

THE INDISPENSABLE MAN

Whenever you're feeling important,
Whenever your ego's in bloom,
Whenever you take it for granted
That you're the best qualified in the room,
Whenever you feel that your going
Would leave an unfillable hole,
Just follow this simple instruction,
And see it humble your soul.

Take a bucket, well filled with water,
Place your hand in it, up to the wrist,
Pull it out, and the hole that's remaining
Is a measure of how much you'll be missed.
You may splash all you please with your fingers,
You may stir up the water galore,
But stop, and you'll find in a minute
That it looks quite the same as before,

There's a moral in this quaint example,
Always do the best that you can,
You can be proud of yourself, but remember,
There is no indispensable man.
