subject to additional tax unless the taxpayer is eligible for one of the exceptions to the 10% additional tax on early distributions.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given that the Board of Supervisors of Hanover Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania, will consider for adoption at a Public Hearing to be held at 7:00 p.m. on the 10th day of April, 2017, at the Hanover Township Municipal Building, 3630 Jacksonville Road, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, an Ordinance amending the Text of the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 185 to provide for the establishment of Distillery, Limited Distillery, Winery and Limited Winery Uses in certain Zoning Districts of the Township of Hanover.

Copies of the proposed Ordinance are available for review at the Hanover Township Municipal Building located at 3630 Jacksonville Road, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania during normal business hours.

The following is the proposed Amendment to the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance:

ORDINANCE NO. 17-

AN ORDINANCE OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF HANOVER, COUNTY OF NORTHAMPTON, COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA TO AMEND THE CODE OF ORDINANCES BY AMENDING THE TEXT OF THE "HANOVER TOWNSHIP ZONING ORDINANCE" CHAPTER 185 TO PROVIDE FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF DISTILLERY, LIMITED DISTILLERY, WINERY AND LIMITED WINERY USES IN CERTAIN ZONING DISTRICTS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF HANOVER

WHEREAS, The Supervisors of Hanover Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania, under the powers vested in them by the "Second Class Township Code" of Pennsylvania and the authority and procedures of the "Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code", as amended, as well as other laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby enact and ordain the following amendment to the text of the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors of Hanover Township desires to amend its Zoning Ordinance by providing for Distillery, Limited Distillery, Winery and Limited Winery uses in certain Zoning Districts of the Township of Hanover.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it enacted and ordained by the Board of Supervisors of Hanover Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania, and the same is hereby ordained and enacted as follows, to wit:

SECTION 1: The Supervisors of Hanover Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania, under the powers vested in them by the "Second Class Township Code" and the "Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code", as amended, as well as other laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby ordain and enact the following amendments to the text of the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance Chapter 185 Zoning, of the Code of Ordinances, as amended.

SECTION 2: Chapter 185 Zoning, of the Code of Ordinances of Hanover Township is hereby amended by amending Article II, Interpretations and Definitions; Section 185-12 Definitions by amending and adding the following definitions to read as follows:

"Brew Pub - shall mean a retail establishment with on-premises consumption of malt and brewed beverages produced on the premises or on real property immediately adjacent to the premises or at a remote location where the Brew Pub owner also has an ownership interest in the Microbrewery that produces the malt and brewed beverages being consumed at the Brew Pub. The Brew Pub must be licensed by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and any successor agency of the Commonwealth.

"Distillery - shall mean and include any premises or plant wherein alcohol or liquor is manufactured, made and distilled from raw materials, blended or rectified, or any place wherein alcohol or liquor is produced by any method suitable for the production of alcohol. The term shall not include a "winery" where alcohol is derived from by-products of wine production by distillation for the sole purpose of adding to the fermented products to fortify the same.

Limited Distillery - shall mean a Distillery that produces less than one hundred thousand (100,000) gallons of distilled liquid per year and has the right to sell bottled liquors on the leased premises to the Liquor Control Board licensees and the public.

Limited Winery - shall mean a Winery with a maximum output of two hundred thousand (200,000) gallons per year.

Winery - shall mean and include any premises and plants where any alcohol or liquor is produced by the process by which wine is produced, or premises and plants wherein liquid such as wine is produced; and shall include the manufacture by distillation of alcohol from the by-products of fermentation when the alcohol so derived is used solely to fortify the fermented products, under such regulations as are or may be promulgated by the proper agency of the United States Government, and such alcohol, for that purpose only, may be sold or exchanged between wineries holding permits in this Commonwealth, without restriction."

SECTION 3: Chapter 185 Zoning, of the Code of Ordinances of Hanover Township, Section 185-30 Regulations applicable to C-1 Service Commercial District; Subsection 185-30 F Conditional Uses is hereby amended to read as follows:

F. Conditional uses. Only the following building types and uses shall be permitted pursuant to Board of Supervisors' approval, in accordance with the review procedures and use restrictions described in §185-54, Conditional uses, of this Chapter and the use restrictions described therein:

- (1) Restaurants with drive-through windows;
(2) Brew Pub;
(3) Limited Winery; and
(4) Limited Distillery."

SECTION 4: Chapter 185 Zoning, of the Code of Ordinances of Hanover Township, Section 185-31 Regulations applicable to C-2 Commercial Center District; Subsection 185-31 G Conditional uses is hereby amended to read as follows:

G. Conditional uses. Only the following building types and uses shall be permitted pursuant to the Board of Supervisors' approval, in accordance with the review procedures and use restrictions described in §185-54, Conditional uses, of this chapter and the use restrictions described therein:

- (1) Drive-in shopping;
(2) Brew Pub;
(3) Microbrewery;
(4) Distillery; (5) Limited Distillery;
(6) Winery; and
(7) Limited Winery."

SECTION 5: Chapter 185 Zoning, of the Code of Ordinances of Hanover Township, Section 185-35 Regulations applicable to PIBD Planned Industrial/Business District; Subsection 185-35 D. Conditional Uses is hereby amended by adding new subparagraphs (20), (21), (22) and (23) to read as follows:

- "(20) Distillery

Wedding invitations do more than merely announce that a celebration is on the horizon. They follow. Many details, including the location, time and date of the wedding, are spelled out to avoid guests confused about the appropriate style of attire for the occasion.

Even though wedding invitations rarely offer specific information regarding attire, chances are you'll see a dress code.

Casual- If the invitation mentions casual attire, it's important to realize that everyday casual is unacceptable unless otherwise noted. Err on the side of caution and go with business casual. Women can wear a sundress or slacks or a skirt and an attractive blouse. If the invitation m

ZONING HEARING BOARD OF BETHLEHEM TOWNSHIP
NORTHAMPTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA
MARCH 29, 2017
PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE FOLLOWING APPELLANT HAS FILED AN APPEAL FOR A PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE ZONING HEARING BOARD OF THE TOWNSHIP OF BETHLEHEM...

Appeal # 04-2017 Brodhead Holdings, L.P., Owner-Applicant of three (3) unimproved parcels of real estate located within Bethlehem Township...

1. A preliminary zoning determination that the three (3) parcels may be "consolidated" as "adjacent" lots, and that once consolidation occurs, that a warehouse may be constructed...

2. Alternatively the Applicant seeks a variance to allow the three (3) parcels to be developed as a single consolidated tract so that possible compliance with the density requirements of Section 275-107G might be achieved.

3. Alternatively the Applicant seeks a variance from the density requirements of Section 275-107G to permit construction of a warehouse upon the two parcels existing to the west of an existing railroad line...

4. The Applicant seeks to include parcel M7 Block 4 Lot 4C in its prayer for consolidation. This remedy will require a use variance, since the use of a warehouse within the Conservation and Recreation Zoning District is precluded by Section 275-117 of the Zoning Code...

5. The three parcels are located immediately north of Pennsylvania Route 22 at its intersection with Route 191 (Nazareth Pike) and exist in the north-west quadrant of this intersection.

All interested parties are invited to attend and be heard. Deborah Roseberry, Zoning Officer. Telephone: (610) 814-6464. Mar. 15, 22
