

Davies, Clayton H.

Ex-Servicemen FEB 7 1945 Volunteer For Penna. Guard

Five ex-servicemen were the first to rally to the call sent out by the Pennsylvania Guard general headquarters yesterday for more volunteers.

Those signed up by Lieutenant E. P. Kish, recruiting officer for Company "C" were Clayton H. Davies, Chauncey E. Dressor, Lawrence B. Rupp, Richard L. Christ and Stephen J. Rutz. After receiving their physical examinations, several of the men stayed for the instruction classes on handling the Thompson sub-machinegun and military tactics used in combat.

Captain Leidy Drauch, Company Commander, issued a personal invitation to all those interested in enlisting in the Pennsylvania Guard, to stop in at the Armory any evening for further information.

Men of Company "C", which is in need of at least 50 capable men between the ages of 17 to 45, are preparing for Battalion Inspection to be held February 16.

Feb. 7, 1945